Petty Thievery Strikes Marin Over Weekend

Coins Stolen, Compass, Battery Taken From Boats

Marin County was hit by a wave of petty thefts over the weekend, ranging from thefts of coins from "kiddie rides" to thefts from boats and drive-in restaurants.

William D. Muggenthaler of Commodore Yacht Sales at 557 Francisco Boulevard reported to San Rafael police that two fire extinguishers, a compass and a battery were removed Saturday night from four boats. Muggenthaler said entry to the harbor must have been by boat as "fresh mud was found on the floats." He figured the loss at $105.

DIDN'T PAY

Kristina Laursen, car hop at King Cotton, 831 Francisco Boulevard, told police that at 4:50 p.m. yesterday five juveniles, clad in bathing suits, drove off without paying their $11.19 bill. On top of that they took a steering wheel tray, plates and salt and pepper shakers worth $15.95.

Money was taken from coin boxes of "kiddie rides" at Terra Linda and in San Rafael. Richard Beedle told police that two such concessions were forced open Saturday night at Purity Store in Terra Linda. In addition, padlocks of five newspaper racks nearby were removed and coins taken. David L. Harshbarger reported that kiddie rides on the sidewalk at Thrifty Drug Store, 471 Third Street, were forced open and coins removed. Lost was $10, he estimated.

MONEY TAKEN

In Tamalpais Valley, Woodley B. Smith reported to the sheriff's office that $11 in 50-cent pieces was taken from his self-service laundry at 265 Shoreline Highway between Friday and Saturday. Paul Lewellyn of 204 McCallister Street, Kentfield, reported that $20 in change was taken from his soft drink machine Saturday night.

Two soft drink machines were also forced open Saturday night in San Rafael, officers reported, one at Union Oil Co. at 929 Del Presidio Boulevard and another at 949 Del Presidio Boulevard. Amount of losses was unknown.

Katanga Capital Is Taken Over By U.N. Troops

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—U.N. troops put Elisabethville under a virtual state of siege and arrested various foreigners today in a move apparently aimed at swinging secessionist Katanga province into the Congo government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Amored cars patrolled the streets.

U.N. detachments seized several key points in President Moise Tshombe's capital, took over the airport to assure the safe arrival of reinforcements and launched a roundup of white officers, chiefly Belgian, in the Katanga army.

There were some minor clashes and a scattering of gunshots, but a U.N. representative said nobody was hit.

In Leopoldville, a U.N. spokesman said the operation was intended to remove all 500 foreign officers from Katanga's army and added: "The operation is going ahead smoothly without opposition and with the full cooperation of the Katanga gendarmerie and police." He reiterated previous denials that the U.N. intended to disarm the entire Katanga army.

The massive show of strength came only 48 hours after Adoula, whose Leopoldville regime is supported by the United Nations, proclaimed determination to rid this copper-rich province of all foreign civilian, financial and military interests. His chief targets are Belgians, who developed Katanga's mineral, industrial and agricultural resources while the Congo was a Belgian colony and still have millions of dollars invested in its resources.

Indian Brig. Singappa Raja, commander of the U.N. task force, reported the arrest before noon of 68 of the 512 Europeans serving the Katanga regime in various capacities. About 300 of the white men on the Katanga payrolls are officers of the army — Belgian, French, British, Italian and South African.

There was no interference with press dispatches to foreign cities, but other communication with the outside world was halted.

The U.N. troops put Godefrois Munongo, Katanga's strong man and minister of interior under house arrest by surrounding his residence, but Tshombe drove through the U.N. cordon later and left with Munongo. Tshombe escorted him to his own residence.

Tshombe, to wild acclaim, toured part of the city and asked all to work and remain calm.

Moving swiftly, Swedish and Indian forces occupied the telephone exchange, Elisabethville airport and other key points.

U.N. spokesman Michel Tombelaine said his organization acted to preserve internal security after Congo President Joseph Kasavubu called on it to get rid of some 300 foreign officers serving in the secessionist province's army in defiance of a long-standing U.N. Security Council resolution.

HUGE RANCH IN NOVATO UP FOR SALE

The land is just outside the Novato city limits and consists of rolling hills and some 150 acres of level land. Sale price is $2,443 an acre, with utilities and the 18-hole Indian Valley Golf Course nearby.

The land fronts on Sutro Avenue for about a half mile, its southern boundary is Vineyard Road, it is contiguous to the golf course on the west and has just over 100-foot frontage on Novato Boulevard-Hicks Valley Road.

The land is zoned for agricultural use.

Accused Saboteur's Wife Found Dead

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Minnie Brous, wife of accused saboteur Bernard Brous, who is charged with blowing up micro-wave stations in Nevada and Utah, was found dead in a hotel room today, police said, an apparent suicide.

Repair Under Way On Lincoln Avenue

The job of putting San Rafael's Lincoln Avenue back into use as a two-way street began today.

Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, under contract with the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, began filling the gaping hole in Lincoln Avenue caused by cave-in of the railroad's Puerto Suello tunnel in a fire started by two boys on July 20. Filling the hole up to road grade is expected to take about two weeks.

Meantime, Mayor John F. McInnis reported that Northwestern Pacific, California Division of Highways and Bay Area Rapid Transit District have all agreed to have engineers present at a meeting at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the county courthouse to discuss the situation arising from the tunnel cave-in.

McInnis said he had also invited the California Public Utilities Commission to be represented, but as yet had no reply.

The mayor reported also he had written George W. Morrison, general manager of Northwestern Pacific, emphasizing that the city's agreement for filling the cave-in hole to restore traffic on Lincoln Avenue was not to be taken as an indication of approval of the railroad's plan to abandon the tunnel. It is regarded merely as a temporary measure to put the street in use, he informed Morrison. The railroad has petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the line.

Vandalism at the apartment house at 1687 Lincoln Avenue, which was burned during the tunnel fire, was reported over the weekend by police. Eighteen window panes are broken in the building, owned by Rudolph Schwarzer of Sonoma, police reported. However, some of them may have cracked in the fire, officers said.

Three boys seen throwing rocks in the neighborhood were questioned by police Saturday, but denied breaking any windows.

Youth Center Aide Testifies At Death Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 16-year-old boy's story that he and three other youths went "queer-bunting" and beat up a school teacher was introduced into evidence at the street car murder trial here today over defense objections.

Four boys, Larry Magee and Michael Kilkenny, both 16, and William Castillo and Robert Hall, both 17 are charged with the murder of William P. Hall, 26, who was run over by a street car. Hall taught at Ross School.

The youths are accused of beating Hall until he was unconscious, robbing him and leaving him on street car tracks.

YOUTH CENTER

Carol Pebbles, an attendant at the San Francisco Youth Center, testified that Magee gave him a statement over a period of three days.

Pebbles quoted Magee as saying he became intoxicated on six quarts of stolen beer, met Kilkenny at a youth dance, and at Kilkenny's suggestion went "queer hunting" in Dolores Park, accompanied by Kilkenny and Robert Hall.

Magee was quoted as saying they saw William Hall at the street car platform at the edge of the park and that Robert Hall asked the teacher "are you a queer?"

ASKS QUESTION

"What if I asked you that question," Magee said the teacher countered. At that, Magee was quoted as saying that he became so agitated he pushed William Hall and the others thought this was a signal to beat up the teacher. He said they all started for the man and that just then Castillo, who had been watching from a bank above the platform, jumped down on the teacher's head, knocking him down and then stomping on him. Pebbles concluded that Magee said they left the teacher lying unconscious on the pavement but not on the street car tracks, after taking his wallet and splitting $2.25 four ways.

DOCTORS CHECK FASTING SIKH LEADER

Doctors examine Master Tara Singh, 76-year-old Sikh leader at Amritsar, India over the weekend. He has been fasting in support of his demand for a separate Sikh state in the Indian Punjab. A-Ban Plan Again Hit By Moscow

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today rejected two new American proposals aimed at speeding a treaty banning all nuclear weapons tests.

Chief Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin called unacceptable today's U.S. proposals dealing with banning small power nuclear tests and said they would only amount to espionage.

American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean, who put forward the proposals at today's 337th session of the three-power talks, said he had acted at President John F. Kennedy's instructions to try to make the Soviet Union understand a reasonable test ban treaty would be in its interest.

Unfortunately, the Soviet Union immediately and out of hand rejected these proposals, Dean said.

Division Of Berlin Opposed By Nehru

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today he is opposed to the division of Berlin.

He told parliament the major world powers should forget the "legal niceties" of the Berlin and German problems and arrived at a peaceful settlement on the basis of existing facts.

He said he thought they would be able to avoid a war over Berlin.

WEST WILL DEMAND TALKS, BONN SAYS

Foreign Minister Says West Powers To Ask For Parley On Berlin, Germany

BONN (UPI)—East-West talks on Berlin and Germany will be demanded by the three Western powers in notes to the Soviet Union within the next three days, West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano said today.

The West envisages talks on the foreign minister level, Brentano said, between the four powers which occupied Germany after World War II—the United States, Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia.

The basis for the talks is a discussion "not only of Berlin, but of the German problem as a whole, including reunification," Brentano said.

"The West demands these talks to convince the kremlin once and for all that there are certain, unalterable borders beyond which the West won't retreat."

The foreign minister admitted that it depends upon Moscow's reaction whether the talks will pave the way for further negotiations or whether they merely delineate the positions.

The Big Three western powers feel obligated to carry on the East-West talks, as they may be the basis for a decision between war or peace, Brentano stated.

"No responsible western statesman wants later on to hear the charge that a necessarily bloody war broke out because Moscow was permitted to miscalculate western determination."

Councilman Injured In Boat Wreck

Howard Sievers, Sausalito city councilman and Bechtel Corp. engineer, was at work today with a taped-up chest after fracturing four ribs in a boating accident yesterday afternoon.

Sievers, who lives at 92 Central Avenue, was in the cabin of the 26-foot boat of Col. Brookner W. Brady of 47 Miller Avenue, Sausalito, when it and another boat sideswiped in the bay east of Angel Island. The collision threw Sievers against something in the cabin, fracturing his ribs.

Brady said there were three aboard the boat but only Sievers was injured. He said he did not get the name of the skipper of the second boat. Both were trying to avoid a collision, he said, and "someone zigged when he should have zagged." Damage to the Brady boat was minor.

Khrushchev Is Reported Ready To Talk

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has said Russia was "ready at any moment" to meet with Western leaders to negotiate a Berlin settlement.

Khrushchev made the statement in an interview with columnist Drew Pearson released last night.

The solution of the German question "permits no delay," the Russian leader said, and said the Russian government is ready to guarantee a "free city" status for West Berlin.

Later, West German foreign experts in Bonn said Khrushchev's remarks were a Soviet psychological weapon aimed at public opinion in the United States and in neutral countries.

Khrushchev repeated his previous proposals to sign a unilateral peace treaty with East Germany, warning that such action would officially end Western access rights to Berlin. Access to the isolated city, stemming from Allied treaties agreed on at the end of World War II, would have to be re-negotiated with the East German government, which the United States does not recognize.

Strawberry Fill Proposal Is Protested

About a half dozen protests have been received by the Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco to the proposal by Samuel R. Neider to fill the channel between Harbor Island and the Strawberry Peninsula.

Neider is subdividing land on the peninsula. Engineers' officials reported that the application for the causeway to link the northern end of the island and the east side of the peninsula may be denied because of the protests.

The decision will be made by higher Corps of Engineers authorities. Some of the protestors have said that the fill would make navigation more hazardous as boats could not use the inside channel but would have to go around the island.

Neider's proposal to dredge a channel 80 feet wide and up to eight feet deep from the south end of the Salt Works Canal to the turning basin at the upper end of Marinship Channel has been approved by engineers. No protests were lodged. Dredged material will be used for tide lots at Strawberry Point.

E. Germany Asks Voice In Parley

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communists today demanded a voice in any East-West talks on Germany and said the subject of such talks could only be the conclusion of a peace treaty.

Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Communist party, said in a front-page editorial: "It should be clear that negotiations about the German problems without the East German Democratic Republic are unthinkable."

The editorial said it should be clear now to everybody — after the slamming down of the Iron Curtain through Berlin— that East-West talks are inevitable.

Algeria Shakeup

The naming of Ben Youssef ben Khadda, 41, yesterday to replace Abbas, 62, was expected to mean intensification of the seven-year-old struggle with France and to bring the rebel regime closer to the Soviet bloc.

Named as foreign minister in the reshuffle was Saad Dahleb, 42, who took part in the unsuccessful peace talks with France. Balkacem Krim, veteran revolutionary and leading exponent of the tough line, was kept on as deputy premier and interior minister.

The government's Tunis headquarters announced the shakeup in a communique which said Ben Khedda would go as premier to Cairo for a meeting of chiefs of state of the Casablanca group of African countries, then head Algeria's delegation to the conference of nonaligned countries at Belgrade beginning Friday.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Songwriter Gladys Reinhardt, coauthor of the hit song "White Silver Sands," and her son were shot and killed by a rejected suitor yesterday. Police said ex-marine Claude Carl Evelyne, 36, apparently went berserk after Mrs. Reinhardt, 41, refused to marry him. Evelyne broke into the Reinhardt home Saturday night, shot the woman, and her son, Newton Lamar Clark, 16, who was trying to protect her, and then fired a fatal load of deershot into his own chest.

Brazil Rulers Fear 'Rebel' Capital Buildup

BRASILIA (UPI) — Warships loaded with troops were reported heading toward the potential "rebel" capital of Porto Alegre, heightening tension in the Brazilian crisis caused by the resignation of President Janio Quadros.

The British-built aircraft carrier Minas Gerais sailed yesterday from Rio de Janeiro, accompanied by the U.S.-built light cruiser Tamandare and an unidentified destroyer.

The Navy refused to say where the ships were headed, but unconfirmed reports said they were on the way to Porto Alegre, stronghold of Vice President Joao (Jango) Goulart, the extreme leftist the army is determined to bar from the presidency.

NO PLANES

The Minas Gerais carried no planes, and the reports said the 13,190-ton vessel had troops aboard.

Goulart paused in Paris yesterday on his way home from a tour of Red China. Brazilian sources in the French capital said he had "suspended his decision" as to whether to go to Brazil.

War Minister Odilio Denys, the de facto ruler of the country, had been quoted as threatening to jail Goulart the moment he stepped onto Brazilian soil.

In Porto Alegre, however, Leonel Brizola, Goulart's brother-in-law and governor of Rio Grande Do Sul state, said the vice president had told him by telephone that he would return to assume the presidency.

SAND-BAGGED

Brizola broadcast his statement from his official residence, which had been sandbagged and surrounded by armed guards.

Federal authorities closed two Porto Alegre radio stations yesterday for broadcasting pro-Goulart statements. Brizola moved the transmitter of a third radio station into his embattled headquarters "to correctly inform the public."

Congress was to meet here today, after a night of top-level talks among civilian and military leaders, and the government is expected to ask it to approve a constitutional amendment designed to exclude Goulart from the presidency.

The draft amendment which acting president Ranieri Mazzilli was expected to send to the senate would empower congress to declare the presidency vacant and to elect a new president within 60 days.

UAW Threatening Strike This Week

DETROIT (AP) — Armed with a profit-sharing settlement at American Motors and with strike authorization, the United Auto Workers Union applied home-stretch pressure today on General Motors, Ford and Chrysler for new contracts.

Unless something gives by Thursday midnight, when current three-year contracts run out, UAW President Walter P. Reuther says there will be a strike against one of the Big Three. Workers have rolled up overwhelming majorities to back up demands with walkouts, if necessary.

Reuther said there still is time for agreement "if there is good will on both sides." He pointed out the AMC-UAW pact was put together between Tuesday and Saturday.

Reuther says the new American Motors agreement "ought to lay the basis for economic settlement" with other automakers, but if any of the Big Three knows a better way "to answer pressing human needs" he's willing to follow that route.

The Big Three have said they have no intention of following a profit sharing path. They insist production workers have shared in industry progress over the years through wage increases that have brought the average wage to $2.80 hourly and added fringe benefits worth 35 to 40 cents hourly. They have offered wage raising packages that the union has rejected.

UAW Vice President Norman Matthews raised a strike threat Sunday against Chrysler, a money-loser in this year's first half. He said he would ask the UAW's International Executive Board tomorrow for authority to call a Chrysler walkout at midnight Thursday if no agreement is reached by that time.

Directors of the union's GM and Ford departments previously had said they would do the same. A grant of strike authority, however does not necessarily mean that it will be used.

Union practice is to strike one company, win a contract there and then demand that the others meet or beat it or be shut down.

Actress Gail Russell Dies—Bottle At Side

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Gail Russell, 36, who a year ago said "I'm an alcoholic" but declared she had put drinking behind her, died with an empty vodka bottle by her side.

The brunette beauty was found dead on the floor of her West Los Angeles apartment late Saturday night by two women neighbors.

There were other empty liquor bottles throughout her four-room, $130-a-month quarters.

Police said Miss Russell's death apparently was from natural causes. They said she had been hospitalized in recent years with a serious liver ailment.

An 18-year-old coed at Santa Monica High School, discovered by a Paramount talent scout, election by exhibitors and critics in 1947 as "Star of Tomorrow," stardom in pictures like "Lady in the Dark" and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," four years' marriage to star Guy Madison—these were some of her life's highlights.

The low points were a series of drunken driving arrests in the 1950s. In 1957 she lost her driver's license when her new white convertible smashed through the front of a coffee shop and hurt a janitor.

The judge fined her $420 and put her on three years' probation. She vowed never to drink again.

Explaining a year ago how she had stopped drinking, Miss Russell said: "I'm an alcoholic. You don't get over alcoholism. You just don't drink."

Madison said in divorcing her in 1954 that she refused to have servants in the home and discouraged visitors.

Divorcing actor John Wayne in 1953, Esperanza Wayne accused her husband of spending a night with Miss Russell after a studio party. Wayne heatedly denied it.

The club listed as its directors Carl T. Dubose, 45 Alameda de la Loma, John E. Frederick, 330 Calle de la Mesa, and Abe N. Granish, 412 Alameda de la Loma, all of Ignacio.

Juvenile Crime In Suburbia Held Increasing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Juvenile crime is moving to the suburbs, according to the Senate judiciary subcommittee.

The committee said in its annual report last night that juvenile delinquency has continued to increase, but "the same cannot be said about our facilities for dealing with it."

Although big cities still produce most of the delinquency cases, the report said, the 1959 increase was attributable to suburban and rural areas, while court referrals in large city areas slightly decreased.

WHITE-COLLAR CLASSES

"This trend to the suburbs in juvenile crime is a clear indication that the increase is largely among children of the so-called white collar classes," the report said.

Juvenile courts are overcrowded and shorthanded, and so are the institutions where the courts send juvenile offenders.

"Probation casework, which can be considered the most important court service of all, is sadly understaffed with probation officers receiving salaries lower than even those of schoolteachers," the subcommittee reported.

Chairman Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.), said in an accompanying report that legislation dealing with narcotics offenders should be changed. The report said 75 per cent of federal law enforcement agents questioned recommeded changes in the 1956 narcotics control law.

MORE NARCOTICS

The report also noted an "unofficial report that the Federal Bureau of Narcotics seized more contraband narcotic drugs in the year 1960 than the total of the previous years combined."

The subcommittee suggested a congressional inquiry into the matter.

The subcommittee renewed its plea for general juvenile delinquency legislation to provide federal aid for special anti-delinquency projects and to help train people to fight delinquency.

Hoffa Foe Claims Victory In Rebellious Union Move

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — James T. Luken, leader of a Cincinnati rebellion of 4,000 Teamster members, claimed victory today in a showdown battle to sever ties with James R. Hoffa's powerful Teamster international.

The two rivals met in a face-to-face discussion of the issues during a 30-minute news conference here yesterday. Later Hoffa spoke to a rally of between 1,500 to 1,600 persons at Music Hall and Luken talked on a half-hour television program sponsored by the four disaffiliating unions.

Luken was jubilant over the attendance at Hoffa's highly publicized speech here last night. The 3,800-seat auditorium was less than half filled, although Hoffa termed it "a fine turnout."

On the platform with the Teamster president were about a dozen international officials and a 12-piece band. The crowd listened intently and applauded when the fiery union leader hammered home his points.

Macmillan Stirs Press With Berlin Comment

LONDON (AP) — Britain's morning newspapers still boiled today at Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's golf course dismissal of Berlin crisis as something "got up by the press."

The editor's ire was little mollified by a news conference yesterday at which Macmillan said the Berlin situation is "serious and there is a danger arising from rash and provocative actions such as have recently been taken in East Berlin."

Macmillan said he and Lord Home, his foreign secretary, believe that East-West negotiations on Berlin and Germany should take place but to be effective, "these must be held in right atmosphere and at the right time."

To a question about Berlin he replied: "I think it is all got up by the press. Nobody is going to fight about it."

"Is Mr. Macmillan living in the same world as other people?" the pro-labor Daily Mirror asked.

The laborite Daily Herald said Macmillan was right in refusing to be an alarmist but added:

"Coolness is no substitute for leadership. What is now needed is a positive move to bring about negotiations with the Russians."

Aid, Education Measures Due Some Rough Sledding

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy got discouraging news today about prospects for his foreign aid and education programs in congressional showdowns this week.

Democratic strategists have given up hope of salvaging Treasury-borrowing authority the president has sought to finance a five-year development loan program.

They privately agreed with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois who forecast a compromise on a three-year authorization under which the president will have to come back to Congress each year for the actual funds needed to carry on long-range projects.

Democratic leaders plan a parliamentary maneuver Wednesday to attempt to bring before the House a 325-million-dollar school construction bill. If they are stalled in that effort, as seems likely, they will have to find some other way to try to meet Kenedy's repeated requests for action on the issue this session.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference aimed a body blow at the pared-down measure over the weekend. Its education director, Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, called the measure discriminatory because it carries money for public school construction but does not provide aid for parochial and private schools.

San Quentin's Art Show Is Big Business

Art is big business at San Quentin.

It's so big that more than $12,000 worth of paintings, sketches, sculptures and craft objects were sold during the prison's annual two-day arts and crafts show Saturday and yesterday.

It's so big that visitors queued up for a city block to get into the show during the closing hours yesterday. Cars parked along both sides of the San Quentin turnoff from Highway 17 (many of them getting ticketed for illegal parking) because of delays in reaching the prison parking lots. About 8,300 were checked through the doors of the recreation building where the show was held—and the crush was so great that many just walked in without signing.

NEEDED MORE

So many paintings and sketches were sold on opening day, reported G. E. Schmid, the prison's arts and crafts teacher, that "we had to canvass the cell blocks Saturday night for more paintings because the display walls were so bare."

(Several inmates who had entered the maximum of 50 entries had sell-outs.)

Saturday, said Schmid, "we sold over $3,000 worth of items during the first hour. We had to let people in at 8:30 a.m. instead of 9 because traffic congestion had backed up clear to the Richmond highway." He said 4,300 people attended Saturday, about 4,000 yesterday.

People came from almost every state, from Australia, Germany, Denmark, England, Scotland and Mexico.

INTO ACCOUNT

It was the prison's fourth art show. Last year it drew more than 9,000, but sales were at $8,500. Eighty per cent of the money goes to the artist's current account (on which he can draw $15 a month), 10 per cent to a prison welfare fund and 10 per cent to a savings account for the artist.

The artist to receive the most prizes was inmate Joe Calderon, who won the "best of show" in art and first prize in wood. Ron Maurer won "best of show" plus first, second and third prize in leather. Mike Meehan won first prize in metal tooling and Jim O'Neal first, second, third and honorable mention in miscellaneous crafts. A. E. H. Allen won "best in show" in crafts and first in metal jewelry.

Among the paintings still hanging when the show closed was a sketch of Caryl Chessman before a background of the gas chamber where he died. Nobody bought it.

Russ Embassy Hasn't Heard From Ohioan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Russian Embassy said today it has heard no word from Lloyd M. Hatch of Akron, Ohio, who said he was dissatisfied with the United States and wanted to talk with embassy officials about moving to the Soviet Union.

Hatch arrived in Washington Saturday with his wife, six children and a dog in a green 1960 model car but did not get in touch with the Russians before the embassy closed for the weekend.

The 36-year-old ex-Marine first appeared at the White House Saturday, saying he wanted to talk with the president about "a matter of internal security."

OFF FOR WEEKEND

Secret Service agents advised him that President John F. Kennedy was in Hyannis Port, Mass., for the weekend and referred him to the FBI.

While his wife, children and dog waited in the car, Hatch told the FBI he was concerned about the future of the United States because he had received numerous letters expressing discontent with living conditions.

He informed the FBI the letters started coming when he first announced he planned to take his family to Russia for a new life.

After his talk with the FBI agents, Hatch climbed back into his car and drove off. His whereabouts after that were uncertain.

The FBI said it did not know where Hatch was going. Earlier he has said he would contact the Russian Embassy as soon as he arrived.

But a Soviet spokesman said the embassy had not heard from Hatch after it opened this morning and "so far as we know, he is not even in town."

NO WORD

"We only know what we have seen in the newspapers," he added.

The offices of Ohio's senators and congressmen said they had received no word from Hatch during the weekend.

In his discussion with the FBI, Hatch said the idea of going to Russia was not his own. He said it had been suggested to him by a friend in Akron but he felt he had become committed to it.

"A friend of mine called the Russian embassy," he said earlier. "He talked with a clerk. The clerk asked a lot of questions and wanted me to come there."

Marin Couple Celebrate 50 Married Years

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Day, parents of Independent-Journal associate editor Chapin A. Day, celebrated their Golden Wedding at a surprise reception yesterday at the Sausalito Women's Club.

On the actual day of the anniversary, Aug. 23, the couple was honored at a family dinner at Sabella's Restaurant attended by their two sons, the other being Harold C. Day Jr., of Moscow Ida., and their families, Mrs. Hugh Conine, Mrs. Day's sister-in-law of Manitowac, Wis; and Virginia Minogue, daughter of Mrs. Conine.

Attending yesterday's reception were members of the family and many friends.

Mrs. Day was Ruth A. Minogue prior to their wedding in 1911 at Newago, Mich. Immediately after the wedding, the couple came to Brigham City, Utah, where Day and his father were constructing a cement plant.

When the plant burned in 1931, Day became a building inspector for the State of Utah and the city of Odgen.

In 1938 he went to Alaska where he was a civil engineer with the Army Engineers. His wife joined him there but was evacuated during World War II, at the close of which she rejoined her husband.

The year after the war ended, they moved to Tracy where he was building inspector for the State Department of Architecture. There he worked on the Duell Vocational Institute.

In 1956 he retired from state service and the couple moved to Marin County where they have lived since at 512 Via Hidalgo in Greenbrae.

Day is now building inspector for the Tamalpais Union High School District on the Redwood High School addition.

Navy Pilot Dies, Scores Hurt As Jet Crashes Store

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP)—A jet plane coming in for a landing at the Willow Grove naval air station yesterday crashed through the roof of a department store a half-mile from the runway. The pilot was killed and between 30 and 35 persons injured.

Navy authorities launched an investigation into the cause of the crash which killed Lt. Cmdr. Robert Haven, 36, of Columbus, Ohio, a reservist described as a "veteran with 4,000 flying hours and the best pilot in his squadron."

Officials said there were 75 to 100 shoppers and 30 to 40 employees in the discount store operated by a chain known as Bargain City, U.S.A. Less than one-fourth of the departments were open, due to Pennsylvania's blue laws which permit only sales of certain essential merchandise on Sundays.

An eyewitness said that after the plane crashed there appeared to be panic as persons inside the store tried to get out.

"It was very quiet," said Peggy Gotwolz, 23, of Hatboro, Pa., "then all of a sudden this crash. There was glass falling. I did not even see the plane. When I saw everyone running I picked up my child and started to run, too. It seemed like everyone was for himself."

Marin Longshoreman's Friend Tells Of Visit To Red Germany

A different view of East Berlin is given in a letter received by Bruce B. (Ben) Jones, longshoreman of 303 Live Oak Drive, Mill Valley.

This letter, written Aug. 15, is from a fellow longshoreman, Walter Schuetrum of El Granada, San Mateo County. Schuetrum went to East Germany several months ago for a reunion of veterans of the Loyalist side in the Spanish Civil War, in which he fought with the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. He is still there.

Schuetrum wrote that he was aboard a train headed for West Berlin that was stopped when the Deutsch Democratic Republic (East Germany) "sealed" the border between East and West Berlin.

"Sometime around 1:30 a.m. of the 13th of Aug. I was riding the elevated to Friedrichstrasse which is the final stop before West Berlin," he wrote. "The train was delayed about one hour before entering the station platform. There everyone was told that the train was going no further. Along with those of us who were getting off were many West Berliners returning to their sector after a night on the town. No one really suspected anything other than a possible wreck on the tracks ahead. But later that same morning the chap in charge of international affairs for the Transport Workers Union met us at breakfast. He acquainted us with the newly released statement of the Warsaw Pact nations together with the new regulations adopted by the D.D.R. in response to that statement."

Closing of the border has not meant that no one is going back and forth between East and West Berlin, however, Schuetrum wrote.

Says his letter:

"All traffic to and from East Berlin is normal and this step does not interfere at all with agreements with the occupation nations. All westerners must show proper identification (nothing as difficult as normal passage from the U.S. into Canada and reverse) and with proving legitimate intentions, freedom of movement is guaranteed. But the East Berliner cannot go to the West to work. He must now decide on which side of the fence he stands. . . .

"About 15 hours after the border closed, I went to Brandenburg Gate to find that cars and people were flowing back and forth but now proper identification had to be supplied. . . . However, I did hear that on the 14th a provocative incident occurred at the Brandenburg Gate and as a result it was closed. But that still left 12 check points still open.

"Armed Workers Militia are to be seen, tanks and armored cars stand ready on the side streets. . . . The people are calm and the overwhelming majority of East Berliners enthusiastically favor these measures."

Accident Can Trigger Mental Illness

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

About 16 million Americans of all ages and occupations suffer from some recognizable form of mental illness, according to the United Nations World Health Organization.

This figure is surprisingly large . . . but so is the modern concept of mental illness. Psychologists, psychiatrists and experts in all the healing arts agree that mental illness can be caused or aggravated by physical force, just as physical disease may be triggered by strong emotion, excessive worry, or unfavorable environment.

Mental disorders often can be traced back to an accident of a childhood fall which has disturbed the all-embracing and vital nervous system whose headquarters is in the brain.

The science of chiropractic specializes in keeping the nervous system free of interference, and an efficient nervous system is the body's first line of defense against the ravages of physical or mental disease. By means of skillful and painless hand adjustments of the spine the chiropractor often will help nature restore normality to the nerves and the brain.

In time, mental disease symptoms will improve or disappear, just as surely as the symptoms of physical illness are reduced by chiropractic. Records of the effectiveness of Chiropractic care in mental illness are obtainable from Clearview Santarium, Davenport, Iowa, or through your local chiropractor.

Governor Attends Marin Cocktail Party, Hints At Re-Election Move

Dr. Kamp, a childhood friend of the governor, introduced Brown. "The reason we had this party this year instead of next year is so that you people would not think we were asking you to vote for him," Dr. Kamp joked.

The governor outlined the problems his administration has had to face during his first term.

Among major projects are water supply for the state, the construction of 6,666 new classrooms in the coming year, and care for the aged, Brown said.

"All I ask," the governor concluded. "is that you get the facts, then vote for the man who you feel will make the best governor for the state."

During his informal chats, the governor indicated that San Rafael attorney Samuel W. Gardiner is one of the men being considered for an appellate court judgeship in San Francisco. Others being mentioned include Superior Court Judge Gerald Levin of San Francisco and Dean Robert Kingsley of the University of Southern California Law School.

Traffic Detoured After Milker's Car Hits Pole

A milker from Marshall missed an "S" turn while driving into Point Reyes Station, knocked down a power pole and caused traffic on Shoreline Highway 1 to be detoured for two hours last night and shut electricity off in 25 homes for almost 10 hours.

Oliver suffered a cut on his nose and a "banged up" knee. He told the highway patrol he would see his family physician.

The accident happened at 4:45 p.m. The pole fell across the two-lane highway, blocking it for two hours. Electricity was out in the east part of Point Reyes Station until repairs were completed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at 3 a.m. today.

Traffic was detoured through the west end of Point Reyes Station onto Mesa Road and back onto the highway.

MAN SKIRTS TROUBLE OVER SCOTTISH KILTS

Ira Oliver Harrison of San Francisco — perhaps preparing for the Scottish Gathering of the Clans at Petaluma next Sunday—was wearing kilts when he dropped in at the Clube Moderne at 804 Fourth Street, San Rafael, for a drink yesterday afternoon.

J. R. Bush of San Rafael made a remark about Harrison's attire.

Harrison, according to the report given San Rafael police, knocked Bush off his bar stool. Bush went away, but returned to renew the fisticuffs.

He fared no better the second time. After being treated at San Rafael General Hospital for scalp cuts, he was lodged in the county jail on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Dusty Street Rouses Ire In Corte Madera

Several citizens on Sausalito Street in Corte Madera protested over the weekend that dust from a torn up street in front of their homes was making life unbearable.

But Public Works Supt. Robert L. Bartram said he finds the situation on Sausalito Street no worse than for any other street reconstruction job. Ghilotti Brothers, the contractor, is keeping driveways open and endeavoring to keep dust to a minimum, said Bartram.

Mrs. Andrew Bahr of 204 Sausalito Street, one of the irate residents, said she and several others asked that the street be watered and that it be closed to traffic during the weekend. She declared dust is "choking" thick, and residents are ready to mutiny.

Bartram said he agreed to close the street on weekends if all the residents want it closed. Mrs. Bahr reported nearly everyone on the street want it closed on weekends.

Bartram, however, said he received only three telephone calls as of Saturday asking the street be closed. Since there are about 30 families on the street, said Bartram, he could not act on only three telephone calls.

The city is widening Sausalito Street from Tamalpais to Buena Vista. The job is expected to take another month.

Behrens, who was back at work today, was washing paint pots when the accident happened. He was spraying water into the pots which had been soaked in lye when drops of lye splashed into his eye.

Public Needs All The Facts On Rapid Transit On Bridge

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge dragged their feet again Friday and have now practically extinguished the Bay Area Transit District's hopes of getting a bond issue on the June ballot.

We don't condemn the directors for being careful; careful that the bridge is strong enough to hold rapid transit; careful that neither the span's looks nor efficiency are impaired in any way. We don't want that bridge to fall into the Gate any more than they do.

We don't understand, though, why they want to delay for delay's sake alone.

The problem facing the directors right now isn't whether they should put transit on the bridge. The immediate problem, which they could have easily settled Friday, is whether an engineers' board of review should be asked to study two differing engineering reports and correlate them.

With a report such as Paine's before them, we don't for a minute criticize bridge directors for being wary of rushing into changes in the structure. If we were directors, we'd certainly want more information about why two noted engineers studied the same figures, agreed almost without exception on the facts involved, and then came to diametrically opposite conclusions. You'd think the directors would want more information too.

That's what so strange about the whole affair. The bridge directors are stalling about getting more information. They could have voted Friday on cooperating with the transit district in assigning a review board. Instead they decided to meet again next week, and decide then. Maybe.

What goes on in between? Nothing we know of, except possibly some high powered lobbying. Is that what opponents of transit are trying to do, stall until the plan is lobbied to death?

Perhaps it is. Already they have assured the vote on a bond issue will not take place until a year from next November at the earliest. Perhaps if they can stall some more, they can block its ever coming before the people.

This is not the kind of decision the public deserves to have. Even if the bridge directors don't care to know, the public has a right to get all the information they can on whether that bridge can or cannot carry rapid transit.

We hope the bridge directors stall no longer but vote next week to hire a review board to give us more information.

BURNS DOWN HOUSE TO STOP TV

One evening he went to bed early to catch up on much needed sleep. But the noise of program after program made him toss and turn for hours.

In desperation he decided to prevent further disturbance of his peace. He poured oil over all the furniture and then set it afire. No one was hurt but the house and everything in it, including the television set, went up in flames.

Most of us are tempted to go to extremes when others exasperate us. But this seldom does any more than worsen an already bad situation.

When confronted with what you consider an abuse in your home, at work, at school, or in political life, prove your sincere interest in righting what is wrong by taking constructive steps to alleviate the problem. This is the leas that God expects of us. It is not only the loftiness of your goals that counts, but also the means you use.

"Direct my steps according to Your word: and let no iniquity have dominion over me." (Psalms 118:133)

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Women Are Certainly Wonderful —But Not With Umbrella In Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—There are some problems in life a man just can't do much about. He simply must put up with them.

Hand that same gal a bumbershoot on a rainy day in town, however, and she becomes a rampant traffic menace to male life, limb and property down any street she ambles.

"Please, ma'am, may I have my eyeball back?"

To each of them the lady sternly replies:

"Well, what's it doing on my umbrella in the first place?"

And she pauses to inspect her umbrella to be sure it is undamaged. That's an odd thing about women on rainy days. When they bump into a man and impale him on their umbrella, they automatically assume he is a masher trying to strike up an acquaintance with them the hard way.

No woman—at least none I have ever seen—ever feels it necessary to apologize for stabbing a hole in a man's forehead with her umbrella. Her reasoning:

1. "What if I was on the wrong side of the sidewalk? He should have seen me coming."

2. "What do I care if he doesn't have better sense than to ram his silly face into my umbrella? After all, he isn't my husband."

3. "Anyway, what difference does it make? He's only a man and one more hole in his head won't hurt his looks much."

After more than 40 years of studying the tactics of women umbrella carriers on rainy days, I find they can be grouped into several distinct classes:

The kind that insists on opening their umbrella again before getting off the bus, thus giving everybody within a 15-foot range a free cold shower.

The kind of woman who, if she fails to gore a passing man, hurries around the block so she can have a second try at him.

ONE OF THE odd things about women who carry umbrellas on rainy days is their feminine chivalry. It is noblesse oblige with them never to wing children or another woman. Only men get the point.

Twenty women with their umbrellas wide open could crowd into a telephone booth and emerge unscathed and unscratched.

BUT LET ONE lone solitary man come warily down the avenue and eight out of ten women with umbrellas will manage to jab him in the face, neck, ears or ribs—even if he gets down on his hands and knees and tries desperately to scuttle by on all fours.

Modern Dilemma Of The Railroads

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your recent editorials castigating the NWP for attempting to abandon southern and central Marin, which is then to be served only by a six-lane highway, obtusely dramatize a modern railroading dilemma.

The subsidized "competition" of that same tax-built highway, including the trucks which travels on it, has heavily contributed to the decline of the railroad's business (all of its traffic moving over a roadbed which the railroad must build, maintain and pay taxes on). In this instance, could not the "other side of the coin" be phrased: is the railroad to be required to carry sand and gravel, as a public service, to San Rafael regardless of profit?

Prior to the tunnel collapse, we suspect that an overwhelmingly large proportion of goods traveled by truck over the highway.

Let's Give NWP Incentive To Stay

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

"I'll go along with your editorial of Aug. 23 about fighting to keep NWP rail service in Southern Marin.

But before we get into a big fight, let's consider making it worthwhile for the NWP to stay in Southern Marin.

In any other business if you have a line of goods that doesn't produce revenue, you get rid of it. From my observation of the NWP trackage that will be abandoned, there must be a tremendous maintenance and if their taxes are anything like mine, well I don't blame them for taking the action they did.

Why not give them some incentive to stay? Such as a little reduction in taxes, after all we don't require trucks that use our property in the form of highway right of ways to pay taxes.

Let's contribute a little more on the periodic crossing protection at grade crossing (the NWP pay their share now) that are necessary because of increased public vehicular use.

Let's indicate to the NWP that we will start an aggressive industrial program to induce rail shippers to locate on their lines; let's control property zoning a little better and not allow housing tracts to build right up to the railroad's right of way.

Let's participate in some public team tracks so we may induce shippers that do not have their own spur track to use rail service.

It's going to cost us a lot of money to widen 101 to handle the increased truck traffic because of this abandonment.

I would imagine that the NWP has paid this county plenty in real estate taxes over the period of time they have operated here. It is a shame to lose this revenue, even if we reduce it.

It will be too bad to lose the industries that will be forced to leave because of the economies of rail shipment.

It will be a shame to lose the potential industries that will not locate in Marin because of lack of economical rail rates.

It's the latter two items we need bad to help balance our tax structure.

Let's not fight; let's give a little incentive, a fight will only make the lawyers richer, the taxpayers will suffer and the rail industry will suffer also.

Put Rapid Transit On New Bridge

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re the proposed Rapid Transit on the Golden Gate Bridge:

The only thing that worries me, a worker who has crossed the bridge twice daily for 15 years, and who hopes to continue to do so for the next 15 years, is—will these so-called experts — AND the bridge—let me DOWN? In other words:

Valiant experts, spare a thought
For tired commuter—DUNK ME NOT!

When the bridge was under construction, do you recall the dispute between the late Bailey Willis, Stanford geologist, and the builders? "Earthquake" Willis violently distrusted the type of rock on which the tower was built. So far the rock has held. But let's not add to the bridge burden and prove Bailey Willis correct in his dire predictions!

Marin County is due for a hyper population explosion in the next few years, necessitating another bridge. So let's go after that second bridge NOW, gear it for rapid transit, and forget any questionable add-on to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Oh bury me not in the cool, gray sea
That flows 'neath the Bridge so eerily!
I yearn to LIVE (and pay all my taxes!)
Bridge experts, PLEASE damn well check your factses!

BENNETT CERF

Authors of books intended to make readers laugh spend more time on dedications than do their more serious confreres. Here's the dedication Carl Winston came up with for his titillating "How to Turn a Million Into a Shoestring":

"I should be remiss, indeed, if I failed to acknowledge my indebtedness to the People's Bank of Bridgeport, the Connecticut Light and Power Co., the New England Telephone Co., Sears Roebuck, Casey Fuel, the West Redding Market, the Internal Revenue Department, and another creditor whose name is Morris H. Legion. The total is $17,886.05. Hi, Fellows!"

Two "greats" of the Hollywood scene, Samuel Goldwyn and Otto Preminger—equally irascible when crossed — got into a hassle over the filming of "Porgy and Bess." Preminger quit as director halfway through the picture — which went on to be a hit, anyhow.

Preminger, however, refuses to admit that he was feuding with Mr. G. "How can I be feuding with him," he inquires testily, "when I'm not speaking to him?"

Some Like Sausalito; Some Think It's Ordinary; One Has No Opinion

It was a day of days. Blue sky, air of salt, gulls soaring but there was practically no place to park in central waterfront Sausalito.

Parked right smack in front of us were five big buses with people coming in and out, talking, standing, staring.

Why had all these people come to Sausalito? we asked. What did they want? What were their impressions?

"Pardon me, lady . . ." we said. "What are your first impressions of Sausalito?"

Worried looking, Margaret Jeffers of Baltimore, Md., said, "Well, it was very nice. I enjoyed it." Teen-ager Mary Steffenson, Ottumwa, Iowa, replied: "I like it real well."

"Just another place, in my mind," said C. A. Eldridge of Hagerstown, Md. A plain spoken man, we said.

"IT SEEMS TO be all compact in a few streets," said smooth Anthony de Roma, New York City. "A wonderful view." Then, completely voluntarily, "The park is too small. I noticed a lot of people trying to crowd into that space there." (He pointed to Vina Del Mar Plaza.)

G. Griffen, London, England: "It seems to have a definite artistic tendency." J. L. Nichols, Indianapolis: "I love it. We're coming back tomorrow." H. E. Burcheister, Baltimore, Md.: "I have no opinion."

Gray Line bus driver Al Wylie said his company sends five buses a day to Sausalito with an average of 45 people a bus. "Why, we're one of the best boosters Sausalito has," he added. He said he lives in San Mateo.

THEN WE SPOKE to a buxom, well dressed lady with a female companion.

"Yes, I like Sausalito. Have liked it for some time." We gulped, "Oh, you've been here before?"

"I live here. Came here 15 years ago on a bus." Then we noticed she and her friend were not heading for a bus.

"Yes, she likes it fine," said her companion, laughing. Enough of this foolishness, we said.

THERE IS A MAN, Walt Moehrke (rhymes with turkey), who is a wet nurse for a San Anselmo family of hamsters.

He didn't plan to be a wet nurse. His son, Ricky, 7, has a hamster named Candy and one named Speedy, a boy and girl. His son, Jimmy, 9, has a hamster named Sugar.

They all grew up and on Aug. 15 in the afternoon, about two hours apart, Candy and Sugar each had a litter of 10.

"Three nights later," said Moehrke, "the kids were in bed. I decided to take Candy out to exercise her a bit. She vanished. Searched until 1 a.m. but no luck."

Apprehensive, Moehrke set the cage on the floor, put food in and left the door open. "I found," he said, "she came back each night for three nights, filled up with food and took off again."

Moehrke put Sugar into Candy's cage. She mothered the strange litter. Then back in her own cage, back and forth every three hours, with Sugar nonchalantly mothering all.

Finally Candy was caught and put in her cage. But she would have nothing to do with her family. She built a nest in an opposite corner.

So now Sugar has 20 hamsters all living happily ever after.

THE OTHER DAY Mrs. Jo Schlesinger of Homestead reported to a friend she was delayed because "I discovered two little girls with a big pile of boards building a house in my garden."

She said she walked down the path where the trees were thick and draped down to find the girls working away as busy as anything. She said, "What are you doing?"

"We're putting something here," they replied.

"I said," answered Mrs. Schlesinger, "I don't want anything there."

"They said 'is it yours?'"

"I said, 'Yes'."

"We negotiated back and forth," Mrs. Schlesinger added, "and I found that apparently they hadn't looked behind the trees to see there was a house already on the property. They thought they were in the woods. They gathered up their boards, said they were sorry and went to look for another place."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Once Vibrant Torch Of Freedom Now Only Flashlight In The Fog

BERLIN—You have to see and feel Berlin at first hand to measure the terrible impact—now and for the future—of the Soviet sealing of the border with a wall of concrete and batteries of machine guns.

I have reported that Nikita S. Khrushchev has won by force half of his battle for Berlin and may be willing to try to win the rest of his victory by attrition.

It is too early to say how soon, or how fully, Mr. K will be able to reach his next objective—to reduce West Berlin to a dispirited spot on the map. In all candor, the long-range odds are foreboding.

I DO NOT MEAN that we are going to desert the two-and-a-quarter million West Berliners. We are not. I do not mean that this city will lose its freedom or its right to be ruled by the consent of the governed. I do not suggest that the Allies will yield their rights of physical access. We won't.

But West Berlin is not the city it was two weeks ago when the Communists bolted the frontier, locked East Berlin behind the iron curtain, and threw away the key. The prospect is that it will become, as time goes on, less spirited, less dynamic, less the vibrant and radiant show window it has been in the past.

THE TRUTH is that Khrushchev has won half of his battle without coming near to war. He apparently decided that it was more important to him to deny all access to West Berlin from the east (where he could do it by force without risking war) than to attempt to close West Berlin from the west by risking war.

True, this is only a partial victory, a limited victory. But its full consequences are only now becoming painfully evident to the West.

And the end is not yet.

What does it mean?

It means that the greatest asset West Berlin has been to West Germany, to Western Europe, to the whole free world—that of a resplendent show window in the heart of Communist drabness and dreariness—is almost wholly erased by the ruthless closing of the border.

It is bad enough, personal tragedy enough, that the weary East Berliners who used to find asylum in West Berlin (2,700,000 in 12 years) can do so no more. They are now jailed by their Quisling government. But the flow of refugees was only a small part of the Berlin show window.

THE FAR GREATER part was the fact that some 150,000 East Germans came to the sunlight of West Berlin every day to work, to buy, to play, to read its newspapers, to breathe the atmosphere of freedom, to meet relatives and friends—and to go back to tell their story to those behind the iron curtain.

They can do so no more. West Berlin now has only the radius of a flashlight in the fog.

Trucks Hauling Fill Halted On Property In Larkspur

Adolph A. Tiscornia, San Francisco attorney and owner of property off Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, put a halt today to trucks using part of his property for hauling in fill for the Larkspur Plaza shopping center development.

Tiscornia told Elton Lockridge, partner in W. K. and L. Trucking Co. of San Mateo, he could not use the road parallel to Magnolia Avenue near Doherty Drive to bring in fill. The road formerly held tracks for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. but the tracks have long since been pulled out.

Lockridge agreed to Tiscornia's demands and said the trucks hauling in fill would use the road off of Doherty Drive in the future. Tiscornia said he would allow Lockridge the use of "his road" for one day until Lockridge makes the new road suitable for hauling.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks advanced a little on light volume today with a higher steel group lending some encouragement to a cautious market.

Gains of a point or so were sprinkled throughout steels, electronics, foods and other defensive issues. Profit-taking appeared in a number of key industrials and recent heavy gainers to give the list a generally ragged appearance.

OBITUARIES

Merchant Goulart Succumbs

Funeral services for John B. Goulart, prominent San Rafael businessman who died unexpectedly at his home Saturday night, will be held in Oakland tomorrow.

Goulart, 45, suffered a fatal heart attack at his home, 42 Seaway Avenue, shortly after 11 o'clock, reportedly County Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

A resident of Marin for six years, he owned Goulart's Dress Shops at the Bon Air Shopping Center in Greenbrae and at Fourth and B streets in San Rafael. He also owned the Bon Air Bakery, and recently sold a third dress shop in San Anselmo.

Goulart was president of the Retreaders Equipment Co. and was for 22 years with the Commercial Rubber Co., both in Oakland. For many years he has been a distributor for the Commercial company in California, Navada and Hawaii.

Three years ago he formed and became president of the Retreaders company, and for seven years until 1960, owned three dress shops in Oakland. The Marin dress shops were established about a year ago and are operated by his wife, Mrs. Edith Goulart.

49ers Strictly Collegiate; It's Time For Hickey To Do Slow Turn

CONNOLLY

Nobody gets too excited over the results of professional football exhibition games except the coaching staff. And it's about time for Coach Red Hickey and his assistants to go into a slow turn.

Sure enough, the San Francisco 49ers finally won their first start in three tries at pre-season head knocking, but it took a 97-yard kickoff return by Abe Woodson to turn back the Minnesota Vikings, 14 to 10. The rest of the game was strictly collegiate in quality.

There was definite improvement in the 49er defensive efforts, and there were flashes of power and even brilliance from the offense on rare occasions. But the glaring weaknesses far outshone the individual performances.

IT IS only human for those 49ers who know they have their jobs cinched not to put out 100 per cent in these no-count games. The salaries don't start until the chips are down, and this is no time to come up with a crippling injury. You can't goof off to the point where relaxation sets in, but the incentive just isn't there.

On the other hand, a little letup here or there can foul up the developing smoothness of both offensive and defensive patterns, and failure can become a habit. This is the bugaboo facing Coach Hickey, and the redhead has just about had it if I read the signs correctly.

The key man in any game has to be the quarterback. And in the Viking game, John Brodie couldn't even find the keyhole. His passing was 'way off with only four completions out of sixteen tries with one interception out of four possibles. This record, against a barely organized team of "veteran castoffs," was uninspired to say the least.

SUBSTITUTE QB Muddy Waters was understandably rusty and was working with rookies for the most part. Bill Kilmer picked up 15 yards in his customary one-shot run situation. If Bill can handle the passing and handoffs, this young man may prove to be the most valuable rookie of the bunch, especially from the "shotgun."

The defense of Hickey's shotgun offense is beginning to take shape. Stack the ends and drop back if a pass attempt develops. The obvious answer to this is a quick thrust through the middle or a quarterback run from what seems to be a pass. And Kilmer fits this pattern better than Brodie or Waters. We shall see.

In the first two exhibitions, the most glaring defensive weakness was centered around the vulnerability of Jerry Mertens. Both the Giants and the Browns moved well in this area. Against the Vikings, Jerry showed great improvement, much to Hickey's relief.

OVER ALL, the 49ers still give the impression of great speed and great potential, both assets being wasted on imperfect performance. There is work to be done, and it is later than you think.

The turning point in 49er destinies for 1961 could come this Friday night at the L.A. Coliseum against the Rams. While the game is an exhibition it is also a traditional contest with great rivalry and pride factors involved. Scouting reports indicate the Rams lacking the elements of greatness again this year and the 49ers will be favored.

If Coach Hickey can handle the Rams with a steamed up ball club he can look forward to a successful year. Should the Rams give the 49ers too much trouble, Hickey may show up on the practice field with the shotgun in his hands instead of in his backfield.

NFL Boss Pleads To Save TV For Fans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of National Football League fans will lose their chance to follow their favorites on television unless Congress acts to modify an antitrust ruling, Commissioner Pete Rozelle testified today.

Moreover, Rozelle said, television income will be sharply cut.

Rozelle's testimony was prepared for the House antitrust subcommittee in support of a bill that would allow the league, and other professional sports organizations like it, to contract with broadcasters for TV rights to league games.

Such a contract was ruled illegal in July by the U.S. District Court in Philadelphia, on the basis of an earlier antitrust decision.

"Thus, the National Football League, alone among existing sports leagues, is singled out for prohibition on joint television contracts," Rozelle told the subcommittee.

Unless the NFL is allowed to negotiate such a contract, Rozelle said, "the immediate result will be television programming for 1962 and all successive football seasons which will deprive many member clubs . . . of all access to television facilities and television income . . . Only those fans in the large metropolitan centers and favored by their geographical locations, such as New York, Los Angeles and Chicago, will be assured of seeing the games of their home team on television."

"I don't think I have to tell this committee what the responses of fans in Green Bay, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Dallas, St. Louis, Detroit and even such cities as San Francisco and Philadelphia will be when they are informed that they will no longer be able to follow the road games of their home teams on television," he said.

Pennant Talk Drowned Out By Tailspin

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—It looked today as if laudatory telegrams from Mayor George Christopher and existence of a guy named Larry Jackson were two things that the San Francisco Giants could do without.

Only last Wednesday, His Honor dispatched a pep wire to the Giants while they were in the middle of that six-game winning streak which had San Franciscans talking about a World Series. But the message was hardly thumbtacked to the clubhouse bulletin board when the Giants did an about face, lost four straight, and now are deeply imbedded in third place, six and a half games behind pace-setting Cincinnati.

Jackson had a hand in the proceedings. The hard-throwing righthander blanked them on three hits yesterday and Ken Boyer hit a three-run homer that gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-0 victory. This is the same Jackson who fired a three-hitter in Candlestick Park Aug. 17 while calcimining the Giants, 2-0.

Yesterday's loss followed an 8-5 pounding at the hands of the Cards on Saturday which saw loser Mike McCormick banged for five hits and four runs while failing to get through the second inning.

Today the club gets a day of rest before invading Milwaukee tomorrow for a two-day joust with the Braves.

Willie McCovey, a revived man with the mace, Willie Mays and John Orsino were the only members of Alvin Dark's troops who could get a hit off Jackson. The Idaho pitcher, now 10-9, didn't allow a man to get on base after Orsino doubled to open the fifth inning.

The loss went to Juan Marichal (13-8) who was in quest of his eighth straight win. The handsome flinger from the Dominican Republic served up the three-run homer to Ken Boyer in the seventh frame. It was Boyer's 20th circuit clout of the season and ran his hitting streak to 10 games.

A double by Joe Cunningham and a single by Bill White gave the Cards a 1-0 lead in the first inning. They tallied again in the second as Alex Grammas singled home Curt Flood who had tripled. Then doubles by Stan Musial and Flood accounted for another Cardinal run in the sixth.

Ex-49ers Perry, Mackey Add New Zip To Colts' Chances

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Perry, the all-time workhorse of the National Football League, may prove to be the most valuable piece of property acquired by the dethroned Baltimore Colts in a trading program calculated to return them to the top of the heap.

The league's most productive runner—7,246 yards gained in a record 1,451 carries—broke a 7-7 tie with a one-yard plunge, that started the Colts on their way to a 41-7 posting of the Washington Redskins in an exhibition Saturday night.

Used infrequently last year by the San Francsco 49ers when he picked up only 95 yards in 36 attempts, Perry, 33, was a standout against the Redskins along with two other new Colts—quarterback Lamar McHan and former 49er Dee Mackey.

PACKERS UNBEATEN

The Western Conference champion Green Bay Packers remained at the head of the class with a 24-14 victory over Chicago that brought their record to 3-0. New York whipped Dallas 28-10, San Francisco edged Minnesota 14-10 and Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 24-14 in other games.

The Redskins lone score against the Colts came after Unitas tossed a 50-yard TD pass to Lenny Moore on the first play from scrimmage. Don Bosseller then barreled a yard for the Washington score before Perry took over. The Colts, league champions in 1958 and 1959, are 2-1 in pre-season tilts with the Redskins blanked in three games.

Jim Taylor's second two-yard touchdown plunge in the fourth quarter brought the Packers from behind against the Bears (1-2), and a six-yard scoring aerial from Bart Starr to Paul Hornung put it out of reach. The Bears had built a 14-10 lead on Roger LeClerc's 29-yard ramble with an interception and a 45-yard aerial from Ed Brown to Johnny Morris.

CONERLY CLICKS

Charley Conerly started the Giants (2-0-1) off against the Cowboys (1-2) in the first period with a 37-yard scoring pass to Joe Morrison and New York scored once in every period wtih Alex Webster, Jim Podoley and Phil King picking up TDs on the ground. Dallas' only touchdown came on Don McIlhenny's four-yard burst.

Bobby Layne's 33-yard touchdown toss to Preston Carpenter pulled the Steelers (2-1) out front against the Cardinals (0-2), then Charles Scales scored the clincher in the third period on a four-yard run. The Crads finally unveiled quarterback Sam Etcheverry, who has been sidelined with a sore shoulder. He completed the three passes he attempted.

49er Showing Leaves Plenty To Be Desired

The San Francisco 49ers went to work on their sputtering shotgun offense today, satisfied that Saturday's 14-10 exhibition victory over the Minnesota Vikings left much to be desired.

The 49ers, with their heralded shotgun attack muzzled most of the way, had to rely on the running of J. D. Smith to pull out the win, their first in three starts, against the new Minnesota club.

San Francisco Coach Red Hickey was unhappy over several aspects of his club's performance at Portland's Multnomah Stadium; quarterbacks John Brodie and Bob Waters completed only four of 19 pass attempts; the Vikings completely bottled up the shotgun offense throughout the first half, and did the same for a good part of the second half; and Monte Stickles, subbing as a kicker for the injured Tommy Davis, missed on three field goal attempts, one of which was from only 16 yards out.

"We certainly didn't look good in spots," Hickey offered. "Maybe they (the Vikings) had something to do with it. I don't know . . . thank goodness we were able to run."

PRO-VIKING CROWD

Playing before a pro Minnesota crowd of 27,044, the Vikings, led by ex-Oregon great George Shaw, started to move the first time they got the ball. Ex-49er Hugh McElhenny gained 33 yards in four carries in a drive that took the Vikings into San Franeisco territory, but the Minnesotans foundered on the 46.

Late in the first quarter, the 49ers penetrated to the Viking 14, then got nowhere. Stickles eventually missed a field goal from the 31. When they got the ball again, the San Franciscans smashed to the Viking eight, then ran up against the stiff Viking defense once more. Stickles missed his second field goal try, this one from the 16.

WOODSON ROMPS

Just before the half, the Vikings made it 3-0 on a field goal from the 28. The 49ers, however, bounced back to make it 7-3 when Abe Woodson took the kick off and went 97 yards to a touchdown with only 13 seconds left, with Stickles converting.

The 49ers scored again in the third quarter when C. R. Roberts went 13 yards around end to climax a 70-yard drive. But the Vikings made it close when Shaw hit A. D. Williams in the end zone with a 12-yard pass early in the fourth period.

The 49ers outgained the Vikings, 337 yards to 253, with Smith contributing 106 of them on 15 carries. McElhenny, although stopped in the second half, led the Minnesota ground game with 35 yards in 11 carries.

Rifle Discharges, Kills A Hunter

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Walter Bell, 42, San Francisco, was killed yesterday as a deer hunter's rifle fired accidentally in their automobile as the car passed through Santa Rosa.

Bell was struck in the heart.

Police said the rifle was being unloaded by Charles Abeyga, 29, San Francisco. He was in the back seat.

They were returning from a hunting trip in Lake County.

San Carlos Wins Babe Ruth Title

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP) — The 1961 Babe Ruth Baseball World Series title was claimed by San Carlos, Calif., yesterday when it whipped Englewood, N.J., 9-2.

California pitcher Steve Caria demonstrated the same deadly ability at the plate as on the mound. Center fielder Rick Brown also jumped on the Englewood pitchers, who assisted the Californians in the scoring column by walking 10 San Carlos batters.

It was losing pitcher Willie Hannibal's first loss after three series victories. Hannibal allowed seven hits and eight walks before he was relieved on the mound by shortstop Kip Gaynor.

A three-run homer by Caria and another by New Jersey's Brian Salisbury, his third of the series, highlighted the game's scoring.

Salisbury's long blast brought the 1961 series home run total to 40. Attendance at the 19 games totaled 38,026, breaking the old record of 27,000 set at Austin, Tex., in 1955.

Hebert Captures American Classic In Sudden Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Jay Hebert won the $50,000 American Golf Classic yesterday by defeating Gary Player on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff.

Hebert, the Louisianan playing out of Miami, Fla., did it the hard way in gaining first prize of $9,000. He held a five-stroke lead over Player with nine holes left, blew it and then sank a 20-foot putt on the 18th hole to force a playoff.

Two holes later, he scored a birdie four on the 500-yard par five No. 2 hole to defeat Player, who took second prize of $4,600 to boost his earnings this year to over $60,000, tops among the pros.

L.A. Rams Trade Shofner To N.Y.

The Giants had obtained the Vikings' No. 1 draft selection last year in the deal that sent quarterback George Shaw to the Vikings.

In addition to Shofner, former Baylor star who has played four seasons in the NFL, the Giants will receive another player to be named later.

Wensloff, Blum, Anderson, Sapp Star In Tiburon Win

The nifty pitching of Buzz Wensloff and solid batting of Ron Blum, Ken Anderson and Bob Sapp enabled the Tiburon Pelicans to snap a four-game losing streak yesterday in an 8-4 triumph over the Jeffersons of San Francisco.

Wensloff, off to a shaky start when the Jeffs clipped him for four runs on three hits in the first inning, settled down and gave up just two more singles in the remaining eight innings. His five hitter was sprinkled generously with 11 strikeouts.

Blum, with four hits in five at-bats, gave the southern Marin semi-pros the go-ahead runs in the fifth inning when he slammed a bases loaded triple. He had four runs-batted-in for the afternoon. That same fifth inning rally was capped by a solo home run by Anderson. Kenny also had a single and two RBI on the day.

Sapp's productive performance saw him slash a triple and two singles.

The victory in Tiburon's final regular season game gave the Pelicans a 9-7 won-lost record. They will be idle next week, but return for one more outing on Sept. 10 in their annual Old Timers game.

CAN'T BLAME 'EM

Pennants Flutter In Redleg Dreams

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Who's Freddie Hutchinson trying to kid?

He claims "this thing isn't over yet!"

But with that big grin plastered all over his face and that 3½ game lead his Cincinnati Reds now enjoy, how much would he like to bet? Generally, whenever a manager starts shying away from any premature pennant congratulations, his team already is thinking in terms of the World Series.

And no one could really blame the Reds for thinking that way after they bounced back from two straight beatings at the hands of Los Angeles to sweep a double-header from the Dodgers, 6-5 and 8-3, yesterday before a standing room crowd of 30,195 at Cincinnati.

Naturally, Dodger manager Walt Alston was depressed. But he was in no mood to concede.

"This leaves us in the same spot as when we came into Cincinnati," he said. "We're still even with them in the lost column."

True enough, but the Reds have won seven more games than the Dodgers. That means even if Cincinnati wins only 12 of its remaining 24 games, Los Angeles would have to win 19 of its last 31 merely to gain a tie.

10TH SWEEP

"We've been bouncing back all season long," said the happy Hitchinson after the Reds won their 10th twin-bill of the season. "it was just a case of going out and doing it again."

And the Reds did.

They trailed 5-1 in the opener when Leo Cardenas doubled to start a seventh inning rally that was climaxed by Gene Freese's 23rd homer with two on. Cardenas tripled home Jerry Lynch with the tying run in the eighth and then scampered home with the winning run on Wally Post's pinch double. Jim Brosnan picked up his eighth victory in relief.

Vada Pinson's 15th homer with one on off loser Don Drysdale started the Reds to victory in the first inning of the nightcap. The Reds added a run in the fourth and drove Drysdale to the showers with three more runs in the sixth. Ken Johnson registered his fifth victory with help from Brosnan and Bill Henry.

The St. Louis Cardinals rolled to their seventh straight victory by blanking the San Francisco Giants, 6-0, Milwaukee beat Philadelphia, 11-10, in a 12-inning opener but lost the nightcap, 3-0, and Pittsburgh split with Chicago, the Pirates winning the opener, 7-3, and the Cubs the nightcap, 6-5.

Meadow Club Title Won By Weitzel

Powerful John Weitzel of Greenbrae yesterday won the Directors Cup golf championship of the Meadow Club by downing Otto Jacobsen 4 and 2 in the finals.

Weitzel, who had to spot his foe a whopping 11 handicap strokes, played the back nine in one over par figures to win going away. On two holes—the 12th and 16th—he muscled out droves that travelled over 300 yards and on every hole he reached the green in regulation. Two long Weitzel putts rimmed the cup as he barely missed birdies.

Weitzel gained the finals with a 3 and 2 semi-final victory over Al Huber Jr. Saturday while Jacobsen was eliminating Dante Tognoli by the same margin.

Seattle Teacher Wins Golf Title—Record

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Mrs. J. D. Decker, a brown-eyed bride who teaches history in school and makes it on the golf course, won the 1961 USGA Women's Amateur Golf Championship Saturday with a record 14 and 13 victory over Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla.

She has won numerous tournaments but never was greater than in this one. Her triumph bettered the record 13 and 12 margin by which Glenna Collett beat Virginia Van Wie in 1928.

FORCED TO FLEE WITHOUT THEIR BABY

...NOW SHE'S HOME

When Mr. and Mrs. Varga fled Hungary for their lives, they had to leave their daughter, Eszter Ilona, with relatives. For four years, the brutal Kadar regime refused the child an exit visa. But continuous beseeching by dedicated agencies finally obtained the child's release—the first since the 1956 revolution.

Eszter's present happiness is a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Catholic, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs.

The work goes on, day in and day out . . . and it must continue. These religion-sponsored endeavors often provide the only hope for the free world's destitute. The next time you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember that your contribution will make it possible for other lives to be free from fear and terror.

WADES ASHORE—Air Force Col. Russ Schleeh, driver of the defending Gold Cup champion Miss Reno, wades ashore from rescue craft after his hydroplane flipped yesterday at Pyramid Lake near Reno. He was uninjured. (AP Wirephoto)

GOLD CUP MARRED BY ACCIDENTS

RENO (UPI)—The race for the 1961 Gold Cup, world championship for unlimited hydroplanes, went into an unexpected third day after two crashes on windswept, choppy Pyramid Lake washed out one heat yesterday and shortened another.

Air Force jet pilot Col. Russ Schleeh, driving the hometown favorite Miss Reno, was the first victim of the waves. His mount, the former Gold Cup champion Maverick, disappeared in a cloud of spray on the fifth lap of yesterday's first heat.

Schleeh, who was running in fourth place as he started around the south turn of the three-mile, 3,500-foot high course, was thrown clear. He was plucked from the water by a patrol boat moments later little more than soaked and shaken up.

Red flares shot into the air, halting the heat in a bitter blow to Don Wilson in Miss U.S. 1 who was within 200 yards of finishing his fifth lap. That would have been halfway at 15 miles and enough to make it an official heat.

Miss U.S. 1 of Detroit already had picked up 400 points for a first place heat Saturday and 400 more would have made her hard to catch in the remaining two.

DRIVER HURT

Rex Manchester, apparently en route to victory in Miss Spokane in yesterday's second heat, flipped on the last turn and again red flares halted the race.

Manchester was trapped momentarily under the overturned speedster but bobbed up alongside and was pulled into a patrol boat. He was taken by Helicopter 35 miles to Washoe Medical Center where it was reported he had a possible ankle fracture and knee lacerations that would require surgery.

Ironically, Manchester — rookie driver of the year in 1960—was the one chosen earlier to test the water before the decision to go on with the race.

After three heats in two days the point standings were: Gale V, 569; Such Crust, 525; Miss Reno, 400; Miss U.S. 1, 400; $ Bill, 352; Century 21, 300; Tempest, 225; Miss Bardahl, 169; Miss Spokane, 300. (Neither Fascination nor Fascination 1 finished a heat and thus had no points).

Tigers' C And C Boys Match Yankee 'M' Squad In Bat Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit's fans were wondering today why all the fuss over Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle.

They contend they have a slugging pair just as devastating as the New York Yankees' M and M boys.

"We call 'em the C and C boys," said a happy Tiger follower. "That's Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito."

There's no question that Cash and Colavito have been just as essential to the Tigers as Maris and Mantle have been to the Yankees. The pair collaborated yesterday to lead the Tigers to a 7-4, 10-1 sweep of a double-header with Washington, moving the Tigers to within two games of the American League-leading Yankees.

Detroit gained half a game on the Yankees who nipped Kansas City 8-7 for Whitey Ford's 22nd triumph. Maris and Mantle went homerless and hitless. Colavito smashed four home runs, three in the second game, and batted in seven runs. Cash got three hits, including a double and triple to boost his league-leading average to .365.

Chicago's White Sox strengthened their hold on fourth place, defeating Cleveland twice 10-6 and 9-3. Baltimore's third-place Orioles blanked Minnesota 3-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Milt Pappas, and Los Angeles downed Boston 8-3.

POTENT SOCKERS

Not since Hank Greenberg and Rudy York have the Tigers had a pair of sockers as potent as Colavito and Cash. Colavito's four homers gave him a season's total of 38 and an RBI total of 119, second only to Maris' 120. Together with Cash, the duo owns 69 home runs to 97 for Maris (51) and Mantle (46), and 226 runs batted in to the Yankee duo's 232. Cash, whose 31 homers and 107 RBI are the lowest of the foursome, is far and away ahead of the other three in batting percentage.

Yogi Berra and Elston Howard supplied the home run punch for the Yankees. Berra's came with two on and Ford needed all those runs. The lefthander lasted just five innings and needed relief help from Roland Sheldon and Luis Arroyo. The A's scored three runs in the ninth and had the tying run on second base before Arroyo fanned Norm Siebern to end the game.

MARIN GRID OUTLOOK TO START WEDNESDAY

Team favorites, individual stars, schedules and a general outlook at the approaching 1961 Marin County high school football season will be featured in a series of articles to start Wednesday in the Independent-Journal.

First team to be placed under the X-ray will be the Redwood Giants, unbeaten champions in the first two seasons of the Marin Athletic League. Can they repeat, or have they lost too many stars by graduation? The situation at Giantsville appears to be, "Low on veterans, high on tradition."

S.F. HEAVYWEIGHT SHOW

Lavorante Choice To Whip German Tonight

Alejandro Lavorante pits his devastating right hand and speed against the body punching of sturdy Willi Besmanoff tonight when the two heavyweights square off in a 10-round bout at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium.

Lavorante, a South American sensation who has posted 12 knockouts in winning 15 of his 16 fights, is favored to hand the German another in a string of defeats. Despite going the distance against such names as Archie Moore and Eddie Machen, Besmanoff has been a losing fighter ever since he transferred operations from Germany to the United States in 1957. His record is 9 wins and 19 losses on American soil.

He last fought in June, when Canadian George Chuvolo became the first opponent to knock him out.

Lavorante, sixth ranked among the heavyweights, stopped Cal Butler in the second round earlier this month after pounding out a 10-round decision over Monroe Ratliff eight weeks ago.

Promoter Bennie Ford, looking for a $10,000 gate tonight, said that he planned to match Lavorante and Moore providing that Besmanoff doesn't pull an upset.

Ford's second show for his new Golden Gate Boxing Club gets under way at 8:30. The six-round semi-final matches unbeaten light heavyweight Johnny Canty of San Francisco against Norm Fletcher of Los Angeles.

Another six matches heavyweights Bob Tanner and Bill McMurray. A four-rounder also is on the card.

Drag Racer Killed In Raceway Crackup

SAUSALITO YACHT CLUB REGATTA

Baby Grand Finally Scores Win Over Easom's Serenade

By ALFRED MATSON

Malcolm De Wees finally achieved a win with his Baby Grand to best his season long tormentor, Hank Easom, and his Serenade, but it was close, yesterday in the Sausalito Yacht Club's regatta.

The point is that the Baby Grand and the Serenade are both of the Dasher class, but the galling part for De Wees, heretofore, had been that both boats were built by Easom at his Sausalito shipyard and, as a customer, he wasn't getting a fair shake. Baby Grand's margin of victory yesterday was a mere 45 seconds.

The Sausalito Y.C.'s first Yacht Racing Assn. regatta was an unqualified success with an impressive turnout of yachts for both days of racing.

But the race committee had its headaches, particularly on Saturday when it discovered it had lost the entire Farallon Clipper fleet. All the other classes had finished, but the Farallones, all six of them, were unseen and unreported. After a hurried consultation, Recorder Don Seaton and the committee decided on some concrete action.

So, making like the Coast Guard, the committee boat headed out into the fog in search of the Maverick Farallones and found them off Point Bonita with four of them in close contention and still battling for the lead. Once under the Golden Gate Bridge, the wind picked up and the committee boat had to scurry back to the finish line to record the errant finishers properly.

Regardless of the 8 hours and 28 minutes spent in achieving the victory, it was a big one for Hal McCormick of Belvedere, the skipper of the Mistress II owned by Fred Parr Cox, St. Francis Y.C. It was Hal's first win for the season over the champ, Bill Trask's Hoyden II.

In yesterday's division races, the Baruna continued along her trail of resurgence by again defeating the Bolero, and quite handily too. Although the Baruna was first to finish, Tim Mosely's Orient was declared the winner on corrected time.

However, for the first time in many years Jim Michael entered a protest. At the start, according to the skipper of the Baruna, the Orient barged the line, forcing him to fall off or ram the committee boat. While the Baruna is undoubtedly one of the finest equipped yachts to be found, it had no protest flag, and a crewman's shirt was the only available substitute.

In Division D the Triton's hold on the top spots was finally broken with a nice win by Larry Harris in the Columbia. The season's leader Triton was relegated to seventh spot, but Bob Potter has a fat cushion of season's points and has no great reason for alarm.

Clutch Player Wins Li'l League For El Cajon '9'

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — "When he goes to bat the entire team has a feeling of confidence," Coach Don Dolan says, describing Mike Salvatore, hero of the champion El Cajon, Calif., Little Leaguers.

Salvatore hit a three-run homer in the last inning of the Little League baseball championship game Saturday with El Campo, Tex., giving his team a 4-2 victory.

The 5-foot-3 Salvatore also was El Cajon's winning pitcher, hurling five hitless innings.

Inept Raiders Clouted, 35-7

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Some might challenge the San Diego Chargers as the would-be champions of the American Football League, but it looks like Sid Gillman's crew will be California's best with little or no trouble.

The Chargers, playing their first season here after a financially disastrous year in Los Angeles bucking the Dodgers and Rams, smashed the Oakland Raiders yesterday, 35-7, in a Balboa Stadium exhibition contest.

A crowd of 10,436 watched Oakland put on a rather inept performance, not making a first down until 9:16 into the second quarter—and then on a penalty.

But the Bay Area team did improve in the second half, controlling the ball on three long marches, even though only one of the marches reached fruition with quarterback Tom Flores hitting Doug Asad with a 15-yard pass.

The Chargers had two spectacular plays. Paul Lowe sprinted 72 yards to a TD in the first minutes of play and QB Jack Kemp, almost trapped on his own 30, threw a pass to Rookie Keith Lincoln, who went 63 yards to a score.

Chute Didn't Open, Diver, 33, Dies

AVENAL (AP) — Ex-Army paratrooper Everett Mitchell, 33-year-old Coalinga oil worker, seemed transfixed, witnesses said, as he plunged out of an airplane at 7,000 feet with his double parachute in a skydiving exhibition here yesterday.

Fellow divers screamed at him. His wife watched horrified. Mitchell didn't pull a rip cord but crashed to his death in a vacant field near this Kings County community airport. It was Mitchell's 15th jump as a civilian.

European Teeners Win Water Skiing

LONG BEACH (UPI)—Two European teen-agers today reigned as the king and queen of international water skiing, but the United States for the sixth consecutive time held the world team title.

Bruno Zaccardi, 18, Italy, won the men's overall championship at the seventh World Water Ski Championship which ended yesterday at Marine Stadium. Sylvie Hulsemaan, 16-year-old blonde miss from Luxembourg, won the women's overall crown at the four-day competition in which four international marks were broken.

The United States won the team title again on the strength of its first-place finishers in the men's slalom and jumping events. France, the only other nation to win the team title, finished second. Austria was third and Italy fourth.

Driver Arrested For Speeding

A 22-year-old Point Reyes Station truck driver was arrested on charges of speeding and reckless driving late Saturday after residents complained that he was making a race track out of the main street.

Gene Henry Schettler was first seen passing through town at 5:30 p.m. by Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen, who estimated his speed of 50-55 miles per hour. By 5:30 p.m., Christensen said, more than a half dozen calls had been received complaining of Schettler's excessive speed through the center of town.

At 7:30 p.m. Schettler was arrested. He posted $179 bail and was ordered to appear in municipal court to answer the charges today.

Quentin Inmates Hurt Fighting Forest Fires

Three San Quentin Prisor inmates have been hospitalized for injuries suffered while fighting fires in Six Rivers National Forest.

Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff said only "scattered" radio reports have been reported at the prison concerning the victims. One was reportedly flown from the scene of the accident to a hospital at the Hoopa Indian Reservation in Humboldt County, where the other two inmates were also hospitalized.

"Were heard also that a tree fell on one but that's all we know at this time," said Achuff.

He said the three men, whose names and conditions have not been reported to the prison, were to be returned to Marin by ambulance sometime today.

Idaho Farm Boy, 13, Held For Sniping

CALDWELL, Idaho (AP) — A baby-faced farm boy has admitted he is the mystery sniper who terrorized his own family and critically wounded two policemen. He couldn't say why he did it.

Robert Oliver Miller, 13, was stunned to learn that Police Chief Keith Judd of Caldwell lay paralyzed in a hospital with a .22 caliber slug in his spine. Doctors said Judd may never recover.

Another officer, Depuuty Sheriff Mel States of Boise, was shot in the back. Doctors said he would recuperate.

The officers were wounded Saturday night as they and other policemen fanned out around the farm house of the boy's father, W. K. Miller, looking for a sniper.

More Sharks Reported Off Marin's Shores

Sharks were reported seen off Angel Island and off Stinson Beach over the week end.

Yesterday the Coast Guard alerted the sheriff's office that about 15 sharks had been sighted at 11:35 a.m. about one-half mile off Stinson Beach. At 12:45 Coast Guard reported some eight to 10-foot sharks off Point Knox, Angel Island.

Two sharks were also sighted at about 1:30 p.m. Friday by Russell G. Lewis of Sausalito and Taylor McGee of Mill Valley. Lewis, taking a boat load of sightseers from Sausalito to San Francisco, said the sharks were seen at Harding Rock Buoy between Sausalito and Angel Island.

McGee reported one shark semed to be eating something large and that it swam beneath his boat, which had a fishing party aboard. The sharks, Lewis said, were the gray type, one about eight feet long and the other between 10 and 12 feet long.

Enrollment is limited, but interested parents may obtain information at the church.

Town In North Carolina Upset Over Race Rioting

MONROE, N.C. (UPI) — Roving bands of heavily armed police, special deputies and highway patrolmen kept tight control today of this tense city, torn by a shot-punctuated night of race rioting.

Highway patrolmen armed with automatic carbines and sawed-off shotguns supplemented local police and a corps of about 75 hastily-deputized firemen in keeping the shaky peace in the south-central North Carolina city of 1,000 population. More than 50 patrol cars were dispatched last night with the approval of Gov. Terry Sanford when long-smouldering racial tension broke out in violence.

Police arrested more than 50 persons, many of them white, in the rioting that was climaxed in the wounding of a policeman. A Negro youth was charged with assault with intent to kill the policeman.

The trouble, which broke out late yesterday afternoon, grew from white resentment of Negro protests against segregation, particularly against Negro leader Robert Williams who once was expelled from the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for advocating that Negroes meet violence with violence.

Violence finally did break out yesterday when Negroes picketed the county courthouse in a protest demonstration. Police moved in at a point when it appeared things were going to get out of hand: the Negroes fought; white onlookers moved in and the surface tension was broken.

Williams' house was heavily guarded by police today. Newsmen were not allowed to approach it but a patrolman reported that it looked like a fortress with armed men clearly visible.

"That's the police, don't shoot," the patrolman said he heard someone say when he approached the house.

Police Chief A. A. Mauney charged that Negroes temporarily held a white couple as hostages during the rioting in an attempt to force release of pickets arrested by police officers. The couple was later released unharmed, Mauney said.

Mayor Fred Wilson called the city council into emergency session after a crowd of more than 1,000 jeering whites collected downtown, harassing police and apparently on the lookout for more trouble. Knots of men roamed the streets until midnight, seven hours after the original disturbance.

SILVER SHOWER table arrangements present a challenge to the decorator that he can hardlly wait to meet. Here Shirlee Robbins, an interior designer, used a large oval peppermint pink cotton velvet banquet cloth to create a lavish setting for this display of silver presents to the bride. She fitted a delicate pink flounce trimmed with silver cord around the edge to make the appearance truly elegant.

Designers Set Tables With Ideas

Give an interior designer a problem and see what he does with it. That's what happened recently when a number of designers displayed their talents with table settings for a New York show.

The table settings ran the gamut from formal seated dinners to elaborate buffet settings and wedding gift displays, and their results yielded a new crop of ideas for the housewife to use making her own versions for a party.

The designers were very careful to take a good look at the table shape, or create a different shape to suit themselves, which could be done by placing a new top over the regular table.

Then they made artistic use of inexpensive material to create party tablecloths. These included cotton velvet, organdy, sateen, batiste and others in light and dark colors to set off the fine china and silver.

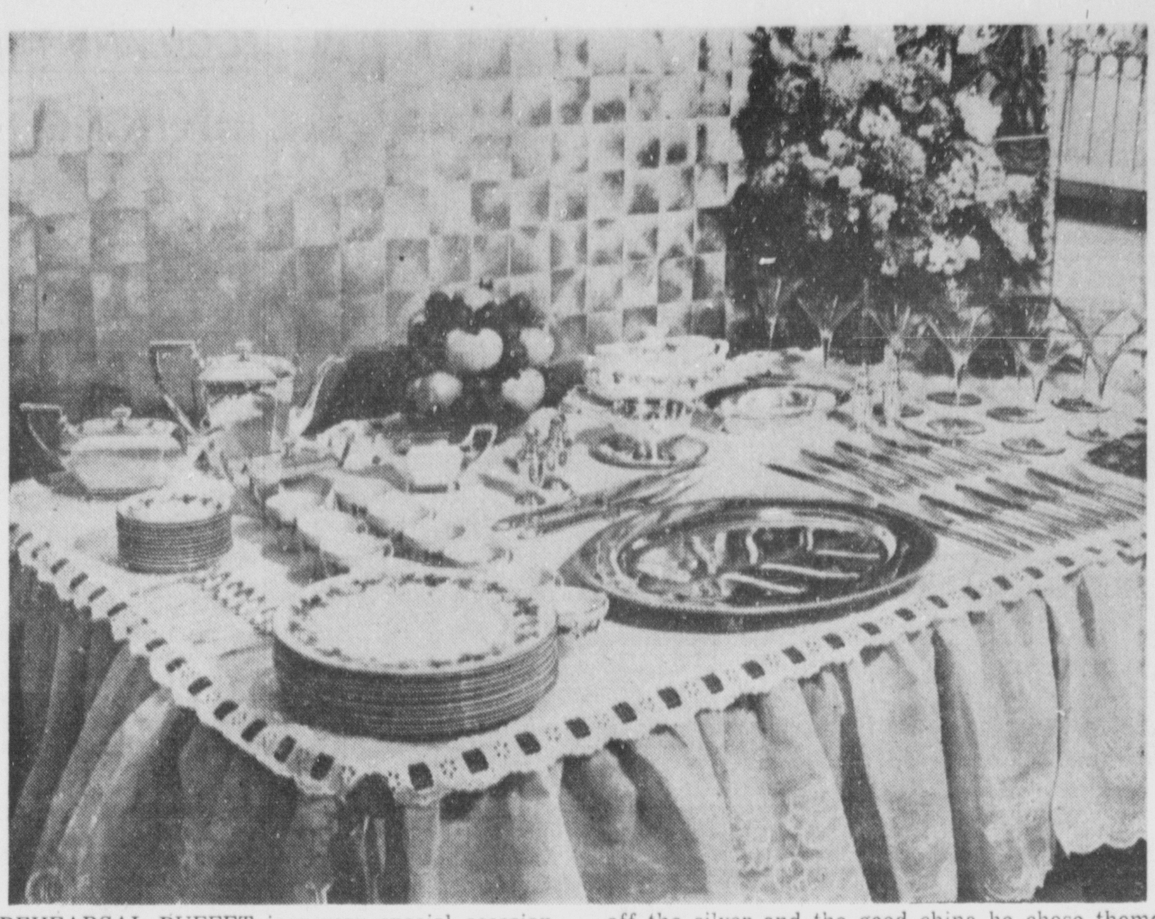
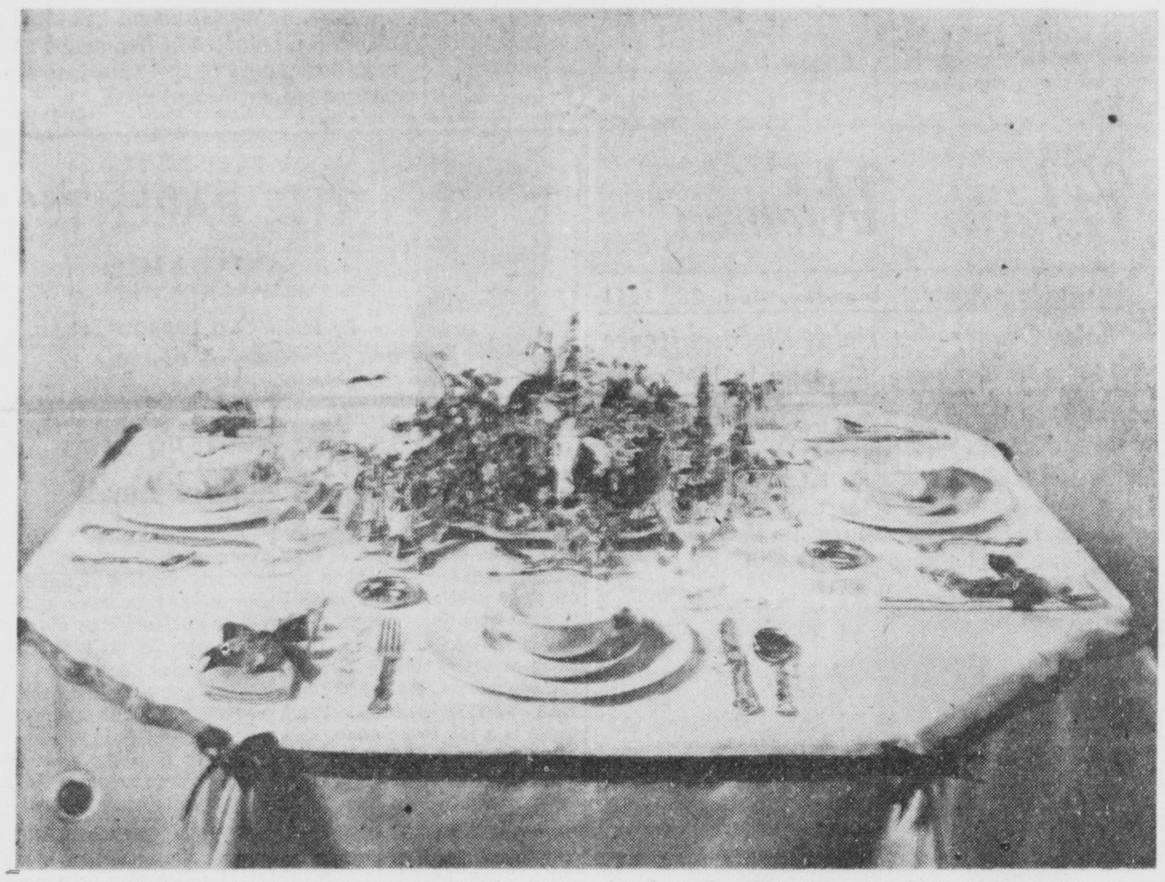
Their work shows, also, that the floral decorations or fruit or dry arrangement need not be placed in the table center, but may be effectively used at an end or corner, depending on the placement of the table in the room and what is needed on it.



REHEARSAL BUFFET is a very special occasion calling for a deft hand with the table arrangements. Designer R. Holland Trull created a setting for 10 guests when he trimmed this festive table. To set off the silver and the good china he chose theme colors of lilac, lavender and blue with a touch of green. The underskirt is cotton sateen and the overcloth is a sheer white cotton batiste with hand embroidered edging.



AN ENGAGEMENT party was the occasion chosen by interior designer Arthur Burke to use a hexagon-shaped table with a yellow cotton sateen tablecloth and an overcloth of white cotton organdy with a border of yellow flowers. He cut the place mats from the same border as the overcloth. The edge is trimmed with a ribbon. Table shape could be created with a special top fitted over your square table.

FOOD AND THE FAMILY

Kitchen Is Central To Family Activity

One of a series of articles on the housewife and her family's attitude toward food as expressed in a new survey.

By BARBARA HOSMER

"The children are in the kitchen practically all the time. I'm in the kitchen a lot and they talk with me. Their friends come in, too, to talk with me. The kitchen is where we gather."

"We have a portable TV there, and they do their homework there . . ."

"We all like to be in the kitchen. Homework is done on the kitchen table. Ironing is done in the kitchen. We don't have a basement so when the children have company and play games, it's usually in the kitchen . . ."

The kitchen is almost universally regarded by those housewives surveyed as the central gathering place of the family throughout the day. Even today when mother does not have to spend as many long hours there as she used to, the family activities are centered there, and new "family rooms" are built adjacent so mothers can watch the toddlers while busy at the sink or stove.

Often the neighbor comes in for a cup of morning coffee and sits in the kitchen to chat. Children come to talk with mother, bring their pals, and more than likely to whole family will be fed at least one meal a day there.

This important room has become the social center as well as the culinary center of the home, the warm and relaxing place for everyone. People sit and talk to each other while nibbling away on food at hand. Husbands coming home from work know they'll find their wives busy in the kitchen and will drop into a chair to talk over the day's events while dinner cooks.

The wives say they like this, but make it clear that they don't want help from the man of the house on cooking activities. They regard the kitchen as their realm and resent interference or unsought advice.

"My husband comes into talk, very rarely to help. He likes to putter but he always gets underfoot . . ."

"The only thing he knows how to cook is hot dogs or make coffee," says one. "I like to have his company in the kitchen. He doesn't mix in what I do."

When the man of the house fancies himself a chef, the wife often solves the problem with "separate but equal" cooking responsibilities, and the man only cooks a certain specialty dish or prepares a single meal, such as breakfast on his day off.

Sometimes for special occasions relatives or close friends will come over and help cook specialties such as holiday cookies or prepare a meal by each doing one dish, but these occasions are rare, the housewives said.

DANCE LESSON is taken by Deborah and Pamela Lang from Nancy Dunham. The Lang younsters will be among those enrolled in the new Nancy Dunham Studios classes in tap, ballet, rhythm, charm, cotillion for fifth through eighth graders, and ballroom dancing for adults which will open in Marin Sept. 15. Miss Dunham, whose studios operate in Hollywood, Lancaster and Palmdale, will move to San Francisco and in San Rafael will open her northern California studio. Classes will be at Carpenters Hall, San Rafael, where enrollment will begin Sept. 8. Miss Dunham has taught many film notables in Hollywood and taught manners at the American embassies in London and Paris.

SEW SIMPLE

Head Off Trouble At The Gap By Pinning Not Basting Seam

"Please tell me why, when I sew the side seams of a garment on the machine, the material rides ahead of the presser foot and the top piece ends up longer than the under material.

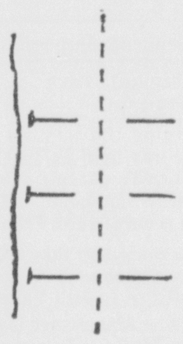
Dear Mrs. E.B.

The pushing of the top layer of fabric is natural when you realize how a sewing machine is constructed. The teeth on the plate hold the under layer of fabric, and the presser foot has nothing on it to hold the fabric in place.

You can avoid this by "pinning" your seams together, instead of basting. The fabric cannot slip past a pin, but it will slip if it is basted.

Place your pins about 1½"



apart, in a horizontal position to a vertical seam. If your sewing machine will not sew over pins, remove them as you come to them. However, if you use silk pins for your sewing, most machines will sew over them. Be sure to place your pins so that you will actually be sewing over your fabric instead of hitting the pins. Also, remember to always stitch the skirt seams from the bottom up.

"Should the hemline of a coat be dipped in back, in other words, should it be longer in back than sides and front? If so, how much longer?" Mrs. C.C.

Dear Mrs. C.C.

This is true with suit jackets more than long coats. A suit jacket is much more feminine and flattering if it dips about ½" at the center back. This should be a gradual dip from the side seams and will hardly be noticeable to the casual observer.

"One of my problem in sewing is the necklines. They are all cut too wide at the shoulder for me and also too low. Can I change this and how do I change the facings?" Mrs. A.J.P.

Dear Mrs. A.J.P.:

1. Add ⅝" to 1" to the entire neckline seam. You may add more than that at the shoulders if necessary.

2. Mark your ⅝" seam allowance, clip your seam and baste the seam allowance down. Now you will know exactly what size the neckline will be when finished.

3. As soon as the neckline is exactly the way you think it is most becoming, cut the interfacing and the facing from this actual muslin. Make your facings about 3" wide.

The nicest part about making this basic muslin is that you can always use this as a guide for anything you would make with this type of neckline.

Sewing glossary: Grading seams: This refers to trimming any faced edge. Trim both seams to half of their original width, now trim facing seam in half again. This will avoid a ridge when edges are pressed.

Please send all questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

'Tea Leaves' That Grow In Teapot

DENVER (AP) — A tempest in a teapot means nothing to Mrs. Helen Stanley. She's too busy growing a garden in one.

Tiny gardens that really grow have been a major interest of the Denver woman for 25 years. She makes them as remembrances for friends, as gifts for hospitals and as surefire amusement items for her grandchildren.

"Seems as though I always have a grandchild in kindergarten and they love these for their show-and-tell hour," she said.

Her arrangements have many themes. A blue glass chicken, barely three inches long, holds a cluster of hens-and-chickens plants. A pottery bowl is the setting for a Mexican village with lilliputian figures, a tiny church and 27 varieties of cactus. A doll's teacup holds a plant called baby's tears.

Mrs. Stanley works mainly with miniature cactus because of its ability to adjust and live almost anywhere.

What Is Gentlemanly Look? Fashion Editors Pin It Down

A lad who can look like a gentleman has it made. He can be young, old, tall, short, bald or wavy haired and he can be with or without muscles. If he looks like a gentleman he weaves a magic spell over most women.

Underwriting this new concept of masculine charm are some of the country's top fashion editors . . . gals whose keen-eyed judgment of what "looks" right makes or breaks fashion trends. And the editors have voted hands down for the "gentlemanly look, although they aren't always in complete agreement about what makes the look.

The survey came about recently when one of the country's major clothing manufacturers decided on the "gentlemen's look" as a fashion trend and then found itself stuck to describe it. So it went to the nation's fashion editors and got a whole new set of definitions.

The majority of editors agreed that dress is the biggest factor, but that it must be combined with an inner confidence to add up to the "air" that marks a gentleman.

The boys who are losing their hair should take heart from the fact that more than 61 per cent of the fashion editors responding admitted that a gentleman can be wholly or partly bald and still look every bit the gentleman.

Mustaches emerged as a surprise characteristic of the gentlemanly look, according to the survey. More than 51 per cent of the gals identified the ideal gentleman with a lip ornament.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counselor

Principal Is The Man To Stop Hazing At High School Level

Do the old students haze the new students at your high school? Are boys forced to roll up their pantlegs, and do silly things? Are girls required to go without makeup, and wear their sweaters backward? Do the sophomores swat freshmen with wooden paddles? Then there is a job to be done. Hazing has no place in modern education.

Twenty years ago hazing was common. Then guidance counselors began to check the results. They found that many fine, sensitive kids were driven out of school each fall; that stunts were carried to extremes; that real brutality was common, as were serious injuries. They discovered that hazing hurt school spirit, instead of helping it. Hazing had to go.

Now "Welcome Week" has replaced "Hell Week," in welled schools. Timid newcomers are helped to feel at home. Older students sign up as "big brothers" or "big sisters" to the younger ones. Tours of the school are provided, and procedures are explained. No one is swatted. Every effort is made to help the newcomers, rather than to embarrass them. The results are excellent.

If your high school still permits hazing, talk to the principal. Offer your help in changing things. Get your PTA leaders to see him, too. Phone the ministers in your neighborhood and enlist their support. Demonstrate to your principal that he'll have adequate backing if he cracks down on hazing. Almost certainly he'll be glad to cooperate.

Mrs. Turney Will Head Voters Unit

Members of the League of Women Voters of Central Marin can look forward to an informative and busy season under the leadership of their new president Mrs. O. Ross Turney of Ross.

Mrs. Turney was a sociology major in Simmons College, Boston, where she received her B.S. degree. Prior to her marriage, she worked as re-educational therapist for two and one-half years at a private mental hospital in New England. In California, she was employed four and one-half years as a children's case worker for a public welfare agency in the East Bay.

She is the mother of Jennifer, 9, and Jeffrey, 7. In addition to her duties as a wife and mother, she has served as Brownie Scout troop leader, chairman of the 1961 Ross PTA summer activities program, Sunday school teacher. In the local League of Women Voters, she has been vice president, voters service chairman, local and state items chairman.

She and her husband, who is an appraiser for a local financial institution, enjoy camping with the family and "exploring" the state.

Mrs. Turney and board members will attend the State League Workshop in Oakland, on Tuesday.

EXECUTIVE WARNS

Specialization Trap Trips Some Coeds

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI) — If your son's ambition is the executive suite of a corporation, he can best prepare by avoiding the "specialization trap."

This is the gist of advice from a corporation president.

Tomorrow's corporation will demand an executive who is "a broad social being—unhampered by a totally specialized background" said Edward A. White.

"As a result increasing emphasis is being placed on the liberal arts background as the foundation for top management," White said. He is president of a firm that makes miniature components for aircraft and missiles.

As the executive sees it, too often today, youngsters tend to specialize too much and too early.

The danger of this "specialization trap," said White, was stressed by the management-statesman, Clarence Randall, who observed:

"It is easier to teach the liberal arts student metallurgy than to teach human relations to the student of metallurgy."

In line with this thinking, White points out that the man who will wind up on top tomorrow is the man who can, because of his talent in human relations, direct the largest number of people to produce the most.

What should be the college curriculum for the youngster heading for top management? White cited conclusions of the Association of Consulting Management Engineers — that the best undergraduate training for the executive career should place more than half of its focus upon liberal arts courses.

Based upon 120 semester hours required for graduation, the student should devote 60-66 hours to the humanities, mathematics, laboratory sciences and the social sciences, with primary stress on English literature and composition.

A total of 27-30 hours spent in business foundation subjects such as principles of economics and business methods.

Another 27-30 hours devoted to functional business subjects such as personnel, production, finance or marketing: plus concentration on one as a major subject.

With this, said White, the student then can seek more specialized education through post-graduate work.

Where's the best spot to start job hunting? In keeping with the changing emphasis toward "the executive with wider vision" White said that chances now favor the young man starting out with a small-to-medium-sized firm, rather than with an industrial giant.

Homes Have Changed

Living habits have changed considerably in most homes. Houses are larger—there are more appliances and baths than there were ten years ago. Water heaters made ten years ago weren't quite up to performing like 1961 models. Most present-day models are no larger than the old ones, because they rely on heat input rather than a large storage tank to meet the greater water demand of today's homes.

Miss Dailey Is Bride In Mission Rite

Patricia Evelyn Dailey became the bride of Larry Jo Meadows at Mission San Rafael Arcangel Aug. 19 at a morning ceremony performed by the Rev. Daniel McAlister.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moernman of Potsdam N. Y., the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ralph Dailey of San Rafael. She donned a white ballerina length gown of net over nylon brocade.

Josephine Dailey of San Rafael was matron of honor, wearing a blue silk print dress.

Russell Meadows of San Rafael was the ring bearer. Best man was Samuel Meadows and the usher was Irving Ash of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The bride attended Potsdam High School and Utica Beauty School. She is employed by Marinello, San Rafael.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. John Hoover of Phoenix, Ariz., where he attended school.

Indian Visitor Is Honored In Marin

A 13-year-old girl from Table Mountain Indian Reservation at Friant near Fresno has won the hearts of the Reginald R. Chisholm family, their Corte Madera neighbors and members of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera during the course of her three summer visits to Marin.

The girl, Sadie Hudson, has spent two weeks with the Chisholms and their children each of the past three years as a part of the International Interracial Fellowship Commission's Home Open Please program, which this year in California placed Mexican, Negro and Indian children as visitors with families of another race. Though the program began with the Baptist churches, many other denominations are now participating.

This summer Sadie has spent the mornings attending the Marin Lutheran Church Bible School. Then after lunch she has spent the afternoons playing ball and jump rope and other games with the neighbors, who, Mrs. Chisholm says, look forward to her summer visit and flock to play with her. Sadie has also helped her hostess with the fruit canning this summer.

Thursday night was an especially big one for Sadie, because she was the recipient of a shower by the Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera, enjoying her gifts of clothing and other items to outfit her for the coming school year. After the gifts were opened, Mesdames Erling Finwall and Gene Nolin served party refreshments at the Chisholm home.

Shortly Sadie will leave for her own home to start the school year after another pleasant vacation in Marin.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of the year with 125 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1917, 10 suffragettes picketed the White House, hoping to win the sympathy of President Woodrow Wilson. They were arrested for disturbing the peace.

In 1922, the first commercial in radio broadcasting was heard over New York station WEAF. The sponsor was the Queensboro Realty Co. in Jackson Heights, N.Y.

A thought for today: Russian writer Leo Tolstoy said: "The vocation of every man and woman is to serve other people."

Worthless Hand May Rate Bid In Desperate Bridge Situation

If you want my advice on jumping out of window, the word is "Don't." Disregard this advice, however, if you find yourself in a burning building. And make the same kind of exception when you're in a desperate bridge situation.

South West North East
1 NT Double All Pass
Opening lead — ♠ K

North had once heard the general rule "A pass is the simplest way to show weakness." Hence he allowed South to play the hand at one notrump doubled.

South managed to get two diamond tricks and the ace of clubs before giving up the ghost. The opponents collected a penalty of 1100 points, and everybody was happy. East and West were happy about the 1100 points; North was happy to have followed the rule; and South was happy that he wasn't as big a fool as his partner.

SURE TO LOOSE: In a bridge sense, North was in a burning building when he picked up his worthless hand and heard his partner get doubled at one notrump. If North passed he was sure to lose a huge amount.

In this situation a player should bid any suit of five or more cards. If he has no five-card suit, he should bid any low suit of four cards. The reason you bid a low suit (and not a high suit) is that you want to make it easy for somebody else to bid a higher suit.

In this case, North should bid two clubs. There's a fine chance that the opponents will wander into spades. If they get to four spades, a diamond lead will beat them.

At worst, North would be doubled at two clubs instead of at one notrump. He will probably hold the loss down to 500 points, which is unlucky but not disastrous.

Mind you, the general rule for bidding on hopeless hands is still "Don't." Just make an exception when your partner is doubled at one notrump.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with 1 NT, and the next player passes. You hold:

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

State Suspends Liquor License

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state department of alcoholic beverage control has ordered an indefinite suspension of the on-sale general liquor license of Joan M. Shields, Flamingo Inn, 2007 Bridgeway, Sausalito, on charges that the licensee permitted lewd and indecent conversations and acts on the premises.

The department ordered a 30-day suspension, effective Sept. 7 and an indefinite suspension thereafter. The suspension may be terminated if the license is transferred to qualified persons. If this does not take place by April 7, 1962, the license will be revoked.

Sausalito Chamber Chairmen Announced

Clyde Kilian, harbors and channels; Edwin Long, business promotion and special events; Frank Bosl, financial; Harold Puharich, civic improvement; Alan Scurfield, membership; Arthur Boates, legislative and, Papenhausen, city contacts.

The association said Father Clifford, a prisoner of the Red Chinese for three years, will discuss how to overcome communist propaganda and brainwashing.

Tickets may be obtained from the alumnae office in Pennafort Hall on the campus. Proceeds will go to the college scholarship fund and the Taiwan Educational Center.

Program Of Classical Music To Be Switched Over To Jazz For Night

Lovers of long-hair music will be out of luck tomorrow night.

KTVU will devote its "Great Music From Chicago" at 9 p.m. to a special program of jazz instead of its usual classical fare. And KPIX's "Concert Hall" usually seen on Tuesdays at 7:30, was moved up to Sunday afternoon this one week only to make room for a special program.

The Channel 2 jazz show is built around Count Basie and his superb band. The music was taped while the great Joe Williams was still the Basie vocalist.

Sharing the bill with the Basie band will be the Kai Winding Septet and singer Barbara McNair.

Some of the pieces: "Rat Race," "For Len and Lennie," "Fantail," and "In the Mode," plus a special "Trombone Panorama" by the the septet.

KPIX's SUBSTITUTE for "Concert Hall in the 7:30 time spot tomorrow night will be its "Consider and Decide," usually seen on Sundays. Marinite Jere Witter will interview Teamster Union chief James Hoffa.

THERE ARE a handful of actors and actresses who are always worth watching, whatever their role might be. One such is Greer Garson. And she can be seen tomorrow night at 9 o'clock on KPIX on "Comedy Spotlight" as an Irish school teacher in an amusing bit of fluff entitled "The Glorious Gift of Molly Malloy."

ALSO tomorrow night:

Six financial wizards join David Susskind for an "Open End" discussion of the stock market on KQED at 8:30. New and prospective investors might pick up a bit of advice.

A "Playhouse 90" drama set in Japan, "Made in Japan," will be repeated on KPIX at 9:30. The cast includes Dean Stockwell, E. G. Marshall, Harry Guardino—and some Japanese wrestlers.

Also a repeat, the "Purex Special" entitled "Change of Life," a study of the problems of women in their middle years, will be seen at 10 o'clock on KRON.

AS FOR tonight, KRON continues its series of medical documentaries with a look at the work of the anesthesiologist at 7:30. Science has come a long way in its battle against pain in the operating room since a century ago when a shot of whiskey was the common weapon. Some of these advances will be shown this evening.

And KQED's "Kaleidoscope" show at 8 o'clock will interview Barnaby Conrad, Marin author and ex-matador. Conrad was to have appeared a week ago, but agreed to a delay so that delightful Elsa Lanchester could be quizzed instead last Monday while she was in the Bay Area. Conrad will discuss his books, travels, TV productions, films and business.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)
By HARRY CRAFT

20-Year-Old Hobby Developing Into An Active Side Business

What started as a hobby more than 20 years ago for Jennings Lyon, laboratory technologist at the Ross Valley Clinic, now seems to have developed into a fairly active little side business for himself and wife Jo at 751 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo.

The Lyons with their partner John Steffler of San Mateo opened the L and S Lapidary about a month ago where just about everything can be had to keep home artificers in this craft busy. Would-be lapidaries will find grinding and polishing equipment, agents and materials as well as a collection of rough and semi-cut stones from various parts of the world—rhyolite from Nevada, agates from Mexico and Brazil, bloodstone and aventurine from India, quartz and petrified wood, to name a few—also textbooks and manuals, mountings and ultra-violet equipment.

The firm also does cutting and polishing to order on gemstones and turns out custom made jewelry.

MARIN COUNTY business men are once more in the thick of United Crusade work. This year, in addition to the many volunteers on all levels of the campaign, some 30 middle management and junior executives from 22 firms will be loaned for Crusade solicitation. They will work in the commerce and industry division headed by Paul R. Leahy and in the commercial division, of which Mel L. Morse is chairman.

The system has been used for more than 10 years in San Francisco and was adopted here in 1958. The "loaned executives" are released by their firms on company time for a full week of Crusade work, spread over a period of two months.

ASSISTANT vice president Raymond J. Timmerman of the Bank of America and a resident of San Rafael has been graduated from the Graduate School of Credit and Financial Management at Dartmouth College. The executive development course is a program of the Credit Research Foundation, Inc., educational and research division of the National Association of Credit Management.

Timmerman was one of 168 company executives from 30 states who have been attending the Dartmouth College session. He has been with the Bank of America for 11 years.

HOME PLAN Service Co., a business conducted by designers Joe Reinhart and Arthur Mohler, who formerly did their work from their home in Fairfax, have opened up new offices at 46 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo. They were previously in the home planning field in Medford, Ore.

Reinhart and Mohler undertake the full planning of a home from start to finish, even into landscaping.

MRS. JEAN BUSCHING, former manager of Hansell's Employment Agency, now has her own (Jean Busching Agency) at 830 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. . . . The William T. Grant Stores which has an outlet in the Corte Madera Shopipng Center and many others throughout the U.S. gave away 35 college scholarships this year to sons and daughters of its employees. Competition runs keen every year. . . . Paul Pickart, former operator of the Food Mart Liquor Store in San Rafael, hopes to get his new store at 1015 Tamalpais Avenue (Paul's Liquors) open by Sept. 1.

Kentfield School Board Is Meeting

Trustees of the Kentfield School District will consider changing some of the rules and regulations concerning the use of school buildings by community organizations at their regular meeting today at 7:45 p.m. in room 4 of Greenbrae School.

The trustees will also receive a report by Supt. Howard C. Harmon concerning plans for the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and construction of a pedestrian overpass for children in the district.

Harmon will also report on the possible effects the expansion of College of Marin may have on the A. E. Kent School.

Information For Ex-Servicemen

Recently released armed forces personnel may contact the Marin Veterans Service office to find out their rights and requirements, W. P. Duhamel, veterans service officer, noted today.

The local draft board must be notified within five days of release from active duty, Duhamel said. Reinstatement in a serviceman's previous job is a legal right in most cases, he said, or the former serviceman probably can receive unemployment compensation. The office is at 519 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Parents Invited To Sausalito School Meeting

Parents are invited to schools in the Sausalito School District in a series of meetings starting Sept. 13 to obtain information on the district's new grading procedure.

The system, adopted by the board of trustees in May, standardizes grading procedure. District Supt. Marcus F. Davis said that it demands the child "achieve his grade rather than get it a gift."

He added that the district's policy is to emphasize academic achievement in all grades over and above anything that has been done in the past.

It will be required, Davis said, that each pupil maintain minimum grade standards in order to obtain a passing mark in a skill subject such as reading, arithmetic, geigraphy, English and history.

Meetings, to acquaint parents with the standards for pupils to receive a passing grade, will be held Sept. 13 at Bayside; Sept. 20, Richardson Bay; Sept. 26, Central; and Sept. 27, Manzanita. Hours are 7 to 9 p.m.

Marin City Man Jailed For Stabbing

Walter Lee of Marin City was jailed Saturday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after Ennis Bowie, 43, of 9 Cole Drive, Marin City, identified Lee as having stabbed him Friday night with a four-inch knife.

Lee, 46, a laborer, was found at 4 p.m. Saturday near Building A-15 in Marin City by a sheriff's deputy. Lee denied the stabbing but Bowie identified Lee as his assailant.

Bowie was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a chest wound.

He is a new I-J newspaper carrier. He told the 75 mothers, fathers and children present that "this is just what I need for my paper route."

Winner of the girl's bike was Evelyn Scholz, aged 11, 405 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera. She is a seventh grade student at the Neil Cummins School.

During this next week children may register with a parent at the Center's stores, and two free bikes will be given away at 10:30 a.m. Saturday morning.

Museum Starts Big Display Of Shells

The collection, gathered during the past 50 years by Jack Wooster of San Rafael, was donated to the museum by Wooster in memory of his mother, the late Sarah B. Wooster.

Because of its size, the collection will be shown in five exhibits. A new phase of the collection will go on display every second week until the entire collection has been seen.

The shells range in size from large helmet shells weighing several pounds to tooth shells weighing a fraction of an ounce. Included in the display are cone, cowrie and olive shells as well as 200 Japanese pecten shells and a horned shell from the Gulf of California.

Wooster, who has lived in the Orient, made several trips around the world collecting the shells commercially. During World War II he served as a captain with the Phillipine guerillas on the island of Negros.

The museum at 76 Albert Park Lane in San Rafael is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Petty Thievery Strikes Marin Over Weekend

Coins Stolen, Compass, Battery Taken From Boats

Marin County was hit by a wave of petty thefts over the weekend, ranging from thefts of coins from "kiddie rides" to thefts from boats and drive-in restaurants.

William D. Muggenthaler of Commodore Yacht Sales at 557 Francisco Boulevard reported to San Rafael police that two fire extinguishers, a compass and a battery were removed Saturday night from four boats. Muggenthaler said entry to the harbor must have been by boat as "fresh mud was found on the floats." He figured the loss at $105.

DIDN'T PAY

Kristina Laursen, car hop at King Cotton, 831 Francisco Boulevard, told police that at 4:50 p.m. yesterday five juveniles, clad in bathing suits, drove off without paying their $11.19 bill. On top of that they took a steering wheel tray, plates and salt and pepper shakers worth $15.95.

Money was taken from coin boxes of "kiddie rides" at Terra Linda and in San Rafael. Richard Beedle told police that two such concessions were forced open Saturday night at Purity Store in Terra Linda. In addition, padlocks of five newspaper racks nearby were removed and coins taken. David L. Harshbarger reported that kiddie rides on the sidewalk at Thrifty Drug Store, 471 Third Street, were forced open and coins removed. Lost was $10, he estimated.

MONEY TAKEN

In Tamalpais Valley, Woodley B. Smith reported to the sheriff's office that $11 in 50-cent pieces was taken from his self-service laundry at 265 Shoreline Highway between Friday and Saturday. Paul Lewellyn of 204 McCallister Street, Kentfield, reported that $20 in change was taken from his soft drink machine Saturday night.

Two soft drink machines were also forced open Saturday night in San Rafael, officers reported, one at Union Oil Co. at 929 Del Presidio Boulevard and another at 949 Del Presidio Boulevard. Amount of losses was unknown.

Katanga Capital Is Taken Over By U.N. Troops

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—U.N. troops put Elisabethville under a virtual state of siege and arrested various foreigners today in a move apparently aimed at swinging secessionist Katanga province into the Congo government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Amored cars patrolled the streets.

U.N. detachments seized several key points in President Moise Tshombe's capital, took over the airport to assure the safe arrival of reinforcements and launched a roundup of white officers, chiefly Belgian, in the Katanga army.

There were some minor clashes and a scattering of gunshots, but a U.N. representative said nobody was hit.

In Leopoldville, a U.N. spokesman said the operation was intended to remove all 500 foreign officers from Katanga's army and added: "The operation is going ahead smoothly without opposition and with the full cooperation of the Katanga gendarmerie and police."

He reiterated previous denials that the U.N. intended to disarm the entire Katanga army.

The massive show of strength came only 48 hours after Adoula, whose Leopoldville regime is supported by the United Nations, proclaimed determination to rid this copper-rich province of all foreign civilian, financial and military interests. His chief targets are Belgians, who developed Katanga's mineral, industrial and agricultural resources while the Congo was a Belgian colony and still have millions of dollars invested in its resources.

Indian Brig. Singappa Raja, commander of the U.N. task force, reported the arrest before noon of 68 of the 512 Europeans serving the Katanga regime in various capacities. About 300 of the white men on the Katanga payrolls are officers of the army — Belgian, French, British, Italian and South African.

There was no interference with press dispatches to foreign cities, but other communication with the outside world was halted.

The U.N. troops put Godefrois Munongo, Katanga's strong man and minister of interior under house arrest by surrounding his residence, but Tshombe drove through the U.N. cordon later and left with Munongo. Tshombe escorted him to his own residence.

Tshombe, to wild acclaim, toured part of the city and asked all to work and remain calm.

Moving swiftly, Swedish and Indian forces occupied the telephone exchange, Elisabethville airport and other key points.

U.N. spokesman Michel Tombelaine said his organization acted to preserve internal security after Congo President Joseph Kasavubu called on it to get rid of some 300 foreign officers serving in the seccessionist province's army in defiance of a long-standing U.N. Security Council resolution.

Accused Saboteur's Wife Found Dead

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Minnie Brous, wife of accused saboteur Bernard Brous, who is charged with blowing up micro-wave stations in Nevada and Utah, was found dead in a hotel room today, police said, an apparent suicide.

Repair Under Way On Lincoln Avenue

The job of putting San Rafael's Lincoln Avenue back into use as a two-way street began today.

Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, under contract with the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, began filling the gaping hole in Lincoln Avenue caused by cave-in of the railroad's Puerto Suello tunnel in a fire started by two boys on July 20. Filling the hole up to road grade is expected to take about two weeks.

Meantime, Mayor John F. McInnis reported that Northwestern Pacific, California Division of Highways and Bay Area Rapid Transit District have all agreed to have engineers present at a meeting at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the county courthouse to discuss the situation arising from the tunnel cave-in.

McInnis said he had also invited the California Public Utilities Commission to be represented, but as yet had no reply.

The mayor reported also he had written George W. Morrison, general manager of Northwestern Pacific, emphasizing that the city's agreement for filling the cave-in hole to restore traffic on Lincoln Avenue was not to be taken as an indication of approval of the railroad's plan to abandon the tunnel. It is regarded merely as a temporary measure to put the street in use, he informed Morrison. The railroad has petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the line.

Vandalism at the apartment house at 1687 Lincoln Avenue, which was burned during the tunnel fire, was reported over the weekend by police. Eighteen window panes are broken in the building, owned by Rudolph Schwarzer of Sonoma, police reported. However, some of them may have cracked in the fire, officers said.

Three boys seen throwing rocks in the neighborhood were questioned by police Saturday, but denied breaking any windows.

Youth Center Aide Testifies At Death Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 16-year-old boy's story that he and three other youths went "queer-hunting" and beat up a school teacher was introduced into evidence at the street car murder trial here today over defense objections.

Four boys, Larry Magee and Michael Kilkenny, both 16, and William Castillo and Robert Hall, both 17 are charged with the murder of William P. Hall, 26, who was run over by a street car. Hall taught at Ross School.

The youths are accused of beating Hall until he was unconscious, robbing him and leaving him on street car tracks.

YOUTH CENTER

Carol Pebbles, an attendant at the San Francisco Youth Center, testified that Magee gave him a statement over a period of three days.

Pebbles quoted Magee as saying he became intoxicated on six quarts of stolen beer, met Kilkenny at a youth dance, and at Kilkenny's suggestion went "queer hunting" in Dolores Park, accompanied by Kilkenny and Robert Hall.

Magee was quoted as saying they saw William Hall at the street car platform at the edge of the park and that Robert Hall asked the teacher "are you a queer?"

ASKS QUESTION

"What if I asked you that question," Magee said the teacher countered. At that, Magee was quoted as saying that he became so agitated he pushed William Hall and the others thought this was a signal to beat up the teacher. He said they all started for the man and that just then Castillo, who had been watching from a bank above the platform, jumped down on the teacher's head, knocking him down and then stomping on him. Pebbles concluded that Magee said they left the teacher lying unconscious on the pavement but not on the street car tracks, after taking his wallet and splitting $2.25 four ways.

A-Ban Plan Again Hit By Moscow

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today rejected two new American proposals aimed at speeding a treaty banning all nuclear weapons tests.

Chief Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin called unacceptable today's U.S. proposals dealing with banning small power nuclear tests and said they would only amount to espionage.

American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean, who put forward the proposals at today's 337th session of the three-power talks, said he had acted at President John F. Kennedy's instructions to try to make the Soviet Union understand a reasonable test ban treaty would be in its interest.

Unfortunately, the Soviet Union immediately and out of hand rejected these proposals, Dean said.

Division Of Berlin Opposed By Nehru

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today he is opposed to the division of Berlin.

He told parliament the major world powers should forget the "legal niceties" of the Berlin and German problems and arrived at a peaceful settlement on the basis of existing facts.

He said he thought they would be able to avoid a war over Berlin.

WEST WILL DEMAND TALKS, BONN SAYS

Foreign Minister Says West Powers To Ask For Parley On Berlin, Germany

BONN (UPI)—East-West talks on Berlin and Germany will be demanded by the three Western powers in notes to the Soviet Union within the next three days, West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano said today.

The West envisages talks on the foreign minister level, Brentano said, between the four powers which occupied Germany after World War II—the United States, Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia.

The basis for the talks is a discussion "not only of Berlin, but of the German problem as a whole, including reunification," Brentano said.

"The West demands these talks to convince the kremlin once and for all that there are certain, unalterable borders beyond which the West won't retreat."

The foreign minister admitted that it depends upon Moscow's reaction whether the talks will pave the way for further negotiations or whether they merely delineate the positions.

The Big Three western powers feel obligated to carry on the East-West talks, as they may be the basis for a decision between war or peace, Brentano stated.

"No responsible western statesman wants later on to hear the charge that a necessarily bloody war broke out because Moscow was permitted to miscalculate western determination."

Councilman Injured In Boat Wreck

Howard Sievers, Sausalito city councilman and Bechtel Corp. engineer, was at work today with a taped-up chest after fracturing four ribs in a boating accident yesterday afternoon.

Sievers, who lives at 92 Central Avenue, was in the cabin of the 26-foot boat of Col. Brookner W. Brady of 47 Miller Avenue, Sausalito, when it and another boat sideswiped in the bay east of Angel Island. The collision threw Sievers against something in the cabin, fracturing his ribs.

Brady said there were three aboard the boat but only Sievers was injured. He said he did not get the name of the skipper of the second boat. Both were trying to avoid a collision, he said, and "someone zigged when he should have zagged." Damage to the Brady boat was minor.

Khrushchev Is Reported Ready To Talk

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has said Russia was "ready at any moment" to meet with Western leaders to negotiate a Berlin settlement.

Khrushchev made the statement in an interview with columnist Drew Pearson released last night.

The solution of the German question "permits no delay," the Russian leader said, and said the Russian government is ready to guarantee a "free city" status for West Berlin.

Later, West German foreign experts in Bonn said Khrushchev's remarks were a Soviet psychological weapon aimed at public opinion in the United States and in neutral countries.

Khrushchev repeated his previous proposals to sign a unilateral peace treaty with East Germany, warning that such action would officially end Western access rights to Berlin. Access to the isolated city, stemming from Allied treaties agreed on at the end of World War II, would have to be re-negotiated with the East German government, which the United States does not recognize.

Strawberry Fill Proposal Is Protested

About a half dozen protests have been received by the Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco to the proposal by Samuel R. Neider to fill the channel between Harbor Island and the Strawberry Peninsula.

Neider is subdividing land on the peninsula. Engineers' officials reported that the application for the causeway to link the northern end of the island and the east side of the peninsula may be denied because of the protests.

The decision will be made by higher Corps of Engineers authorities. Some of the protestors have said that the fill would make navigation more hazardous as boats could not use the inside channel but would have to go around the island.

Neider's proposal to dredge a channel 80 feet wide and up to eight feet deep from the south end of the Salt Works Canal to the turning basin at the upper end of Marinship Channel has been approved by engineers. No protests were lodged. Dredged material will be used for tide lots at Strawberry Point.

E. Germany Asks Voice In Parley

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communists today demanded a voice in any East-West talks on Germany and said the subject of such talks could only be the conclusion of a peace treaty.

Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Communist party, said in a front-page editorial: "It should be clear that negotiations about the German problems without the East German Democratic Republic are unthinkable."

The editorial said it should be clear now to everybody — after the slamming down of the Iron Curtain through Berlin— that East-West talks are inevitable.

Algeria Shakeup

The naming of Ben Youssef ben Khadda, 41, yesterday to replace Abbas, 62, was expected to mean intensification of the seven-year-old struggle with France and to bring the rebel regime closer to the Soviet bloc.

Named as foreign minister in the reshuffle was Saad Dahleb, 42, who took part in the unsuccessful peace talks with France. Balkacem Krim, veteran revolutionary and leading exponent of the tough line, was kept on as deputy premier and interior minister.

The government's Tunis headquarters announced the shakeup in a communique which said Ben Khedda would go as premier to Cairo for a meeting of chiefs of state of the Casablanca group of African countries, then head Algeria's delegation to the conference of nonaligned countries at Belgrade beginning Friday.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Songwriter Gladys Reinhardt, coauthor of the hit song "White Silver Sands," and her son were shot and killed by a rejected suitor yesterday. Police said ex-marine Claude Carl Evelyne, 36, apparently went berserk after Mrs. Reinhardt, 41, refused to marry him. Evelyne broke into the Reinhardt home Saturday night, shot the woman, and her son, Newton Lamar Clark, 16, who was trying to protect her, and then fired a fatal load of deershot into his own chest.

Brazil Rulers Fear 'Rebel' Capital Buildup

BRASILIA (UPI) — Warships loaded with troops were reported heading toward the potential "rebel" capital of Porto Alegre, heightening tension in the Brazilian crisis caused by the resignation of President Janio Quadros.

The British-built aircraft carrier Minas Gerais sailed yesterday from Rio de Janeiro, accompanied by the U.S.-built light cruiser Tamandare and an unidentified destroyer.

The Navy refused to say where the ships were headed, but unconfirmed reports said they were on the way to Porto Alegre, stronghold of Vice President Joao (Jango) Goulart, the extreme leftist the army is determined to bar from the presidency.

NO PLANES

The Minas Gerais carried no planes, and the reports said the 13,190-ton vessel had troops aboard.

Goulart paused in Paris yesterday on his way home from a tour of Red China. Brazilian sources in the French capital said he had "suspended his decision" as to whether to go to Brazil.

War Minister Odilio Denys, the de facto ruler of the country, had been quoted as threatening to jail Goulart the moment he stepped onto Brazilian soil.

In Porto Alegre, however, Leonel Brizola, Goulart's brother-in-law and governor of Rio Grande Do Sul state, said the vice president had told him by telephone that he would return to assume the presidency.

SAND-BAGGED

Brizola broadcast his statement from his official residence, which had been sandbagged and surrounded by armed guards.

Federal authorities closed two Porto Alegre radio stations yesterday for broadcasting pro-Goulart statements. Brizola moved the transmitter of a third radio station into his embattled headquarters "to correctly inform the public."

Congress was to meet here today, after a night of top-level talks among civilian and military leaders, and the government is expected to ask it to approve a constitutional amendment designed to exclude Goulart from the presidency.

The draft amendment which acting president Ranieri Mazzilli was expected to send to the senate would empower congress to declare the presidency vacant and to elect a new president within 60 days.

UAW Threatening Strike This Week

DETROIT (AP) — Armed with a profit-sharing settlement at American Motors and with strike authorization, the United Auto Workers Union applied home-stretch pressure today on General Motors, Ford and Chrysler for new contracts.

Unless something gives by Thursday midnight, when current three-year contracts run out, UAW President Walter P. Reuther says there will be a strike against one of the Big Three. Workers have rolled up overwhelming majorities to back up demands with walkouts, if necessary.

Reuther said there still is time for agreement "if there is good will on both sides." He pointed out the AMC-UAW pact was put together between Tuesday and Saturday.

Reuther says the new American Motors agreement "ought to lay the basis for economic settlement" with other automakers, but if any of the Big Three knows a better way "to answer pressing human needs" he's willing to follow that route.

The Big Three have said they have no intention of following a profit sharing path. They insist production workers have shared in industry progress over the years through wage increases that have brought the average wage to $2.80 hourly and added fringe benefits worth 35 to 40 cents hourly. They have offered wage raising packages that the union has rejected.

UAW Vice President Norman Matthews raised a strike threat Sunday against Chrysler, a money-loser in this year's first half. He said he would ask the UAW's International Executive Board tomorrow for authority to call a Chrysler walkout at midnight Thursday if no agreement is reached by that time.

Directors of the union's GM and Ford departments previously had said they would do the same. A grant of strike authority, however does not necessarily mean that it will be used.

Union practice is to strike one company, win a contract there and then demand that the others meet or beat it or be shut down.

Actress Gail Russell Dies—Bottle At Side

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Gail Russell, 36, who a year ago said "I'm an alcoholic" but declared she had put drinking behind her, died with an empty vodka bottle by her side.

The brunette beauty was found dead on the floor of her West Los Angeles apartment late Saturday night by two women neighbors.

There were other empty liquor bottles throughout her four-room, $130-a-month quarters.

Police said Miss Russell's death apparently was from natural causes. They said she had been hospitalized in recent years with a serious liver ailment.

An 18-year-old coed at Santa Monica High School, discovered by a Paramount talent scout, election by exhibitors and critics in 1947 as "Star of Tomorrow," stardom in pictures like "Lady in the Dark" and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," four years' marriage to star Guy Madison—these were some of her life's highlights.

The low points were a series of drunken driving arrests in the 1950s. In 1957 she lost her driver's license when her new white convertible smashed through the front of a coffee shop and hurt a janitor.

The judge fined her $420 and put her on three years' probation. She vowed never to drink again.

Explaining a year ago how she had stopped drinking, Miss Russell said: "I'm an alcoholic. You don't get over alcoholism. You just don't drink."

Madison said in divorcing her in 1954 that she refused to have servants in the home and discouraged visitors.

Recreation Club Files Incorporation Articles

The Loma Verde Recreation Club, to be established in Ignacio at a site yet to be chosen, for adults and children, has filed articles of incorporation in Sacramento, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan has announced.

The club listed as its directors Carl T. Dubose, 45 Alameda de la Loma, John E. Frederick, 330 Calle de la Mesa, and Abe N. Granish, 412 Alameda de la Loma, all of Ignacio.

Juvenile Crime In Suburbia Held Increasing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Juvenile crime is moving to the suburbs, according to the Senate judiciary subcommittee.

The committee said in its annual report last night that juvenile delinquency has continued to increase, but "the same cannot be said about our facilities for dealing with it."

Although big cities still produce most of the delinquency cases, the report said, the 1959 increase was attributable to suburban and rural areas, while court referrals in large city areas slightly decreased.

WHITE-COLLAR CLASSES

"This trend to the suburbs in juvenile crime is a clear indication that the increase is largely among children of the so-called white collar classes," the report said.

Juvenile courts are overcrowded and shorthanded, and so are the institutions where the courts send juvenile offenders.

"Probation casework, which can be considered the most important court service of all, is sadly understaffed with probation officers receiving salaries lower than even those of schoolteachers," the subcommittee reported.

Chairman Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.), said in an accompanying report that legislation dealing with narcotics offenders should be changed. The report said 75 per cent of federal law enforcement agents questioned recommeded changes in the 1956 narcotics control law.

MORE NARCOTICS

The report also noted an "unofficial report that the Federal Bureau of Narcotics seized more contraband narcotic drugs in the year 1960 than the total of the previous years combined."

The subcommittee renewed its plea for general juvenile delinquency legislation to provide federal aid for special anti-delinquency projects and to help train people to fight delinquency.

Hoffa Foe Claims Victory In Rebellious Union Move

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — James T. Luken, leader of a Cincinnati rebellion of 4,000 Teamster members, claimed victory today in a showdown battle to sever ties with James R. Hoffa's powerful Teamster international.

The two rivals met in a face-to-face discussion of the issues during a 30-minute news conference here yesterday. Later Hoffa spoke to a rally of between 1,500 to 1,600 persons at Music Hall and Luken talked on a half-hour television program sponsored by the four disaffiliating unions.

Luken was jubilant over the attendance at Hoffa's highly publicized speech here last night. The 3,800-seat auditorium was less than half filled, although Hoffa termed it "a fine turnout."

On the platform with the Teamster president were about a dozen international officials and a 12-piece band. The crowd listened intently and applauded when the fiery union leader hammered home his points.

The Guildford Cathedral, begun in 1936, is the first Anglican cathedral to be built on a new site in the Surrey area of England since the Middle Ages.

Macmillan Stirs Press With Berlin Comment

LONDON (AP) — Britain's morning newspapers still boiled today at Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's golf course dismissal of Berlin crisis as something "got up by the press."

The editor's ire was little mollified by a news conference yesterday at which Macmillan said the Berlin situation is "serious and there is a danger arising from rash and provocative actions such as have recently been taken in East Berlin."

Macmillan said he and Lord Home, his foreign secretary, believe that East-West negotiations on Berlin and Germany should take place but to be effective, "these must be held in right atmosphere and at the right time."

Macmillan threw out the remark that aroused the editors during an impromptu chat with newsmen on the 18th hole at Gleneagles, the Scottish resort where the prime minister is on vacation.

To a question about Berlin he replied: "I think it is all got up by the press. Nobody is going to fight about it."

"Is Mr. Macmillan living in the same world as other people?" the pro-labor Daily Mirror asked.

The laborite Daily Herald said Macmillan was right in refusing to be an alarmist but added:

"Coolness is no substitute for leadership. What is now needed is a positive move to bring about negotiations with the Russians."

Aid, Education Measures Due Some Rough Sledding

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy got discouraging news today about prospects for his foreign aid and education programs in congressional showdowns this week.

Democratic strategists have given up hope of salvaging Treasury-borrowing authority the president has sought to finance a five-year development loan program.

They privately agreed with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois who forecast a compromise on a three-year authorization under which the president will have to come back to Congress each year for the actual funds needed to carry on long-range projects.

Democratic leaders plan a parliamentary maneuver Wednesday to attempt to bring before the House a 325-million-dollar school construction bill. If they are stalled in that effort, as seems likely, they will have to find some other way to try to meet Kenedy's repeated requests for action on the issue this session.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference aimed a body blow at the pared-down measure over the weekend. Its education director, Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, called the measure discriminatory because it carries money for public school construction but does not provide aid for parochial and private schools.

San Quentin's Art Show Is Big Business

Art is big business at San Quentin.

It's so big that more than $12,000 worth of paintings, sketches, sculptures and craft objects were sold during the prison's annual two-day arts and crafts show Saturday and yesterday.

It's so big that visitors queued up for a city block to get into the show during the closing hours yesterday. Cars parked along both sides of the San Quentin turnoff from Highway 17 (many of them getting ticketed for illegal parking) because of delays in reaching the prison parking lots. About 8,300 were checked through the doors of the recreation building where the show was held—and the crush was so great that many just walked in without signing.

NEEDED MORE

So many paintings and sketches were sold on opening day, reported G. E. Schmid, the prison's arts and crafts teacher, that "we had to canvass the cell blocks Saturday night for more paintings because the display walls were so bare."

(Several inmates who had entered the maximum of 50 entries had sell-outs.)

Saturday, said Schmid, "we sold over $3,000 worth of items during the first hour. We had to let people in at 8:30 a.m. instead of 9 because traffic congestion had backed up clear to the Richmond highway." He said 4,300 people attended Saturday, about 4,000 yesterday.

People came from almost every state, from Australia, Germany, Denmark, England, Scotland and Mexico.

INTO ACCOUNT

It was the prison's fourth art show. Last year it drew more than 9,000, but sales were at $8,500. Eighty per cent of the money goes to the artist's current account (on which he can draw $15 a month), 10 per cent to a prison welfare fund and 10 per cent to a savings account for the artist.

The artist to receive the most prizes was inmate Joe Calderon, who won the "best of show" in art and first prize in wood. Ron Maurer won "best of show" plus first, second and third prize in leather. Mike Meehan won first prize in metal tooling and Jim O'Neal first, second, third and honorable mention in miscellaneous crafts. A. E. H. Allen won "best in show" in crafts and first in metal jewelry.

Among the paintings still hanging when the show closed was a sketch of Caryl Chessman before a background of the gas chamber where he died. Nobody bought it.

Russ Embassy Hasn't Heard From Ohioan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Russian Embassy said today it has heard no word from Lloyd M. Hatch of Akron, Ohio, who said he was dissatisfied with the United States and wanted to talk with embassy officials about moving to the Soviet Union.

Hatch arrived in Washington Saturday with his wife, six children and a dog in a green 1960 model car but did not get in touch with the Russians before the embassy closed for the weekend.

The 36-year-old ex-Marine first appeared at the White House Saturday, saying he wanted to talk with the president about "a matter of internal security."

OFF FOR WEEKEND

Secret Service agents advised him that President John F. Kennedy was in Hyannis Port, Mass., for the weekend and referred him to the FBI.

While his wife, children and dog waited in the car, Hatch told the FBI he was concerned about the future of the United States because he had received numerous letters expressing discontent with living conditions.

He informed the FBI the letters started coming when he first announced he planned to take his family to Russia for a new life.

After his talk with the FBI agents, Hatch climbed back into his car and drove off. His whereabouts after that were uncertain.

The FBI said it did not know where Hatch was going. Earlier he has said he would contact the Russian Embassy as soon as he arrived.

But a Soviet spokesman said the embassy had not heard from Hatch after it opened this morning and "so far as we know, he is not even in town."

NO WORD

"We only know what we have seen in the newspapers," he added.

The offices of Ohio's senators and congressmen said they had received no word from Hatch during the weekend.

In his discussion with the FBI, Hatch said the idea of going to Russia was not his own. He said it had been suggested to him by a friend in Akron but he felt he had become committed to it.

"A friend of mine called the Russian embassy," he said earlier. "He talked with a clerk. The clerk asked a lot of questions and wanted me to come there."

Marin Couple Celebrate 50 Married Years

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Day, parents of Independent-Journal associate editor Chapin A. Day, celebrated their Golden Wedding at a surprise reception yesterday at the Sausalito Women's Club.

On the actual day of the anniversary, Aug. 23, the couple was honored at a family dinner at Sabella's Restaurant attended by their two sons, the other being Harold C. Day Jr., of Moscow Ida., and their families, Mrs. Hugh Conine, Mrs. Day's sister-in-law of Manitowac, Wis; and Virginia Minogue, daughter of Mrs. Conine.

Attending yesterday's reception were members of the family and many friends.

Mrs. Day was Ruth A. Minogue prior to their wedding in 1911 at Newago, Mich. Immediately after the wedding, the couple came to Brigham City, Utah, where Day and his father were constructing a cement plant.

When the plant burned in 1931, Day became a building inspector for the State of Utah and the city of Odgen.

In 1933 he went to Alaska where he was a civil engineer with the Army Engineers. His wife joined him there but was evacuated during World War II, at the close of which she rejoined her husband.

The year after the war ended, they moved to Tracy where he was building inspector for the State Department of Architecture. There he worked on the Duell Vocational Institute.

In 1956 he retired from state service and the couple moved to Marin County where they have lived since at 512 Via Hidalgo in Greenbrae.

Navy Pilot Dies, Scores Hurt As Jet Crashes Store

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP)—A jet plane coming in for a landing at the Willow Grove naval air station yesterday crashed through the roof of a department store a half-mile from the runway. The pilot was killed and between 30 and 35 persons injured.

Navy authorities launched an investigation into the cause of the crash which killed Lt. Cmdr. Robert Haven, 36, of Columbus, Ohio, a reservist described as a "veteran with 4,000 flying hours and the best pilot in his squadron."

Officials said there were 75 to 100 shoppers and 30 to 40 employees in the discount store operated by a chain known as Bargain City, U.S.A. Less than one-fourth of the departments were open, due to Pennsylvania's blue laws which permit only sales of certain essential merchandise on Sundays.

An eyewitness said that after the plane crashed there appeared to be panic as persons inside the store tried to get out.

"It was very quiet," said Peggy Gotwolz, 23, of Hatboro, Pa., "then all of a sudden this crash. There was glass falling. I did not even see the plane. When I saw everyone running I picked up my child and started to run, too. It seemed like everyone was for himself."

Douglas B. Oliver, 19, of 178 Humboldt Street, San Rafael, was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital after suffering a mild head concussion early yesterday in a car accident.

Marin Longshoreman's Friend Tells Of Visit To Red Germany

A different view of East Berlin is given in a letter received by Bruce B. (Ben) Jones, longshoreman of 303 Live Oak Drive, Mill Valley.

This letter, written Aug. 15, is from a fellow longshoreman, Walter Schuetrum of El Granada, San Mateo County. Schuetrum went to East Germany several months ago for a reunion of veterans of the Loyalist side in the Spanish Civil War, in which he fought with the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. He is still there.

Schuetrum wrote that he was aboard a train headed for West Berlin that was stopped when the Deutsch Democratic Republic (East Germany) "sealed" the border between East and West Berlin.

"Sometime around 1:30 a.m. of the 13th of Aug. I was riding the elevated to Friedrichstrasse which is the final stop before West Berlin," he wrote. "The train was delayed about one hour before entering the station platform. There everyone was told that the train was going no further. Along with those of us who were getting off were many West Berliners returning to their sector after a night on the town. No one really suspected anything other than a possible wreck on the tracks ahead. But later that same morning the chap in charge of international affairs for the Transport Workers Union met us at breakfast. He acquainted us with the newly released statement of the Warsaw Pact nations together with the new regulations adopted by the D.D.R. in response to that statement."

Closing of the border has not meant that no one is going back and forth between East and West Berlin, however, Schuetrum wrote.

Says his letter:

"All traffic to and from East Berlin is normal and this step does not interfere at all with agreements with the occupation nations. All westerners must show proper identification (nothing as difficult as normal passage from the U.S. into Canada and reverse) and with proving legitimate intentions, freedom of movement is guaranteed. But the East Berliner cannot go to the West to work. He must now decide on which side of the fence he stands. . . .

"About 15 hours after the border closed, I went to Brandenburg Gate to find that cars and people were flowing back and forth but now proper identification had to be supplied. . . . However, I did hear that on the 14th a provocative incident occurred at the Brandenburg Gate and as a result it was closed. But that still left 12 check points still open.

"Armed Workers Militia are to be seen, tanks and armored cars stand ready on the side streets. . . . The people are calm and the overwhelming majority of East Berliners enthusiastically favor these measures."

Accident Can Trigger Mental Illness

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

About 16 million Americans of all ages and occupations suffer from some recognizable form of mental illness, according to the United Nations World Health Organization.

This figure is surprisingly large . . . but so is the modern concept of mental illness. Psychologists, psychiatrists and experts in all the healing arts agree that mental illness can be caused or aggravated by physical force, just as physical disease may be triggered by strong emotion, excessive worry, or unfavorable environment.

Mental disorders often can be traced back to an accident of a childhood fall which has disturbed the all-embracing and vital nervous system whose headquarters is in the brain.

The science of chiropractic specializes in keeping the nervous system free of interference, and an efficient nervous system is the body's first line of defense against the ravages of physical or mental disease. By means of skillful and painless hand adjustments of the spine the chiropractor often will help nature restore normality to the nerves and the brain.

In time, mental disease symptoms will improve or disappear, just as surely as the symptoms of physical illness are reduced by chiropractic. Records of the effectiveness of Chiropractic care in mental illness are obtainable from Clearview Santarium, Davenport, Iowa, or through your local chiropractor.

Governor Attends Marin Cocktail Party, Hints At Re-Election Move

Almost 500 Democratic leaders and friends gathered at the home of Dr. Harold Kamp, 131 Laurel Grove Avenue, to honor the governor and his wife yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Kamp, a childhood friend of the governor, introduced Brown. "The reason we had this party this year instead of next year is so that you people would not think we were asking you to vote for him," Dr. Kamp joked.

The governor outlined the problems his administration has had to face during his first term.

Among major projects are water supply for the state, the construction of 6,666 new classrooms in the coming year, and care for the aged, Brown said.

"All I ask," the governor concluded. "is that you get the facts, then vote for the man who you feel will make the best governor for the state."

During his informal chats, the governor indicated that San Rafael attorney Samuel W. Gardiner is one of the men being considered for an appellate court judgeship in San Francisco. Others being mentioned include Superior Court Judge Gerald Levin of San Francisco and Dean Robert Kingsley of the University of Southern California Law School.

Traffic Detoured After Milker's Car Hits Pole

A milker from Marshall missed an "S" turn while driving into Point Reyes Station, knocked down a power pole and caused traffic on Shoreline Highway 1 to be detoured for two hours last night and shut electricity off in 25 homes for almost 10 hours.

Oliver suffered a cut on his nose and a "banged up" knee. He told the highway patrol he would see his family physician.

The accident happened at 4:45 p.m. The pole fell across the two-lane highway, blocking it for two hours. Electricity was out in the east part of Point Reyes Station until repairs were completed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at 3 a.m. today.

Traffic was detoured through the west end of Point Reyes Station onto Mesa Road and back onto the highway.

MAN SKIRTS TROUBLE OVER SCOTTISH KILTS

Ira Oliver Harrison of San Francisco — perhaps preparing for the Scottish Gathering of the Clans at Petaluma next Sunday—was wearing kilts when he dropped in at the Clube Moderne at 804 Fourth Street, San Rafael, for a drink yesterday afternoon.

J. R. Bush of San Rafael made a remark about Harrison's attire.

Harrison, according to the report given San Rafael police, knocked Bush off his bar stool. Bush went away, but returned to renew the fisticuffs.

He fared no better the second time. After being treated at San Rafael General Hospital for scalp cuts, he was lodged in the county jail on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Author Marshall Dill Files For Divorce

Author Marshall Dill Jr. of Kentfield, faculty member at Dominican College in San Rafael, filed for divorce Friday, charging his British wife of deserting him 11 years ago.

Dill married Pamela Frankau of London in 1945. She is a novelist. He says she deserted him in May of 1950 after five years of marriage.

Dusty Street Rouses Ire In Corte Madera

Several citizens on Sausalito Street in Corte Madera protested over the weekend that dust from a torn up street in front of their homes was making life unbearable.

But Public Works Supt. Robert L. Bartram said he finds the situation on Sausalito Street no worse than for any other street reconstruction job. Ghilotti Brothers, the contractor, is keeping driveways open and endeavoring to keep dust to a minimum, said Bartram.

Mrs. Andrew Bahr of 204 Sausalito Street, one of the irate residents, said she and several others asked that the street be watered and that it be closed to traffic during the weekend. She declared dust is "choking" thick, and residents are ready to mutiny.

Bartram said he agreed to close the street on weekends if all the residents want it closed. Mrs. Bahr reported nearly everyone on the street want it closed on weekends.

Bartram, however, said he received only three telephone calls as of Saturday asking the street be closed. Since there are about 30 families on the street, said Bartram, he could not act on only three telephone calls.

The city is widening Sausalito Street from Tamalpais to Buena Vista. The job is expected to take another month.

Painter Is Injured Washing Pots

Larry Behrens, 22, of 7 Hillcrest Avenue, Larkspur, a painter for Giampolini and Co. in San Rafael was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a lye burn in his right eye.

Behrens, who was back at work today, was washing paint pots when the accident happened. He was spraying water into the pots which had been soaked in lye when drops of lye splashed into his eye.

"It was a banner day when our son opened a savings account with money he had earned. And our Wells Fargo American Trust manager made it a really big occasion. He presented Jimmy with a passbook and welcomed him as a customer. We could see our boy felt he had a new friend as well as a new account.

"Every child should learn the value of money, and we know our friends at the bank will help Jimmy just as they've always helped us. That's why our savings and checking accounts, our safe deposit box, our home loan are all at Wells Fargo American Trust—our 'family' bank."

Public Needs All The Facts On Rapid Transit On Bridge

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge dragged their feet again Friday and have now practically extinguished the Bay Area Transit District's hopes of getting a bond issue on the June ballot.

We don't condemn the directors for being careful; careful that the bridge is strong enough to hold rapid transit; careful that neither the span's looks nor efficiency are impaired in any way. We don't want that bridge to fall into the Gate any more than they do.

We don't understand, though, why they want to delay for delay's sake alone.

The problem facing the directors right now isn't whether they should put transit on the bridge. The immediate problem, which they could have easily settled Friday, is whether an engineers' board of review should be asked to study two differing engineering reports and correlate them.

With a report such as Paine's before them, we don't for a minute criticize bridge directors for being wary of rushing into changes in the structure. If we were directors, we'd certainly want more information about why two noted engineers studied the same figures, agreed almost without exception on the facts involved, and then came to diametrically opposite conclusions. You'd think the directors would want more information too.

That's what so strange about the whole affair. The bridge directors are stalling about getting more information. They could have voted Friday on cooperating with the transit district in assigning a review board. Instead they decided to meet again next week, and decide then. Maybe.

What goes on in between? Nothing we know of, except possibly some high powered lobbying. Is that what opponents of transit are trying to do, stall until the plan is lobbied to death?

Perhaps it is. Already they have assured the vote on a bond issue will not take place until a year from next November at the earliest. Perhaps if they can stall some more, they can block its ever coming before the people.

This is not the kind of decision the public deserves to have. Even if the bridge directors don't care to know, the public has a right to get all the information they can on whether that bridge can or cannot carry rapid transit.

We hope the bridge directors stall no longer but vote next week to hire a review board to give us more information.

BURNS DOWN HOUSE TO STOP TV

One evening he went to bed early to catch up on much needed sleep. But the noise of program after program made him toss and turn for hours.

In desperation he decided to prevent further disturbance of his peace. He poured oil over all the furniture and then set it afire. No one was hurt but the house and everything in it, including the television set, went up in flames.

Most of us are tempted to go to extremes when others exasperate us. But this seldom does any more than worsen an already bad situation.

When confronted with what you consider an abuse in your home, at work, at school, or in political life, prove your sincere interest in righting what is wrong by taking constructive steps to alleviate the problem. This is the leas that God expects of us. It is not only the loftiness of your goals that counts, but also the means you use.

Women Are Certainly Wonderful —But Not With Umbrella In Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—There are some problems in life a man just can't do much about. He simply must put up with them.

Hand that same gal a bumbershoot on a rainy day in town, however, and she becomes a rampant traffic menace to male life, limb and property down any street she ambles.

"Please, ma'am, may I have my eyeball back?"

To each of them the lady sternly replies:

"Well, what's it doing on my umbrella in the first place?"

And she pauses to inspect her umbrella to be sure it is undamaged. That's an odd thing about women on rainy days. When they bump into a man and impale him on their umbrella, they automatically assume he is a masher trying to strike up an acquaintance with them the hard way.

No woman—at least none I have ever seen—ever feels it necessary to apologize for stabbing a hole in a man's forehead with her umbrella. Her reasoning:

1. "What if I was on the wrong side of the sidewalk? He should have seen me coming."

2. "What do I care if he doesn't have better sense than to ram his silly face into my umbrella? After all, he isn't my husband."

3. "Anyway, what difference does it make? He's only a man and one more hole in his head won't hurt his looks much."

After more than 40 years of studying the tactics of women umbrella carriers on rainy days, I find they can be grouped into several distinct classes:

The kind that insists on opening their umbrella again before getting off the bus, thus giving everybody within a 15-foot range a free cold shower.

The kind of woman who, if she fails to gore a passing man, hurries around the block so she can have a second try at him.

ONE OF THE odd things about women who carry umbrellas on rainy days is their feminine chivalry. It is noblesse oblige with them never to wing children or another woman. Only men get the point.

Twenty women with their umbrellas wide open could crowd into a telephone booth and emerge unscathed and unscratched.

BUT LET ONE lone solitary man come warily down the avenue and eight out of ten women with umbrellas will manage to jab him in the face, neck, ears or ribs—even if he gets down on his hands and knees and tries desperately to scuttle by on all fours.

Modern Dilemma Of The Railroads

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your recent editorials castigating the NWP for attempting to abandon southern and central Marin, which is then to be served only by a six-lane highway, obtusely dramatize a modern railroading dilemma.

The subsidized "competition" of that same tax-built highway, including the trucks which travels on it, has heavily contributed to the decline of the railroad's business (all of its traffic moving over a roadbed which the railroad must build, maintain and pay taxes on). In this instance, could not the "other side of the coin" be phrased: is the railroad to be required to carry sand and gravel, as a public service, to San Rafael regardless of profit?

Prior to the tunnel collapse, we suspect that an overwhelmingly large proportion of goods traveled by truck over the highway.

Let's Give NWP Incentive To Stay

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

"I'll go along with your editorial of Aug. 23 about fighting to keep NWP rail service in Southern Marin.

But before we get into a big fight, let's consider making it worthwhile for the NWP to stay in Southern Marin.

In any other business if you have a line of goods that doesn't produce revenue, you get rid of it. From my observation of the NWP trackage that will be abandoned, there must be a tremendous maintenance and if their taxes are anything like mine, well I don't blame them for taking the action they did.

Why not give them some incentive to stay? Such as a little reduction in taxes, after all we don't require trucks that use our property in the form of highway right of ways to pay taxes.

Let's contribute a little more on the periodic crossing protection at grade crossing (the NWP pay their share now) that are necessary because of increased public vehicular use.

Let's indicate to the NWP that we will start an aggressive industrial program to induce rail shippers to locate on their lines; let's control property zoning a little better and not allow housing tracts to build right up to the railroad's right of way.

Let's participate in some public team tracks so we may induce shippers that do not have their own spur track to use rail service.

It's going to cost us a lot of money to widen 101 to handle the increased truck traffic because of this abandonment.

I would imagine that the NWP has paid this county plenty in real estate taxes over the period of time they have operated here. It is a shame to lose this revenue, even if we reduce it.

It will be too bad to lose the industries that will be forced to leave because of the economies of rail shipment.

It will be a shame to lose the potential industries that will not locate in Marin because of lack of economical rail rates.

It's the latter two items we need bad to help balance our tax structure.

Let's not fight; let's give a little incentive, a fight will only make the lawyers richer, the taxpayers will suffer and the rail industry will suffer also.

Put Rapid Transit On New Bridge

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re the proposed Rapid Transit on the Golden Gate Bridge:

The only thing that worries me, a worker who has crossed the bridge twice daily for 15 years, and who hopes to continue to do so for the next 15 years, is—will these so-called experts — AND the bridge—let me DOWN? In other words:

Valiant experts, spare a thought
For tired commuter—DUNK ME NOT!

When the bridge was under construction, do you recall the dispute between the late Bailey Willis, Stanford geologist, and the builders? "Earthquake" Willis violently distrusted the type of rock on which the tower was built. So far the rock has held. But let's not add to the bridge burden and prove Bailey Willis correct in his dire predictions!

Marin County is due for a hyper population explosion in the next few years, necessitating another bridge. So let's go after that second bridge NOW, gear it for rapid transit, and forget any questionable add-on to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Oh bury me not in the cool, gray sea
That flows 'neath the Bridge so eerily!
I yearn to LIVE (and pay all my taxes!)
Bridge experts, PLEASE damn well check your factses!

Authors of books intended to make readers laugh spend more time on dedications than do their more serious confreres. Here's the dedication Carl Winston came up with for his titillating "How to Turn a Million Into a Shoestring":

"I should be remiss, indeed, if I failed to acknowledge my indebtedness to the People's Bank of Bridgeport, the Connecticut Light and Power Co., the New England Telephone Co., Sears Roebuck, Casey Fuel, the West Redding Market, the Internal Revenue Department, and another creditor whose name is Morris H. Legion. The total is $17,886.05. Hi, Fellows!"

Two "greats" of the Hollywood scene, Samuel Goldwyn and Otto Preminger—equally irascible when crossed — got into a hassle over the filming of "Porgy and Bess." Preminger quit as director halfway through the picture — which went on to be a hit, anyhow.

Preminger, however, refuses to admit that he was feuding with Mr. G. "How can I be feuding with him," he inquires testily, "when I'm not speaking to him?"

Some Like Sausalito; Some Think It's Ordinary; One Has No Opinion

It was a day of days. Blue sky, air of salt, gulls soaring but there was practically no place to park in central waterfront Sausalito.

Parked right smack in front of us were five big buses with people coming in and out, talking, standing, staring.

Why had all these people come to Sausalito? we asked. What did they want? What were their impressions?

"Pardon me, lady . . ." we said. "What are your first impressions of Sausalito?"

Worried looking, Margaret Jeffers of Baltimore, Md., said, "Well, it was very nice. I enjoyed it." Teen-ager Mary Steffenson, Ottumwa, Iowa, replied: "I like it real well."

"Just another place, in my mind," said C. A. Eldridge of Hagerstown, Md. A plain spoken man, we said.

"IT SEEMS TO be all compact in a few streets," said smooth Anthony de Roma, New York City. "A wonderful view." Then, completely voluntarily, "The park is too small. I noticed a lot of people trying to crowd into that space there." (He pointed to Vina Del Mar Plaza.)

G. Griffen, London, England: "It seems to have a definite artistic tendency." J. L. Nichols, Indianapolis: "I love it. We're coming back tomorrow." H. E. Burcheister, Baltimore, Md.: "I have no opinion."

Gray Line bus driver Al Wylie said his company sends five buses a day to Sausalito with an average of 45 people a bus. "Why, we're one of the best boosters Sausalito has," he added. He said he lives in San Mateo.

THEN WE SPOKE to a buxom, well dressed lady with a female companion.

"Yes, I like Sausalito. Have liked it for some time." We gulped, "Oh, you've been here before?"

"I live here. Came here 15 years ago on a bus." Then we noticed she and her friend were not heading for a bus.

"Yes, she likes it fine," said her companion, laughing. Enough of this foolishness, we said.

THERE IS A MAN, Walt Moehrke (rhymes with turkey), who is a wet nurse for a San Anselmo family of hamsters.

He didn't plan to be a wet nurse. His son, Ricky, 7, has a hamster named Candy and one named Speedy, a boy and girl. His son, Jimmy, 9, has a hamster named Sugar.

They all grew up and on Aug. 15 in the afternoon, about two hours apart, Candy and Sugar each had a litter of 10.

"Three nights later," said Moehrke, "the kids were in bed. I decided to take Candy out to exercise her a bit. She vanished. Searched until 1 a.m. but no luck."

Apprehensive, Moehrke set the cage on the floor, put food in and left the door open. "I found," he said, "she came back each night for three nights, filled up with food and took off again."

Moehrke put Sugar into Candy's cage. She mothered the strange litter. Then back in her own cage, back and forth every three hours, with Sugar nonchalantly mothering all.

Finally Candy was caught and put in her cage. But she would have nothing to do with her family. She built a nest in an opposite corner.

So now Sugar has 20 hamsters all living happily ever after.

THE OTHER DAY Mrs. Jo Schlesinger of Homestead reported to a friend she was delayed because "I discovered two little girls with a big pile of boards building a house in my garden."

She said she walked down the path where the trees were thick and draped down to find the girls working away as busy as anything. She said, "What are you doing?"

"We're putting something here," they replied.

"I said," answered Mrs. Schlesinger, "I don't want anything there."

"They said 'is it yours?'"

"I said, 'Yes'."

"We negotiated back and forth," Mrs. Schlesinger added, "and I found that apparently they hadn't looked behind the trees to see there was a house already on the property. They thought they were in the woods. They gathered up their boards, said they were sorry and went to look for another place."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Once Vibrant Torch Of Freedom Now Only Flashlight In The Fog

BERLIN—You have to see and feel Berlin at first hand to measure the terrible impact—now and for the future—of the Soviet sealing of the border with a wall of concrete and batteries of machine guns.

I have reported that Nikita S. Khrushchev has won by force half of his battle for Berlin and may be willing to try to win the rest of his victory by attrition.

It is too early to say how soon, or how fully, Mr. K will be able to reach his next objective—to reduce West Berlin to a dispirited spot on the map. In all candor, the long-range odds are foreboding.

I DO NOT MEAN that we are going to desert the two-and-a-quarter million West Berliners. We are not. I do not mean that this city will lose its freedom or its right to be ruled by the consent of the governed. I do not suggest that the Allies will yield their rights of physical access. We won't.

But West Berlin is not the city it was two weeks ago when the Communists bolted the frontier, locked East Berlin behind the iron curtain, and threw away the key. The prospect is that it will become, as time goes on, less spirited, less dynamic, less the vibrant and radiant show window it has been in the past.

THE TRUTH is that Khrushchev has won half of his battle without coming near to war. He apparently decided that it was more important to him to deny all access to West Berlin from the east (where he could do it by force without risking war) than to attempt to close West Berlin from the west by risking war.

True, this is only a partial victory, a limited victory. But its full consequences are only now becoming painfully evident to the West.

And the end is not yet.

What does it mean?

It means that the greatest asset West Berlin has been to West Germany, to Western Europe, to the whole free world—that of a resplendent show window in the heart of Communist drabness and dreariness—is almost wholly erased by the ruthless closing of the border.

It is bad enough, personal tragedy enough, that the weary East Berliners who used to find asylum in West Berlin (2,700,000 in 12 years) can do so no more. They are now jailed by their Quisling government. But the flow of refugees was only a small part of the Berlin show window.

THE FAR GREATER part was the fact that some 150,000 East Germans came to the sunlight of West Berlin every day to work, to buy, to play, to read its newspapers, to breathe the atmosphere of freedom, to meet relatives and friends—and to go back to tell their story to those behind the iron curtain.

They can do so no more. West Berlin now has only the radius of a flashlight in the fog.

Trucks Hauling Fill Halted On Property In Larkspur

Adolph A. Tiscornia, San Francisco attorney and owner of property off Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, put a halt today to trucks using part of his property for hauling in fill for the Larkspur Plaza shopping center development.

Tiscornia told Elton Lockridge, partner in W. K. and L. Trucking Co. of San Mateo, he could not use the road parallel to Magnolia Avenue near Doherty Drive to bring in fill. The road formerly held tracks for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. but the tracks have long since been pulled out.

Lockridge agreed to Tiscornia's demands and said the trucks hauling in fill would use the road off of Doherty Drive in the future. Tiscornia said he would allow Lockridge the use of "his road" for one day until Lockridge makes the new road suitable for hauling.

Gains of a point or so were sprinkled throughout steels, electronics, foods and other defensive issues. Profit-taking appeared in a number of key industrials and recent heavy gainers to give the list a generally ragged appearance.

OBITUARIES

Merchant Goulart Succumbs

Funeral services for John B. Goulart, prominent San Rafael businessman who died unexpectedly at his home Saturday night, will be held in Oakland tomorrow.

Goulart, 45, suffered a fatal heart attack at his home, 42 Seaway Avenue, shortly after 11 o'clock, reportedly County Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

A resident of Marin for six years, he owned Goulart's Dress Shops at the Bon Air Shopping Center in Greenbrae and at Fourth and B streets in San Rafael. He also owned the Bon Air Bakery, and recently sold a third dress shop in San Anselmo.

Goulart was president of the Retreaders Equipment Co. and was for 22 years with the Commercial Rubber Co., both in Oakland. For many years he has been a distributor for the Commercial company in California, Navada and Hawaii.

Three years ago he formed and became president of the Retreaders company, and for seven years until 1960, owned three dress shops in Oakland. The Marin dress shops were established about a year ago and are operated by his wife, Mrs. Edith Goulart.

Goulart was born in Massachusetts. At the age of 8 he came to Oakland, and as a teen-ager began work with the Commercial company.

He was a member of the East Oakland Rotary Club and the Oakland Yacht Club.

49ers Strictly Collegiate; It's Time For Hickey To Do Slow Turn

CONNOLLY

Nobody gets too excited over the results of professional football exhibition games except the coaching staff. And it's about time for Coach Red Hickey and his assistants to go into a slow turn.

Sure enough, the San Francisco 49ers finally won their first start in three tries at pre-season head knocking, but it took a 97-yard kickoff return by Abe Woodson to turn back the Minnesota Vikings, 14 to 10. The rest of the game was strictly collegiate in quality.

There was definite improvement in the 49er defensive efforts, and there were flashes of power and even brilliance from the offense on rare occasions. But the glaring weaknesses far outshone the individual performances.

IT IS only human for those 49ers who know they have their jobs cinched not to put out 100 per cent in these no-count games. The salaries don't start until the chips are down, and this is no time to come up with a crippling injury. You can't goof off to the point where relaxation sets in, but the incentive just isn't there.

On the other hand, a little letup here or there can foul up the developing smoothness of both offensive and defensive patterns, and failure can become a habit. This is the bugaboo facing Coach Hickey, and the redhead has just about had it if I read the signs correctly.

The key man in any game has to be the quarterback. And in the Viking game, John Brodie couldn't even find the keyhole. His passing was 'way off with only four completions out of sixteen tries with one interception out of four possibles. This record, against a barely organized team of "veteran castoffs," was uninspired to say the least.

SUBSTITUTE QB Muddy Waters was understandably rusty and was working with rookies for the most part. Bill Kilmer picked up 15 yards in his customary one-shot run situation. If Bill can handle the passing and handoffs, this young man may prove to be the most valuable rookie of the bunch, especially from the "shotgun."

The defense of Hickey's shotgun offense is beginning to take shape. Stack the ends and drop back if a pass attempt develops. The obvious answer to this is a quick thrust through the middle or a quarterback run from what seems to be a pass. And Kilmer fits this pattern better than Brodie or Waters. We shall see.

In the first two exhibitions, the most glaring defensive weakness was centered around the vulnerability of Jerry Mertens. Both the Giants and the Browns moved well in this area. Against the Vikings, Jerry showed great improvement, much to Hickey's relief.

OVER ALL, the 49ers still give the impression of great speed and great potential, both assets being wasted on imperfect performance. There is work to be done, and it is later than you think.

The turning point in 49er destinies for 1961 could come this Friday night at the L.A. Coliseum against the Rams. While the game is an exhibition it is also a traditional contest with great rivalry and pride factors involved. Scouting reports indicate the Rams lacking the elements of greatness again this year and the 49ers will be favored.

If Coach Hickey can handle the Rams with a steamed up ball club he can look forward to a successful year. Should the Rams give the 49ers too much trouble, Hickey may show up on the practice field with the shotgun in his hands instead of in his backfield.

NFL Boss Pleads To Save TV For Fans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of National Football League fans will lose their chance to follow their favorites on television unless Congress acts to modify an antitrust ruling, Commissioner Pete Rozelle testified today.

Moreover, Rozelle said, television income will be sharply cut.

Rozelle's testimony was prepared for the House antitrust subcommittee in support of a bill that would allow the league, and other professional sports organizations like it, to contract with broadcasters for TV rights to league games.

Such a contract was ruled illegal in July by the U.S. District Court in Philadelphia, on the basis of an earlier antitrust decision.

"Thus, the National Football League, alone among existing sports leagues, is singled out for prohibition on joint television contracts," Rozelle told the subcommittee.

Unless the NFL is allowed to negotiate such a contract, Rozelle said, "the immediate result will be television programming for 1962 and all successive football seasons which will deprive many member clubs . . . of all access to television facilities and television income . . . Only those fans in the large metropolitan centers and favored by their geographical locations, such as New York, Los Angeles and Chicago, will be assured of seeing the games of their home team on television."

"I don't think I have to tell this committee what the responses of fans in Green Bay, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Dallas, St. Louis, Detroit and even such cities as San Francisco and Philadelphia will be when they are informed that they will no longer be able to follow the road games of their home teams on television," he said.

Pennant Talk Drowned Out By Tailspin

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—It looked today as if laudatory telegrams from Mayor George Christopher and existence of a guy named Larry Jackson were two things that the San Francisco Giants could do without.

Only last Wednesday, His Honor dispatched a pep wire to the Giants while they were in the middle of that six-game winning streak which had San Franciscans talking about a World Series. But the message was hardly thumbtacked to the clubhouse bulletin board when the Giants did an about face, lost four straight, and now are deeply imbedded in third place, six and a half games behind pace-setting Cincinnati.

Jackson had a hand in the proceedings. The hard-throwing righthander blanked them on three hits yesterday and Ken Boyer hit a three-run homer that gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-0 victory. This is the same Jackson who fired a three-hitter in Candlestick Park Aug. 17 while calcimining the Giants, 2-0.

Yesterday's loss followed an 8-5 pounding at the hands of the Cards on Saturday which saw loser Mike McCormick banged for five hits and four runs while failing to get through the second inning.

Today the club gets a day of rest before invading Milwaukee tomorrow for a two-day joust with the Braves.

Willie McCovey, a revived man with the mace, Willie Mays and John Orsino were the only members of Alvin Dark's troops who could get a hit off Jackson. The Idaho pitcher, now 10-9, didn't allow a man to get on base after Orsino doubled to open the fifth inning.

The loss went to Juan Marichal (13-8) who was in quest of his eighth straight win. The handsome flinger from the Dominican Republic served up the three-run homer to Ken Boyer in the seventh frame. It was Boyer's 20th circuit clout of the season and ran his hitting streak to 10 games.

A double by Joe Cunningham and a single by Bill White gave the Cards a 1-0 lead in the first inning. They tallied again in the second as Alex Grammas singled home Curt Flood who had tripled. Then doubles by Stan Musial and Flood accounted for another Cardinal run in the sixth.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Perry, the all-time workhorse of the National Football League, may prove to be the most valuable piece of property acquired by the dethroned Baltimore Colts in a trading program calculated to return them to the top of the heap.

The league's most productive runner—7,246 yards gained in a record 1,451 carries—broke a 7-7 tie with a one-yard plunge, that started the Colts on their way to a 41-7 posting of the Washington Redskins in an exhibition Saturday night.

Used infrequently last year by the San Francsco 49ers when he picked up only 95 yards in 36 attempts, Perry, 33, was a standout against the Redskins along with two other new Colts—quarterback Lamar McHan and former 49er Dee Mackey.

PACKERS UNBEATEN

The Western Conference champion Green Bay Packers remained at the head of the class with a 24-14 victory over Chicago that brought their record to 3-0. New York whipped Dallas 28-10, San Francisco edged Minnesota 14-10 and Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 24-14 in other games.

The Redskins lone score against the Colts came after Unitas tossed a 50-yard TD pass to Lenny Moore on the first play from scrimmage. Don Bosseller then barreled a yard for the Washington score before Perry took over. The Colts, league champions in 1958 and 1959, are 2-1 in pre-season tilts with the Redskins blanked in three games.

Jim Taylor's second two-yard touchdown plunge in the fourth quarter brought the Packers from behind against the Bears (1-2), and a six-yard scoring aerial from Bart Starr to Paul Hornung put it out of reach. The Bears had built a 14-10 lead on Roger LeClerc's 29-yard ramble with an interception and a 45-yard aerial from Ed Brown to Johnny Morris.

CONERLY CLICKS

Charley Conerly started the Giants (2-0-1) off against the Cowboys (1-2) in the first period with a 37-yard scoring pass to Joe Morrison and New York scored once in every period wtih Alex Webster, Jim Podoley and Phil King picking up TDs on the ground. Dallas' only touchdown came on Don McIlhenny's four-yard burst.

Bobby Layne's 33-yard touchdown toss to Preston Carpenter pulled the Steelers (2-1) out front against the Cardinals (0-2), then Charles Scales scored the clincher in the third period on a four-yard run. The Crads finally unveiled quarterback Sam Etcheverry, who has been sidelined with a sore shoulder. He completed the three passes he attempted.

San Carlos Wins Babe Ruth Title

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP) — The 1961 Babe Ruth Baseball World Series title was claimed by San Carlos, Calif., yesterday when it whipped Englewood, N.J., 9-2.

California pitcher Steve Caria demonstrated the same deadly ability at the plate as on the mound. Center fielder Rick Brown also jumped on the Englewood pitchers, who assisted the Californians in the scoring column by walking 10 San Carlos batters.

It was losing pitcher Willie Hannibal's first loss after three series victories. Hannibal allowed seven hits and eight walks before he was relieved on the mound by shortstop Kip Gaynor.

A three-run homer by Caria and another by New Jersey's Brian Salisbury, his third of the series, highlighted the game's scoring.

Salisbury's long blast brought the 1961 series home run total to 40. Attendance at the 19 games totaled 38,026, breaking the old record of 27,000 set at Austin, Tex., in 1955.

Hebert Captures American Classic In Sudden Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Jay Hebert won the $50,000 American Golf Classic yesterday by defeating Gary Player on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff.

Hebert, the Louisianan playing out of Miami, Fla., did it the hard way in gaining first prize of $9,000. He held a five-stroke lead over Player with nine holes left, blew it and then sank a 20-foot putt on the 18th hole to force a playoff.

Two holes later, he scored a birdie four on the 500-yard par five No. 2 hole to defeat Player, who took second prize of $4,600 to boost his earnings this year to over $60,000, tops among the pros.

49er Showing Leaves Plenty To Be Desired

The San Francisco 49ers went to work on their sputtering shotgun offense today, satisfied that Saturday's 14-10 exhibition victory over the Minnesota Vikings left much to be desired.

The 49ers, with their heralded shotgun attack muzzled most of the way, had to rely on the running of J. D. Smith to pull out the win, their first in three starts, against the new Minnesota club.

San Francisco Coach Red Hickey was unhappy over several aspects of his club's performance at Portland's Multnomah Stadium; quarterbacks John Brodie and Bob Waters completed only four of 19 pass attempts; the Vikings completely bottled up the shotgun offense throughout the first half, and did the same for a good part of the second half; and Monte Stickles, subbing as a kicker for the injured Tommy Davis, missed on three field goal attempts, one of which was from only 16 yards out.

"We certainly didn't look good in spots," Hickey offered. "Maybe they (the Vikings) had something to do with it. I don't know . . . thank goodness we were able to run."

PRO-VIKING CROWD

Playing before a pro Minnesota crowd of 27,044, the Vikings, led by ex-Oregon great George Shaw, started to move the first time they got the ball. Ex-49er Hugh McElhenny gained 33 yards in four carries in a drive that took the Vikings into San Franeisco territory, but the Minnesotans foundered on the 46.

Late in the first quarter, the 49ers penetrated to the Viking 14, then got nowhere. Stickles eventually missed a field goal from the 31. When they got the ball again, the San Franciscans smashed to the Viking eight, then ran up against the stiff Viking defense once more. Stickles missed his second field goal try, this one from the 16.

WOODSON ROMPS

Just before the half, the Vikings made it 3-0 on a field goal from the 28. The 49ers, however, bounced back to make it 7-3 when Abe Woodson took the kick off and went 97 yards to a touchdown with only 13 seconds left, with Stickles converting.

The 49ers scored again in the third quarter when C. R. Roberts went 13 yards around end to climax a 70-yard drive. But the Vikings made it close when Shaw hit A. D. Williams in the end zone with a 12-yard pass early in the fourth period.

The 49ers outgained the Vikings, 337 yards to 253, with Smith contributing 106 of them on 15 carries. McElhenny, although stopped in the second half, led the Minnesota ground game with 35 yards in 11 carries.

Rifle Discharges, Kills A Hunter

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Walter Bell, 42, San Francisco, was killed yesterday as a deer hunter's rifle fired accidentally in their automobile as the car passed through Santa Rosa.

Bell was struck in the heart.

Police said the rifle was being unloaded by Charles Abeyga, 29, San Francisco. He was in the back seat.

They were returning from a hunting trip in Lake County.

The Giants had obtained the Vikings' No. 1 draft selection last year in the deal that sent quarterback George Shaw to the Vikings.

Wensloff, Blum, Anderson, Sapp Star In Tiburon Win

The nifty pitching of Buzz Wensloff and solid batting of Ron Blum, Ken Anderson and Bob Sapp enabled the Tiburon Pelicans to snap a four-game losing streak yesterday in an 8-4 triumph over the Jeffersons of San Francisco.

Wensloff, off to a shaky start when the Jeffs clipped him for four runs on three hits in the first inning, settled down and gave up just two more singles in the remaining eight innings. His five hitter was sprinkled generously with 11 strikeouts.

Blum, with four hits in five at-bats, gave the southern Marin semi-pros the go-ahead runs in the fifth inning when he slammed a bases loaded triple. He had four runs-batted-in for the afternoon. That same fifth inning rally was capped by a solo home run by Anderson. Kenny also had a single and two RBI on the day.

Sapp's productive performance saw him slash a triple and two singles.

The victory in Tiburon's final regular season game gave the Pelicans a 9-7 won-lost record. They will be idle next week, but return for one more outing on Sept. 10 in their annual Old Timers game.

Pennants Flutter In Redleg Dreams

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Who's Freddie Hutchinson trying to kid?

He claims "this thing isn't over yet!"

But with that big grin plastered all over his face and that 3½ game lead his Cincinnati Reds now enjoy, how much would he like to bet? Generally, whenever a manager starts shying away from any premature pennant congratulations, his team already is thinking in terms of the World Series.

And no one could really blame the Reds for thinking that way after they bounced back from two straight beatings at the hands of Los Angeles to sweep a double-header from the Dodgers, 6-5 and 8-3, yesterday before a standing room crowd of 30,195 at Cincinnati.

Naturally, Dodger manager Walt Alston was depressed. But he was in no mood to concede.

"This leaves us in the same spot as when we came into Cincinnati," he said. "We're still even with them in the lost column."

True enough, but the Reds have won seven more games than the Dodgers. That means even if Cincinnati wins only 12 of its remaining 24 games, Los Angeles would have to win 19 of its last 31 merely to gain a tie.

10TH SWEEP

"We've been bouncing back all season long," said the happy Hitchinson after the Reds won their 10th twin-bill of the season. "it was just a case of going out and doing it again."

And the Reds did.

They trailed 5-1 in the opener when Leo Cardenas doubled to start a seventh inning rally that was climaxed by Gene Freese's 23rd homer with two on. Cardenas tripled home Jerry Lynch with the tying run in the eighth and then scampered home with the winning run on Wally Post's pinch double. Jim Brosnan picked up his eighth victory in relief.

Vada Pinson's 15th homer with one on off loser Don Drysdale started the Reds to victory in the first inning of the nightcap. The Reds added a run in the fourth and drove Drysdale to the showers with three more runs in the sixth. Ken Johnson registered his fifth victory with help from Brosnan and Bill Henry.

The St. Louis Cardinals rolled to their seventh straight victory by blanking the San Francisco Giants, 6-0, Milwaukee beat Philadelphia, 11-10, in a 12-inning opener but lost the nightcap, 3-0, and Pittsburgh split with Chicago, the Pirates winning the opener, 7-3, and the Cubs the nightcap, 6-5.

Meadow Club Title Won By Weitzel

Powerful John Weitzel of Greenbrae yesterday won the Directors Cup golf championship of the Meadow Club by downing Otto Jacobsen 4 and 2 in the finals.

Weitzel, who had to spot his foe a whopping 11 handicap strokes, played the back nine in one over par figures to win going away. On two holes—the 12th and 16th—he muscled out droves that travelled over 300 yards and on every hole he reached the green in regulation. Two long Weitzel putts rimmed the cup as he barely missed birdies.

Weitzel gained the finals with a 3 and 2 semi-final victory over Al Huber Jr. Saturday while Jacobsen was eliminating Dante Tognoli by the same margin.

Seattle Teacher Wins Golf Title—Record

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Mrs. J. D. Decker, a brown-eyed bride who teaches history in school and makes it on the golf course, won the 1961 USGA Women's Amateur Golf Championship Saturday with a record 14 and 13 victory over Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla.

She has won numerous tournaments but never was greater than in this one. Her triumph bettered the record 13 and 12 margin by which Glenna Collett beat Virginia Van Wie in 1928.

FORCED TO FLEE WITHOUT THEIR BABY

...NOW SHE'S HOME

When Mr. and Mrs. Varga fled Hungary for their lives, they had to leave their daughter, Eszter Ilona, with relatives. For four years, the brutal Kadar regime refused the child an exit visa. But continuous beseeching by dedicated agencies finally obtained the child's release—the first since the 1956 revolution.

Eszter's present happiness is a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Catholic, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs.

The work goes on, day in and day out . . . and it must continue. These religion-sponsored endeavors often provide the only hope for the free world's destitute. WADES ASHORE—Air Force Col. Russ Schleeh, driver of the defending Gold Cup champion Miss Reno, wades ashore from rescue craft after his hydroplane flipped yesterday at Pyramid Lake near Reno. He was uninjured. (AP Wirephoto)

GOLD CUP MARRED BY ACCIDENTS

RENO (UPI)—The race for the 1961 Gold Cup, world championship for unlimited hydroplanes, went into an unexpected third day after two crashes on windswept, choppy Pyramid Lake washed out one heat yesterday and shortened another.

Air Force jet pilot Col. Russ Schleeh, driving the hometown favorite Miss Reno, was the first victim of the waves. His mount, the former Gold Cup champion Maverick, disappeared in a cloud of spray on the fifth lap of yesterday's first heat.

Schleeh, who was running in fourth place as he started around the south turn of the three-mile, 3,500-foot high course, was thrown clear. He was plucked from the water by a patrol boat moments later little more than soaked and shaken up.

Red flares shot into the air, halting the heat in a bitter blow to Don Wilson in Miss U.S. 1 who was within 200 yards of finishing his fifth lap. That would have been halfway at 15 miles and enough to make it an official heat.

Miss U.S. 1 of Detroit already had picked up 400 points for a first place heat Saturday and 400 more would have made her hard to catch in the remaining two.

DRIVER HURT

Rex Manchester, apparently en route to victory in Miss Spokane in yesterday's second heat, flipped on the last turn and again red flares halted the race.

Manchester was trapped momentarily under the overturned speedster but bobbed up alongside and was pulled into a patrol boat. He was taken by Helicopter 35 miles to Washoe Medical Center where it was reported he had a possible ankle fracture and knee lacerations that would require surgery.

Ironically, Manchester — rookie driver of the year in 1960—was the one chosen earlier to test the water before the decision to go on with the race.

After three heats in two days the point standings were: Gale V, 569; Such Crust, 525; Miss Reno, 400; Miss U.S. 1, 400; $ Bill, 352; Century 21, 300; Tempest, 225; Miss Bardahl, 169; Miss Spokane, 300. (Neither Fascination nor Fascination 1 finished a heat and thus had no points).

Tigers' C And C Boys Match Yankee 'M' Squad In Bat Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

They contend they have a slugging pair just as devastating as the New York Yankees' M and M boys.

"We call 'em the C and C boys," said a happy Tiger follower. "That's Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito."

There's no question that Cash and Colavito have been just as essential to the Tigers as Maris and Mantle have been to the Yankees. The pair collaborated yesterday to lead the Tigers to a 7-4, 10-1 sweep of a double-header with Washington, moving the Tigers to within two games of the American League-leading Yankees.

Detroit gained half a game on the Yankees who nipped Kansas City 8-7 for Whitey Ford's 22nd triumph. Maris and Mantle went homerless and hitless. Colavito smashed four home runs, three in the second game, and batted in seven runs. Cash got three hits, including a double and triple to boost his league-leading average to .365.

Chicago's White Sox strengthened their hold on fourth place, defeating Cleveland twice 10-6 and 9-3. Baltimore's third-place Orioles blanked Minnesota 3-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Milt Pappas, and Los Angeles downed Boston 8-3.

POTENT SOCKERS

Not since Hank Greenberg and Rudy York have the Tigers had a pair of sockers as potent as Colavito and Cash. Colavito's four homers gave him a season's total of 38 and an RBI total of 119, second only to Maris' 120. Together with Cash, the duo owns 69 home runs to 97 for Maris (51) and Mantle (46), and 226 runs batted in to the Yankee duo's 232. Cash, whose 31 homers and 107 RBI are the lowest of the foursome, is far and away ahead of the other three in batting percentage.

Yogi Berra and Elston Howard supplied the home run punch for the Yankees. Berra's came with two on and Ford needed all those runs. The lefthander lasted just five innings and needed relief help from Roland Sheldon and Luis Arroyo. The A's scored three runs in the ninth and had the tying run on second base before Arroyo fanned Norm Siebern to end the game.

MARIN GRID OUTLOOK TO START WEDNESDAY

Team favorites, individual stars, schedules and a general outlook at the approaching 1961 Marin County high school football season will be featured in a series of articles to start Wednesday in the Independent-Journal.

First team to be placed under the X-ray will be the Redwood Giants, unbeaten champions in the first two seasons of the Marin Athletic League. Can they repeat, or have they lost too many stars by graduation? The situation at Giantsville appears to be, "Low on veterans, high on tradition."

Check Wednesday's I-J and subsequent issues for a thorough rundown on the Marin grid scene.

Baby Grand Finally Scores Win Over Easom's Serenade

By ALFRED MATSON

Malcolm De Wees finally achieved a win with his Baby Grand to best his season long tormentor, Hank Easom, and his Serenade, but it was close, yesterday in the Sausalito Yacht Club's regatta.

The point is that the Baby Grand and the Serenade are both of the Dasher class, but the galling part for De Wees, heretofore, had been that both boats were built by Easom at his Sausalito shipyard and, as a customer, he wasn't getting a fair shake. Baby Grand's margin of victory yesterday was a mere 45 seconds.

The Sausalito Y.C.'s first Yacht Racing Assn. regatta was an unqualified success with an impressive turnout of yachts for both days of racing.

But the race committee had its headaches, particularly on Saturday when it discovered it had lost the entire Farallon Clipper fleet. All the other classes had finished, but the Farallones, all six of them, were unseen and unreported. After a hurried consultation, Recorder Don Seaton and the committee decided on some concrete action.

So, making like the Coast Guard, the committee boat headed out into the fog in search of the Maverick Farallones and found them off Point Bonita with four of them in close contention and still battling for the lead. Once under the Golden Gate Bridge, the wind picked up and the committee boat had to scurry back to the finish line to record the errant finishers properly.

Regardless of the 8 hours and 28 minutes spent in achieving the victory, it was a big one for Hal McCormick of Belvedere, the skipper of the Mistress II owned by Fred Parr Cox, St. Francis Y.C. It was Hal's first win for the season over the champ, Bill Trask's Hoyden II.

In yesterday's division races, the Baruna continued along her trail of resurgence by again defeating the Bolero, and quite handily too. Although the Baruna was first to finish, Tim Mosely's Orient was declared the winner on corrected time.

However, for the first time in many years Jim Michael entered a protest. At the start, according to the skipper of the Baruna, the Orient barged the line, forcing him to fall off or ram the committee boat. While the Baruna is undoubtedly one of the finest equipped yachts to be found, it had no protest flag, and a crewman's shirt was the only available substitute.

In Division D the Triton's hold on the top spots was finally broken with a nice win by Larry Harris in the Columbia. The season's leader Triton was relegated to seventh spot, but Bob Potter has a fat cushion of season's points and has no great reason for alarm.

Clutch Player Wins Li'l League For El Cajon '9'

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — "When he goes to bat the entire team has a feeling of confidence," Coach Don Dolan says, describing Mike Salvatore, hero of the champion El Cajon, Calif., Little Leaguers.

Salvatore hit a three-run homer in the last inning of the Little League baseball championship game Saturday with El Campo, Tex., giving his team a 4-2 victory.

The 5-foot-3 Salvatore also was El Cajon's winning pitcher, hurling five hitless innings.

Inept Raiders Clouted, 35-7

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Some might challenge the San Diego Chargers as the would-be champions of the American Football League, but it looks like Sid Gillman's crew will be California's best with little or no trouble.

The Chargers, playing their first season here after a financially disastrous year in Los Angeles bucking the Dodgers and Rams, smashed the Oakland Raiders yesterday, 35-7, in a Balboa Stadium exhibition contest.

A crowd of 10,436 watched Oakland put on a rather inept performance, not making a first down until 9:16 into the second quarter—and then on a penalty.

But the Bay Area team did improve in the second half, controlling the ball on three long marches, even though only one of the marches reached fruition with quarterback Tom Flores hitting Doug Asad with a 15-yard pass.

The Chargers had two spectacular plays. Paul Lowe sprinted 72 yards to a TD in the first minutes of play and QB Jack Kemp, almost trapped on his own 30, threw a pass to Rookie Keith Lincoln, who went 63 yards to a score.

Chute Didn't Open, Diver, 33, Dies

AVENAL (AP) — Ex-Army paratrooper Everett Mitchell, 33-year-old Coalinga oil worker, seemed transfixed, witnesses said, as he plunged out of an airplane at 7,000 feet with his double parachute in a skydiving exhibition here yesterday.

Fellow divers screamed at him. His wife watched horrified. Mitchell didn't pull a rip cord but crashed to his death in a vacant field near this Kings County community airport. It was Mitchell's 15th jump as a civilian.

European Teeners Win Water Skiing

LONG BEACH (UPI)—Two European teen-agers today reigned as the king and queen of international water skiing, but the United States for the sixth consecutive time held the world team title.

Bruno Zaccardi, 18, Italy, won the men's overall championship at the seventh World Water Ski Championship which ended yesterday at Marine Stadium. Sylvie Hulsemaan, 16-year-old blonde miss from Luxembourg, won the women's overall crown at the four-day competition in which four international marks were broken.

The United States won the team title again on the strength of its first-place finishers in the men's slalom and jumping events. France, the only other nation to win the team title, finished second. Austria was third and Italy fourth.

S.F. HEAVYWEIGHT SHOW

Lavorante Choice To Whip German Tonight

Alejandro Lavorante pits his devastating right hand and speed against the body punching of sturdy Willi Besmanoff tonight when the two heavyweights square off in a 10-round bout at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium.

Lavorante, a South American sensation who has posted 12 knockouts in winning 15 of his 16 fights, is favored to hand the German another in a string of defeats. Despite going the distance against such names as Archie Moore and Eddie Machen, Besmanoff has been a losing fighter ever since he transferred operations from Germany to the United States in 1957. His record is 9 wins and 19 losses on American soil.

He last fought in June, when Canadian George Chuvolo became the first opponent to knock him out.

Lavorante, sixth ranked among the heavyweights, stopped Cal Butler in the second round earlier this month after pounding out a 10-round decision over Monroe Ratliff eight weeks ago.

Promoter Bennie Ford, looking for a $10,000 gate tonight, said that he planned to match Lavorante and Moore providing that Besmanoff doesn't pull an upset.

Ford's second show for his new Golden Gate Boxing Club gets under way at 8:30. The six-round semi-final matches unbeaten light heavyweight Johnny Canty of San Francisco against Norm Fletcher of Los Angeles.

Another six matches heavyweights Bob Tanner and Bill McMurray. A four-rounder also is on the card.

Driver Arrested For Speeding

Gene Henry Schettler was first seen passing through town at 5:30 p.m. by Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen, who estimated his speed of 50-55 miles per hour. By 5:30 p.m., Christensen said, more than a half dozen calls had been received complaining of Schettler's excessive speed through the center of town.

At 7:30 p.m. Schettler was arrested. He posted $179 bail and was ordered to appear in municipal court to answer the charges today.

NEW HOME FOR NURSERY SCHOOL — Rev. John D. Riley of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael seems a bit surprised at what's happened to this Sunday school room as he looks over equipment being placed by Mrs. C. R. Decker (beside him) and Mrs. John Freschl to convert the room to use of Marin Aid to Retarded Children. (Independent-Journal photo)

AT SAN RAFAEL CHURCH

Retarded Children Nursery Scheduled

The fall session of the Marin Aid to Retarded Children nursery school will open on Sept. 5 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Mission at Court Street in San Rafael.

The school was formerly at Arequipa. The new quarters which include a large room and fenced playground were donated by the church vestry which is also supplying utilities and janitorial service.

The Dad's Club of the nursery school and members of the vestry's property committee cleaned and refurbished the classroom and play area. Rev. John D. Riley, pastor of the church, said he plans the first Sunday school class for retarded Protestant children this fall.

Mrs. Donald Taylor of 35 Carmelita Avenue, Mill Valley, is MARC nursery school chairman. Teaching the classes will be Mrs. C. R. Decker who has headed the school for five of the six years it has been in operation.

Enrollment is limited, but interested parents may obtain information at the church.

Town In North Carolina Upset Over Race Rioting

MONROE, N.C. (UPI) — Roving bands of heavily armed police, special deputies and highway patrolmen kept tight control today of this tense city, torn by a shot-punctuated night of race rioting.

Highway patrolmen armed with automatic carbines and sawed-off shotguns supplemented local police and a corps of about 75 hastily-deputized firemen in keeping the shaky peace in the south-central North Carolina city of 1,000 population. More than 50 patrol cars were dispatched last night with the approval of Gov. Terry Sanford when long-smouldering racial tension broke out in violence.

Police arrested more than 50 persons, many of them white, in the rioting that was climaxed in the wounding of a policeman. A Negro youth was charged with assault with intent to kill the policeman.

The trouble, which broke out late yesterday afternoon, grew from white resentment of Negro protests against segregation, particularly against Negro leader Robert Williams who once was expelled from the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for advocating that Negroes meet violence with violence.

Violence finally did break out yesterday when Negroes picketed the county courthouse in a protest demonstration. Police moved in at a point when it appeared things were going to get out of hand; the Negroes fought; white onlookers moved in and the surface tension was broken.

Williams' house was heavily guarded by police today. Newsmen were not allowed to approach it but a patrolman reported that it looked like a fortress with armed men clearly visible.

"That's the police, don't shoot," the patrolman said he heard someone say when he approached the house.

Police Chief A. A. Mauney charged that Negroes temporarily held a white couple as hostages during the rioting in an attempt to force release of pickets arrested by police officers. The couple was later released unharmed, Mauney said.

Mayor Fred Wilson called the city council into emergency session after a crowd of more than 1,000 jeering whites collected downtown, harassing police and apparently on the lookout for more trouble. Knots of men roamed the streets until midnight, seven hours after the original disturbance.

3 Hurt As Auto, Truck Collide

William Edward Hovis, 22, driver of the car, was in good condition at Novato General Hospital with head cuts. Iris Irene Clawson, 35, and Bonnie Lucille Spears, 21, were given emergency treatment at the hospital.

Quentin Inmates Hurt Fighting Forest Fires

Three San Quentin Prisor inmates have been hospitalized for injuries suffered while fighting fires in Six Rivers National Forest.

Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff said only "scattered" radio reports have been reported at the prison concerning the victims. One was reportedly flown from the scene of the accident to a hospital at the Hoopa Indian Reservation in Humboldt County, where the other two inmates were also hospitalized.

"Were heard also that a tree fell on one but that's all we know at this time," said Achuff.

He said the three men, whose names and conditions have not been reported to the prison, were to be returned to Marin by ambulance sometime today.

Radiation Treated Foods Are Lauded

HONOLULU (AP)—Foods treated with a mild dose of radiation can be kept fresh for days without refrigeration, says an Atomic Energy Commission scientist, and the foods can be eaten without ill effects.

Dr. Paul C. Aebersold said in a paper prepared for the 10th Pacific Science Congress, that the process, called "radiation pasteurization," makes it unnecessary to freeze perishable foods.

Idaho Farm Boy, 13, Held For Sniping

CALDWELL, Idaho (AP) — A baby-faced farm boy has admitted he is the mystery sniper who terrorized his own family and critically wounded two policemen. He couldn't say why he did it.

Robert Oliver Miller, 13, was stunned to learn that Police Chief Keith Judd of Caldwell lay paralyzed in a hospital with a .22 caliber slug in his spine. Doctors said Judd may never recover.

Another officer, Depuuty Sheriff Mel States of Boise, was shot in the back. Doctors said he would recuperate.

The officers were wounded Saturday night as they and other policemen fanned out around the farm house of the boy's father, W. K. Miller, looking for a sniper.

More Sharks Reported Off Marin's Shores

Sharks were reported seen off Angel Island and off Stinson Beach over the week end.

Yesterday the Coast Guard alerted the sheriff's office that about 15 sharks had been sighted at 11:35 a.m. about one-half mile off Stinson Beach. At 12:45 Coast Guard reported some eight to 10-foot sharks off Point Knox, Angel Island.

Two sharks were also sighted at about 1:30 p.m. Friday by Russell G. Lewis of Sausalito and Taylor McGee of Mill Valley. Lewis, taking a boat load of sightseers from Sausalito to San Francisco, said the sharks were seen at Harding Rock Buoy between Sausalito and Angel Island.

McGee reported one shark semed to be eating something large and that it swam beneath his boat, which had a fishing party aboard. The sharks, Lewis said, were the gray type, one about eight feet long and the other between 10 and 12 feet long.

The Better Business Bureau in San Francisco today warned against fallout shelter builders who do not have authorization from Civil Defense authorities.

SILVER SHOWER table arrangements present a challenge to the decorator that he can hardlly wait to meet. Here Shirlee Robbins, an interior designer, used a large oval peppermint pink cotton velvet banquet cloth to create a lavish setting for this display of silver presents to the bride. She fitted a delicate pink flounce trimmed with silver cord around the edge to make the appearance truly elegant.

Designers Set Tables With Ideas

Give an interior designer a problem and see what he does with it. That's what happened recently when a number of designers displayed their talents with table settings for a New York show.

The table settings ran the gamut from formal seated dinners to elaborate buffet settings and wedding gift displays, and their results yielded a new crop of ideas for the housewife to use making her own versions for a party.

The designers were very careful to take a good look at the table shape, or create a different shape to suit themselves, which could be done by placing a new top over the regular table.

Then they made artistic use of inexpensive material to create party tablecloths. These included cotton velvet, organdy, sateen, batiste and others in light and dark colors to set off the fine china and silver.

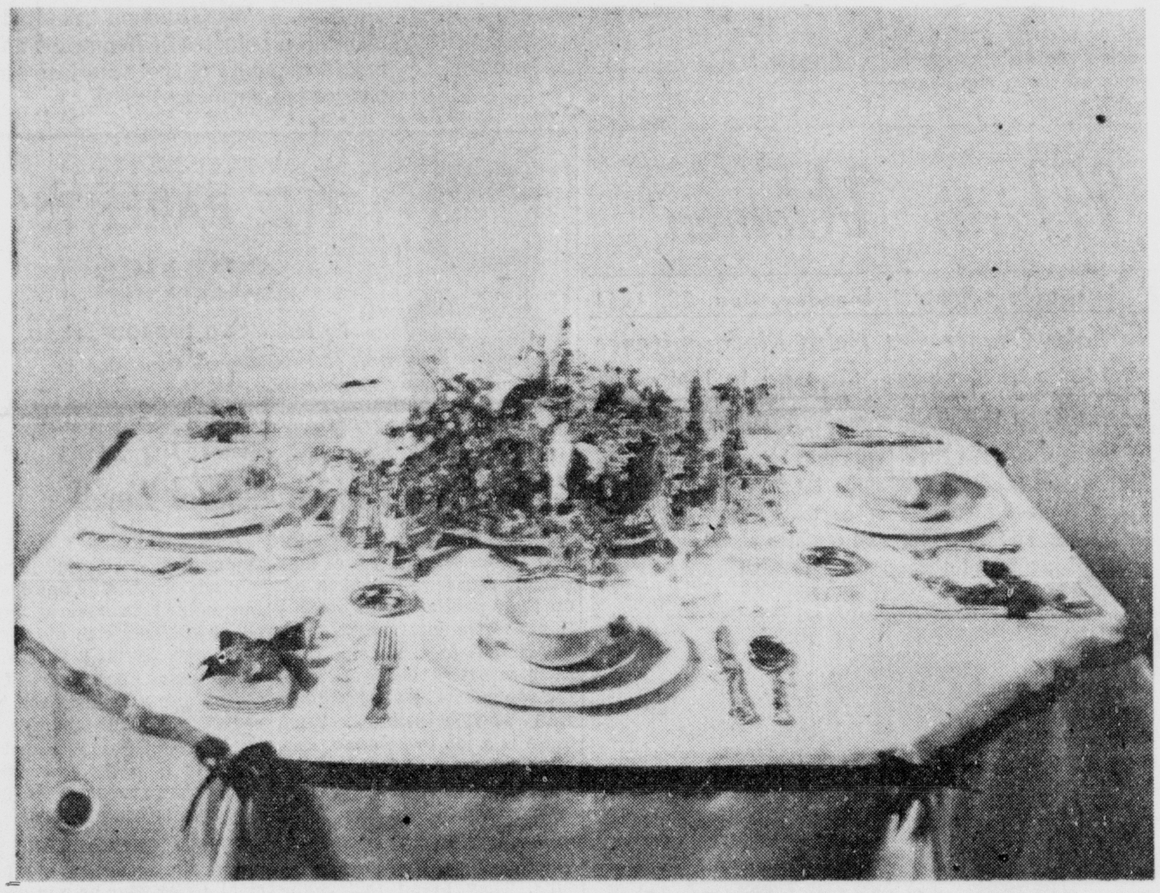
Their work shows, also, that the floral decorations or fruit or dry arrangement need not be placed in the table center, but may be effectively used at an end or corner, depending on the placement of the table in the room and what is needed on it.

REHEARSAL BUFFET is a very special occasion calling for a deft hand with the table arrangements. Designer R. Holland Trull created a setting for 10 guests when he trimmed this festive table. To set off the silver and the good china he chose theme colors of lilac, lavender and blue with a touch of green. The underskirt is cotton sateen and the overcloth is a sheer white cotton batiste with hand embroidered edging.



AN ENGAGEMENT party was the occasion chosen by interior designer Arthur Burke to use a hexagon-shaped table with a yellow cotton sateen tablecloth and an overcloth of white cotton organdy with a border of yellow flowers. He cut the place mats from the same border as the overcloth. The edge is trimmed with a ribbon. Table shape could be created with a special top fitted over your square table.

Jacqueline Thompson Wed In Mill Valley

Jacqueline Thompson of Mill Valley, niece of novelist Kathleen Norris who once lived in Mill Valley, and daughter of the Joseph Sexton Thompsons of San Francisco, exchanged nuptial vows Saturday afternoon with Donald Dickinson Miner Jr.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis J. Scanlon at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley. Some 30 members of the immediate families were present.

James Kemp of Mill Valley was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. George Hanson of Los Angeles and Donald Dickinson Miner of New York, vice president of the Chemical Bank of New York Trust Co.

Following the nuptials a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, who are prominent members of the French colony in San Francisco.

The couple will take a deferred honeymoon in December and will live in Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Miner is a student at Heald's Business College in San Francisco, where her husband is an instructor. She also attended San Mateo Junior College. Her sister is Mrs. Robert Parrish of Hollywood, and her brother is Joseph Alden Thompson of Tiburon.

FOOD AND THE FAMILY

Kitchen Is Central To Family Activity

By BARBARA HOSMER

"The children are in the kitchen practically all the time. I'm in the kitchen a lot and they talk with me. Their friends come in, too, to talk with me. The kitchen is where we gather."

"We have a portable TV there, and they do their homework there . . ."

"We all like to be in the kitchen. Homework is done on the kitchen table. Ironing is done in the kitchen. We don't have a basement so when the children have company and play games, it's usually in the kitchen . . ."

The kitchen is almost universally regarded by those housewives surveyed as the central gathering place of the family throughout the day. Even today when mother does not have to spend as many long hours there as she used to, the family activities are centered there, and new "family rooms" are built adjacent so mothers can watch the toddlers while busy at the sink or stove.

Often the neighbor comes in for a cup of morning coffee and sits in the kitchen to chat. Children come to talk with mother, bring their pals, and more than likely to whole family will be fed at least one meal a day there.

This important room has become the social center as well as the culinary center of the home, the warm and relaxing place for everyone. People sit and talk to each other while nibbling away on food at hand. Husbands coming home from work know they'll find their wives busy in the kitchen and will drop into a chair to talk over the day's events while dinner cooks.

The wives say they like this, but make it clear that they don't want help from the man of the house on cooking activities. They regard the kitchen as their realm and resent interference or unsought advice.

"My husband comes into talk, very rarely to help. He likes to putter but he always gets underfoot . . ."

"The only thing he knows how to cook is hot dogs or make coffee," says one. "I like to have his company in the kitchen. He doesn't mix in what I do."

When the man of the house fancies himself a chef, the wife often solves the problem with "separate but equal" cooking responsibilities, and the man only cooks a certain specialty dish or prepares a single meal, such as breakfast on his day off.

Sometimes for special occasions relatives or close friends will come over and help cook specialties such as holiday cookies or prepare a meal by each doing one dish, but these occasions are rare, the housewives said.

DANCE LESSON is taken by Deborah and Pamela Lang from Nancy Dunham. The Lang younsters will be among those enrolled in the new Nancy Dunham Studios classes in tap, ballet, rhythm, charm, cotillion for fifth through eighth graders, and ballroom dancing for adults which will open in Marin Sept. 15. Miss Dunham, whose studios operate in Hollywood, Lancaster and Palmdale, will move to San Francisco and in San Rafael will open her northern California studio. Classes will be at Carpenters Hall, San Rafael, where enrollment will begin Sept. 8. Miss Dunham has taught many film notables in Hollywood and taught manners at the American embassies in London and Paris.

SEW SIMPLE

Head Off Trouble At The Gap By Pinning Not Basting Seam

"Please tell me why, when I sew the side seams of a garment on the machine, the material rides ahead of the presser foot and the top piece ends up longer than the under material.

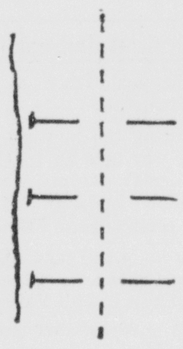
Dear Mrs. E.B.

The pushing of the top layer of fabric is natural when you realize how a sewing machine is constructed. The teeth on the plate hold the under layer of fabric, and the presser foot has nothing on it to hold the fabric in place.

You can avoid this by "pinning" your seams together, instead of basting. The fabric cannot slip past a pin, but it will slip if it is basted.

Place your pins about 1½" apart, in a horizontal position to a vertical seam. If your sewing machine will not sew over pins, remove them as you come to them. However, if you use silk pins for your sewing, most machines will sew over them. Be sure to place your pins so that you will actually be sewing over your fabric instead of hitting the pins. Also, remember to always stitch the skirt seams from the bottom up.



"Should the hemline of a coat be dipped in back, in other words, should it be longer in back than sides and front? If so, how much longer?" Mrs. C.C.

Dear Mrs. C.C.

This is true with suit jackets more than long coats. A suit jacket is much more feminine and flattering if it dips about ½" at the center back. This should be a gradual dip from the side seams and will hardly be noticeable to the casual observer.

"One of my problem in sewing is the necklines. They are all cut too wide at the shoulder for me and also too low. Can I change this and how do I change the facings?" Mrs. A.J.P.

Dear Mrs. A.J.P.:

1. Add ⅝" to 1" to the entire neckline seam. You may add more than that at the shoulders if necessary.

2. Mark your ⅝" seam allowance, clip your seam and baste the seam allowance down. Now you will know exactly what size the neckline will be when finished.

3. As soon as the neckline is exactly the way you think it is most becoming, cut the interfacing and the facing from this actual muslin. Make your facings about 3" wide.

The nicest part about making this basic muslin is that you can always use this as a guide for anything you would make with this type of neckline.

Sewing glossary: Grading seams: This refers to trimming any faced edge. Trim both seams to half of their original width, now trim facing seam in half again. This will avoid a ridge when edges are pressed.

Please send all questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

What Is Gentlemanly Look? Fashion Editors Pin It Down

A lad who can look like a gentleman has it made. He can be young, old, tall, short, bald or wavy haired and he can be with or without muscles. If he looks like a gentleman he weaves a magic spell over most women.

Underwriting this new concept of masculine charm are some of the country's top fashion editors . . . gals whose keen-eyed judgment of what "looks" right makes or breaks fashion trends. And the editors have voted hands down for the "gentlemanly look, although they aren't always in complete agreement about what makes the look.

The survey came about recently when one of the country's major clothing manufacturers decided on the "gentlemen's look" as a fashion trend and then found itself stuck to describe it. So it went to the nation's fashion editors and got a whole new set of definitions.

The majority of editors agreed that dress is the biggest factor, but that it must be combined with an inner confidence to add up to the "air" that marks a gentleman.

The boys who are losing their hair should take heart from the fact that more than 61 per cent of the fashion editors responding admitted that a gentleman can be wholly or partly bald and still look every bit the gentleman.

Mustaches emerged as a surprise characteristic of the gentlemanly look, according to the survey. More than 51 per cent of the gals identified the ideal gentleman with a lip ornament.

'Tea Leaves' That Grow In Teapot

DENVER (AP) — A tempest in a teapot means nothing to Mrs. Helen Stanley. She's too busy growing a garden in one.

Tiny gardens that really grow have been a major interest of the Denver woman for 25 years. She makes them as remembrances for friends, as gifts for hospitals and as surefire amusement items for her grandchildren.

"Seems as though I always have a grandchild in kindergarten and they love these for their show-and-tell hour," she said.

Her arrangements have many themes. A blue glass chicken, barely three inches long, holds a cluster of hens-and-chickens plants. A pottery bowl is the setting for a Mexican village with lilliputian figures, a tiny church and 27 varieties of cactus. A doll's teacup holds a plant called baby's tears.

Mrs. Stanley works mainly with miniature cactus because of its ability to adjust and live almost anywhere.

Guidance Counselor

Principal Is The Man To Stop Hazing At High School Level

Do the old students haze the new students at your high school? Are boys forced to roll up their pantlegs, and do silly things? Are girls required to go without makeup, and wear their sweaters backward? Do the sophomores swat freshmen with wooden paddles? Then there is a job to be done. Hazing has no place in modern education.

Twenty years ago hazing was common. Then guidance counselors began to check the results. They found that many fine, sensitive kids were driven out of school each fall; that stunts were carried to extremes; that real brutality was common, as were serious injuries. They discovered that hazing hurt school spirit, instead of helping it. Hazing had to go.

Now "Welcome Week" has replaced "Hell Week," in welled schools. Timid newcomers are helped to feel at home. Older students sign up as "big brothers" or "big sisters" to the younger ones. Tours of the school are provided, and procedures are explained. No one is swatted. Every effort is made to help the newcomers, rather than to embarrass them. The results are excellent.

If your high school still permits hazing, talk to the principal. Offer your help in changing things. Get your PTA leaders to see him, too. Phone the ministers in your neighborhood and enlist their support. Demonstrate to your principal that he'll have adequate backing if he cracks down on hazing. Almost certainly he'll be glad to cooperate.

Mrs. Turney Will Head Voters Unit

Members of the League of Women Voters of Central Marin can look forward to an informative and busy season under the leadership of their new president Mrs. O. Ross Turney of Ross.

Mrs. Turney was a sociology major in Simmons College, Boston, where she received her B.S. degree. Prior to her marriage, she worked as re-educational therapist for two and one-half years at a private mental hospital in New England. In California, she was employed four and one-half years as a children's case worker for a public welfare agency in the East Bay.

She is the mother of Jennifer, 9, and Jeffrey, 7. In addition to her duties as a wife and mother, she has served as Brownie Scout troop leader, chairman of the 1961 Ross P-TA summer activities program, Sunday school teacher. In the local League of Women Voters, she has been vice president, voters service chairman, local and state items chairman.

She and her husband, who is an appraiser for a local financial institution, enjoy camping with the family and "exploring" the state.

Mrs. Turney and board members will attend the State League Workshop in Oakland, on Tuesday.

EXECUTIVE WARNS

Specialization Trap Trips Some Coeds

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI) — If your son's ambition is the executive suite of a corporation, he can best prepare by avoiding the "specialization trap."

Tomorrow's corporation will demand an executive who is "a broad social being—unhampered by a totally specialized background" said Edward A. White.

"As a result increasing emphasis is being placed on the liberal arts background as the foundation for top management," White said. He is president of a firm that makes miniature components for aircraft and missiles.

As the executive sees it, too often today, youngsters tend to specialize too much and too early.

The danger of this "specialization trap," said White, was stressed by the management-statesman, Clarence Randall, who observed:

"It is easier to teach the liberal arts student metallurgy than to teach human relations to the student of metallurgy."

In line with this thinking, White points out that the man who will wind up on top tomorrow is the man who can, because of his talent in human relations, direct the largest number of people to produce the most.

What should be the college curriculum for the youngster heading for top management? White cited conclusions of the Association of Consulting Management Engineers — that the best undergraduate training for the executive career should place more than half of its focus upon liberal arts courses.

Based upon 120 semester hours required for graduation, the student should devote 60-66 hours to the humanities, mathematics, laboratory sciences and the social sciences, with primary stress on English literature and composition.

A total of 27-30 hours spent in business foundation subjects such as principles of economics and business methods.

Another 27-30 hours devoted to functional business subjects such as personnel, production, finance or marketing: plus concentration on one as a major subject.

With this, said White, the student then can seek more specialized education through post-graduate work.

Where's the best spot to start job hunting? In keeping with the changing emphasis toward "the executive with wider vision" White said that chances now favor the young man starting out with a small-to-medium-sized firm, rather than with an industrial giant.

Homes Have Changed

Living habits have changed considerably in most homes. Houses are larger—there are more appliances and baths than there were ten years ago. Water heaters made ten years ago weren't quite up to performing like 1961 models. Most present-day models are no larger than the old ones, because they rely on heat input rather than a large storage tank to meet the greater water demand of today's homes.

Miss Dailey Is Bride In Mission Rite

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moernman of Potsdam N. Y., the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ralph Dailey of San Rafael. She donned a white ballerina length gown of net over nylon brocade.

Russell Meadows of San Rafael was the ring bearer. Best man was Samuel Meadows and the usher was Irving Ash of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The bride attended Potsdam High School and Utica Beauty School. She is employed by Marinello, San Rafael.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. John Hoover of Phoenix, Ariz., where he attended school.

Indian Visitor Is Honored In Marin

A 13-year-old girl from Table Mountain Indian Reservation at Friant near Fresno has won the hearts of the Reginald R. Chisholm family, their Corte Madera neighbors and members of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera during the course of her three summer visits to Marin.

The girl, Sadie Hudson, has spent two weeks with the Chisholms and their children each of the past three years as a part of the International Interracial Fellowship Commission's Home Open Please program, which this year in California placed Mexican, Negro and Indian children as visitors with families of another race. Though the program began with the Baptist churches, many other denominations are now participating.

This summer Sadie has spent the mornings attending the Marin Lutheran Church Bible School. Then after lunch she has spent the afternoons playing ball and jump rope and other games with the neighbors, who, Mrs. Chisholm says, look forward to her summer visit and flock to play with her. Sadie has also helped her hostess with the fruit canning this summer.

Thursday night was an especially big one for Sadie, because she was the recipient of a shower by the Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera, enjoying her gifts of clothing and other items to outfit her for the coming school year. After the gifts were opened, Mesdames Erling Finwall and Gene Nolin served party refreshments at the Chisholm home.

Shortly Sadie will leave for her own home to start the school year after another pleasant vacation in Marin.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of the year with 125 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1917, 10 suffragettes picketed the White House, hoping to win the sympathy of President Woodrow Wilson. They were arrested for disturbing the peace.

In 1922, the first commercial in radio broadcasting was heard over New York station WEAF. The sponsor was the Queensboro Realty Co. in Jackson Heights, N.Y.

A thought for today: Russian writer Leo Tolstoy said: "The vocation of every man and woman is to serve other people."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Worthless Hand May Rate Bid In Desperate Bridge Situation

If you want my advice on jumping out of window, the word is "Don't." Disregard this advice, however, if you find yourself in a burning building. And make the same kind of exception when you're in a desperate bridge situation.

♣ A J 10 5

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Double	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ K

North had once heard the general rule "A pass is the simplest way to show weakness." Hence he allowed South to play the hand at one notrump doubled.

South managed to get two diamond tricks and the ace of clubs before giving up the ghost. The opponents collected a penalty of 1100 points, and everybody was happy. East and West were happy about the 1100 points; North was happy to have followed the rule; and South was happy that he wasn't as big a fool as his partner.

SURE TO LOOSE: In a bridge sense, North was in a burning building when he picked up his worthless hand and heard his partner get doubled at one notrump. If North passed he was sure to lose a huge amount.

In this situation a player should bid any suit of five or more cards. If he has no five-card suit, he should bid any low suit of four cards. The reason you bid a low suit (and not a high suit) is that you want to make it easy for somebody else to bid a higher suit.

In this case, North should bid two clubs. There's a fine chance that the opponents will wander into spades. If they get to four spades, a diamond lead will beat them.

At worst, North would be doubled at two clubs instead of at one notrump. He will probably hold the loss down to 500 points, which is unlucky but not disastrous.

Mind you, the general rule for bidding on hopeless hands is still "Don't." Just make an exception when your partner is doubled at one notrump.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with 1 NT, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ K Q 10 9 2
♥ A Q
♦ Q J 10 6
♣ K 9

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades. You intend to get a slam in spades or notrump, and the first step is to find out whether or not your partner had good support for spades.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

State Suspends Liquor License

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state department of alcoholic beverage control has ordered an indefinite suspension of the on-sale general liquor license of Joan M. Shields, Flamingo Inn, 2007 Bridgeway, Sausalito, on charges that the licensee permitted lewd and indecent conversations and acts on the premises.

The department ordered a 30-day suspension, effective Sept. 7 and an indefinite suspension thereafter. The suspension may be terminated if the license is transferred to qualified persons. If this does not take place by April 7, 1962, the license will be revoked.

Sausalito Chamber Chairmen Announced

Clyde Kilian, harbors and channels; Edwin Long, business promotion and special events; Frank Bosl, financial; Harold Puharich, civic improvement; Alan Scurfield, membership; Arthur Boates, legislative and, Papenhausen, city contacts.

Program Of Classical Music To Be Switched Over To Jazz For Night

Lovers of long-hair music will be out of luck tomorrow night.

KTVU will devote its "Great Music From Chicago" at 9 p.m. to a special program of jazz instead of its usual classical fare. And KPIX's "Concert Hall" usually seen on Tuesdays at 7:30, was moved up to Sunday afternoon this one week only to make room for a special program.

The Channel 2 jazz show is built around Count Basie and his superb band. The music was taped while the great Joe Williams was still the Basie vocalist.

Sharing the bill with the Basie band will be the Kai Winding Septet and singer Barbara McNair.

KPIX's SUBSTITUTE for "Concert Hall in the 7:30 time spot tomorrow night will be its "Consider and Decide," usually seen on Sundays. Marinite Jere Witter will interview Teamster Union chief James Hoffa.

THERE ARE a handful of actors and actresses who are always worth watching, whatever their role might be. One such is Greer Garson. And she can be seen tomorrow night at 9 o'clock on KPIX on "Comedy Spotlight" as an Irish school teacher in an amusing bit of fluff entitled "The Glorious Gift of Molly Malloy."

ALSO tomorrow night:

Six financial wizards join David Susskind for an "Open End" discussion of the stock market on KQED at 8:30. New and prospective investors might pick up a bit of advice.

A "Playhouse 90" drama set in Japan, "Made in Japan," will be repeated on KPIX at 9:30. The cast includes Dean Stockwell, E. G. Marshall, Harry Guardino—and some Japanese wrestlers.

Also a repeat, the "Purex Special" entitled "Change of Life," a study of the problems of women in their middle years, will be seen at 10 o'clock on KRON.

AS FOR tonight, KRON continues its series of medical documentaries with a look at the work of the anesthesiologist at 7:30. Science has come a long way in its battle against pain in the operating room since a century ago when a shot of whiskey was the common weapon. Some of these advances will be shown this evening.

And KQED's "Kaleidoscope" show at 8 o'clock will interview Barnaby Conrad, Marin author and ex-matador. Conrad was to have appeared a week ago, but agreed to a delay so that delightful Elsa Lanchester could be quizzed instead last Monday while she was in the Bay Area. Conrad will discuss his books, travels, TV productions, films and business.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)
By HARRY CRAFT

20-Year-Old Hobby Developing Into An Active Side Business

What started as a hobby more than 20 years ago for Jennings Lyon, laboratory technologist at the Ross Valley Clinic, now seems to have developed into a fairly active little side business for himself and wife Jo at 751 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo.

The Lyons with their partner John Steffler of San Mateo opened the L and S Lapidary about a month ago where just about everything can be had to keep home artificers in this craft busy. Would-be lapidaries will find grinding and polishing equipment, agents and materials as well as a collection of rough and semi-cut stones from various parts of the world—rhyolite from Nevada, agates from Mexico and Brazil, bloodstone and aventurine from India, quartz and petrified wood, to name a few—also textbooks and manuals, mountings and ultra-violet equipment.

The firm also does cutting and polishing to order on gemstones and turns out custom made jewelry.

MARIN COUNTY business men are once more in the thick of United Crusade work. This year, in addition to the many volunteers on all levels of the campaign, some 30 middle management and junior executives from 22 firms will be loaned for Crusade solicitation. They will work in the commerce and industry division headed by Paul R. Leahy and in the commercial division, of which Mel L. Morse is chairman.

The system has been used for more than 10 years in San Francisco and was adopted here in 1958. The "loaned executives" are released by their firms on company time for a full week of Crusade work, spread over a period of two months.

ASSISTANT vice president Raymond J. Timmerman of the Bank of America and a resident of San Rafael has been graduated from the Graduate School of Credit and Financial Management at Dartmouth College. The executive development course is a program of the Credit Research Foundation, Inc., educational and research division of the National Association of Credit Management.

Timmerman was one of 168 company executives from 30 states who have been attending the Dartmouth College session. He has been with the Bank of America for 11 years.

HOME PLAN Service Co., a business conducted by designers Joe Reinhart and Arthur Mohler, who formerly did their work from their home in Fairfax, have opened up new offices at 46 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo. They were previously in the home planning field in Medford, Ore.

Reinhart and Mohler undertake the full planning of a home from start to finish, even into landscaping.

MRS. JEAN BUSCHING, former manager of Hansell's Employment Agency, now has her own (Jean Busching Agency) at 830 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. . . . The William T. Grant Stores which has an outlet in the Corte Madera Shopipng Center and many others throughout the U.S. gave away 35 college scholarships this year to sons and daughters of its employees. Competition runs keen every year. . . . Paul Pickart, former operator of the Food Mart Liquor Store in San Rafael, hopes to get his new store at 1015 Tamalpais Avenue (Paul's Liquors) open by Sept. 1.

Kentfield School Board Is Meeting

Trustees of the Kentfield School District will consider changing some of the rules and regulations concerning the use of school buildings by community organizations at their regular meeting today at 7:45 p.m. in room 4 of Greenbrae School.

The trustees will also receive a report by Supt. Howard C. Harmon concerning plans for the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and construction of a pedestrian overpass for children in the district.

Harmon will also report on the possible effects the expansion of College of Marin may have on the A. E. Kent School.

Information For Ex-Servicemen

Recently released armed forces personnel may contact the Marin Veterans Service office to find out their rights and requirements, W. P. Duhamel, veterans service officer, noted today.

The local draft board must be notified within five days of release from active duty, Duhamel said. Reinstatement in a serviceman's previous job is a legal right in most cases, he said, or the former serviceman probably can receive unemployment compensation. The office is at 519 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Talk On Red China Set At Dominican

The Rev. John W. Clifford, S.J., professor of philosophy at Taiwan National University, will talk on "Victory Through Willpower," at 8 p.m., Sept. 14 in Angelico Hall at Dominican College, San Rafael, the college's alumnae association said today.

The association said Father Clifford, a prisoner of the Red Chinese for three years, will discuss how to overcome communist propaganda and brainwashing.

Tickets may be obtained from the alumnae office in Pennafort Hall on the campus. Proceeds will go to the college scholarship fund and the Taiwan Educational Center.

Parents Invited To Sausalito School Meeting

Parents are invited to schools in the Sausalito School District in a series of meetings starting Sept. 13 to obtain information on the district's new grading procedure.

The system, adopted by the board of trustees in May, standardizes grading procedure. District Supt. Marcus F. Davis said that it demands the child "achieve his grade rather than get it a gift."

He added that the district's policy is to emphasize academic achievement in all grades over and above anything that has been done in the past.

It will be required, Davis said, that each pupil maintain minimum grade standards in order to obtain a passing mark in a skill subject such as reading, arithmetic, geigraphy, English and history.

Meetings, to acquaint parents with the standards for pupils to receive a passing grade, will be held Sept. 13 at Bayside; Sept. 20, Richardson Bay; Sept. 26, Central; and Sept. 27, Manzanita. Hours are 7 to 9 p.m.

Marin City Man Jailed For Stabbing

Walter Lee of Marin City was jailed Saturday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after Ennis Bowie, 43, of 9 Cole Drive, Marin City, identified Lee as having stabbed him Friday night with a four-inch knife.

Lee, 46, a laborer, was found at 4 p.m. Saturday near Building A-15 in Marin City by a sheriff's deputy. Lee denied the stabbing but Bowie identified Lee as his assailant.

Museum Starts Big Display Of Shells

The collection, gathered during the past 50 years by Jack Wooster of San Rafael, was donated to the museum by Wooster in memory of his mother, the late Sarah B. Wooster.

Because of its size, the collection will be shown in five exhibits. A new phase of the collection will go on display every second week until the entire collection has been seen.

The shells range in size from large helmet shells weighing several pounds to tooth shells weighing a fraction of an ounce. Included in the display are cone, cowrie and olive shells as well as 200 Japanese pecten shells and a horned shell from the Gulf of California.

Wooster, who has lived in the Orient, made several trips around the world collecting the shells commercially. During World War II he served as a captain with the Phillipine guerillas on the island of Negros.

The museum at 76 Albert Park Lane in San Rafael is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.
